Enfield Family Honored In Maryland Ag Hall Of Fame

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

KNOXVILLE, Md. — The Leon Enfield family was recently inducted into the Maryland Agriculture Hall of Fame. The honor was a fitting tribute to Enfield, his wife Shirley, and their children, who have devoted much effort to promoting and enriching Maryland's agricultural community.

The award has been given to two or three farm families every year since the program was implemented in 1991 by then Gov. William Donald Schaefer. Presentation is made at the Maryland Agriculture dinner, held the first Thursday in February. The Ag Hall of Fame honors leaders in the agriculture industry who exemplify upstanding qualities of achievement and commitment to the community.

"The family is active in every aspect of agriculture, and has provided leadership and support not only to their community, but at the regional and state levels as well," said Laurie Adelhardt, assistant to the Maryland secretary of agriculture.

Much of the Enfields' activity has centered on Farm Bureau work, at both the county and state levels. Leon and Shirley have devoted 39 years of service to Farm Bureaus, with much of the time spent in leadership roles.

Leon started at the county level with the Frederick County FB

A rare UDXL "Comfortractor" built in 1938. This farm tractor was geared for up to 40 miles per hour and featured everything that a car had at the time. This most sought after collector's tractor was bought in Wyoming from the original owner named Yoder, who was 92 years-old at the time. It is considered the best-known unrestored tractor of this model. See story on page A24.

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A pair of 4-year-olds were named the grand and reserve grand champion of the 42nd Pennsylvania Holstein State Spring Show held last Friday at the state Farm Show building in Harrisburg.

The show was one of the best yet, in terms of quality, according to a number of show officials and show judge Wayne Sliker, of Ohio. There were a total of 264 animals checked in for the show, with 136 calves and heifers, 12 dry cows, 14 junior 2-year-olds, and 102 cows in milk.

There were also a number of non-regular exhibitors participating in the show.

Sliker, a well-known Brown Swiss breeder and dairy cattle judge, commented on the depth of quality in all age classes, especially when making the final decision for senior champion with all the first place senior-aged animals lined up in the ring.

He said that while the time of year isn't always the best to have dairy cows in top shape for showing, those in the ring were all outstanding.

Walnut Hills Logic Cathy, owned by Paul Neer, of Mifflin, was selected grand champion, and also took best udder of the 4-year-olds. She is a Hanoverhill Logic daughter, bred by Delmar and Larry Zimmerman out of dam Walnut Hills Enhancer Cherry.

The reserve grand champion of the show was also a 4-year-old, C

Daylight-Saving Starts Sunday

It's time to set clocks ahead one hour, starting officially at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, April 2. You can simply set your clock one hour ahead on Saturday night before going to bed. Dairy farmers will need to make special adjustments because of the feeding schedule.

EASTERN REGION FROZEN EGGS, MARCH 28, 1995. FEDERAL-STATE

Prices were unchanged. The market tone was generally steady. Demand was no better than fair for immediate less-than-trucklot volumes, and most plants focused on filling previous commitments. Orders for future needs were minimal as most buyers waited until after the holidays to solidify purchases. Floor stocks of frozen products were at least adequate. Shell egg supplies were also at least adequate, and prices were unchanged.

DELMARVA BROILER/FRYER MARKET. FEDERAL-STATE

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was light to fair at best, and where excess supplies were available, they were generally slow in clearing. Live supplies were moderate; weights were mostly desirable to heavy. Processing schedules were heavy with spot reductions or suspended operations planned for today. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 42 to 53 cents. e. Top quality breast items were often noted as in closer balance. Wings were noted as more readily available, and thighs were building at some points.

National Grain Market

St. Joseph, MO
Wednesday March 29, 1995

USDA-Market News Service Daily National Grain Summary

Wheat prices finished mixed, with good news bad news in export de- mand and cold weather threats offering light support. Corn prices extended gains slightly, ahead of USDA'S prospective planting and grain stocks report due for release Friday. Soybean prices were down slight- ly in anticipation of upcoming Government reports, profit taking on the board and continued pressure from S. American harvest progress. Wheat mixed. Corn 1 to 2 cents higher. Sorghum unchanged to 1 lower. Soybeans 1 to 4 cents lower. Wheat prices were supported by fairly good export sales from the Philippines today, despite reports of bid rejections and fears China has exhausted its EEP allotment. Some traders showed concerns that the cold weather moving back into winter wheat areas could cause damage to winter wheat crop. Temperatures are expected to drop into the twenties tonight and moisture is still in the forecast. The crop, however, is currently in good to excellent condition. Carryover strength from yesterday's higher trading, underpinned corn prices. Traders await Friday's release of USDA's prospective planting and grain stocks reports. Farmer selling has bee slow this week for both corn and beans. Profit taking on the board was noted in soybeans and harvest progress in Brazil continued to weigh on prices. Export demand has been slow lately for beans and record crops in S. America could slow it even further.

The Old Farmer's Almanac This Week With Almanac

APRIL 3-9, 1995

WORLD HEALTH DAY, APRIL 7.

THE PONY EXPRESS

On April 3, 1860, the first Pony Express rider left St. Joseph, Missouri, and headed west. Although he would travel only 75 to 100 miles (changing horses six to eight times), the mail in his leather bags could be going much farther. For $5.10, a half-ounce letter could travel the entire 1,838-mile route to Sacramento, California. (The goal of ten-day service was actually achieved, sometimes!) After a rest period, each rider would jump back on a horse and carry a new batch of mail in the other direction. The transcontinental telegraph ended all need for the Pony Express and the service ended in October 1861. But the romance and the legends live on.

Once uttered, words run faster than horses.

TIP OF THE WEEK

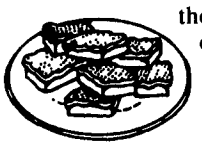
MAPLE BROWNIES

2 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup maple-flavored syrup
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 ounces unsweetened baking chocolate
3/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
sifted powdered sugar

Beat together eggs, sugar, and vanilla. Add syrup and mix well. Melt butter and chocolate over low heat. Remove from heat and blend in egg mixture. Combine flour, baking powder, and salt; stir into chocolate mixture. Stir in nuts. Spread in a greased 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350° F for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool, then dust with powdered sugar.

Makes 24 brownies.



The Old Farmer's Weather Proverbs

April weather: Rain and sunshine, both together.

If the weather is not clear on Palm Sunday, it means a bad year.

Bubbles over calm beds of water mean rain is coming.

Special Offer. Handy chart full of interesting weather proverbs Send $3 to Weather Chart, Dept UF, The Old Farmer's Almanac, Box 520, Dublin, NH 03444.

OPINION

Regulatory Common Sense

Now would be a good time to have regulatory reform that was based on "common sense." This should happen on both the state and national fronts. For example, the paperwork involved in many of the regulations put on farmers is burdensome, to say the least. Agencies should be required to conduct an extensive review of their regulations to reduce paperwork and reporting requirements. And they should have more flexibility in their requirements to allow farmers to adopt different or more cost-effective approaches to reach regulatory goals.

The most pressing area of needed reform comes in the form of overlapping, conflicting, and outdated regulations. Each agency should conduct an internal review to compile a list of regulations and recommendations that should and could be eliminated. Regulations should be based on science rather than emotion. Sometimes, if you dig deep enough, you find a hidden agenda that has little to do with the stated purpose of the regulation.

In Pennsylvania we have been given hope that our new governor, Tom Ridge, will fulfill a campaign promise to make the regulatory agencies in the state more "user friendly" to agriculture. We look forward to this change of attitude.

Phil French, vice president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, says the annual impact of regulations on agriculture and related industries is estimated to be as much as $80 billion or more. "This is not to say that all regulations are inherently bad," he said. "We recognize the need to provide a safe work environment, to protect employee health, to ensure consumers a dependable supply of safe and wholesome food and to protect the environment. However, there is a need to bring "common sense" into the process.

"Oftentimes there is a complete lack of justification in terms of the costs relative to any preconceived benefits. Instead of grading any agency by how many fines it imposes, more productive measures of success could include progress toward compliance and the agency's willingness to assist those who are trying to comply."

Now Is The Time

To Turn Clocks Ahead

Saturday night is when we turn our clocks ahead one hour to take advantage of longer hours of sunlight. This was one of Ben Franklin's ideas to save money and increase productivity.

Also, daylight-saving time reduces car accidents, injuries, and deaths. When advancing your clocks, it is a good idea to replace the batteries in your smoke detectors.

However, you will not want to change your clocks in poultry houses. By changing lighting and feeding schedules could cause egg production problems. Poultry producers usually keep the clocks in poultry houses on standard time and make all adjustments based on standard time.

Do not forget to turn your clocks up one hour Saturday night so you will not be late for church on Sunday.

To Beware Of Spontaneous Combustion

Could you have had a fire in your stored poultry litter or manure? Charred sections within the manure pile are signs of incomplete ignition and combustion. They are warning that you may need to take steps to control spontaneous combustion-self ignition of a material.

In most of the reported fires, multiple aged litter was involved. The boundary between dry and wet litter from different flocks appears to where the fire starts. Dry and wet layers of organic materials can produce the conditions which support spontaneous combustion.

According to the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension, if there is a problem, it takes two to six weeks for the spontaneous combustion to occur. Then it occurs two to three feet deep inside the pile. It appears that moisture levels from 30 to 50 percent are critical.

To Prevent Spontaneous Combustion

Fires started by spontaneous combustion in poultry litter can result in entire sheds and stored equipment being lost. Some suggestions to prevent spontaneous combustion in poultry litter or manure are:

- Do not stack dry and wet layers.
- Do not let dry and wet boundaries meet.
- Check stored poultry manure daily for temperature elevations greater than 160 degrees Fahrenheit, with a 4-foot-long stem dial thermometer.
- Remove litter from storage and spread it if temperatures reach 190 degrees Fahrenheit.
- Keep fire control equipment with you when removing heated material.
- Minimize external packing of the litter; it will settle on its own weight.
- In case of fire, remove the material. Adding water will not necessarily extinguish it, but may actually make it worse.
- Make sure you have fire insurance.

Have You Given Your Gift Yet?
April 2, 1995

Background Scripture:
I Corinthians 12
Devotional Reading:
Ephesians 4:4-16

Christians have always had a problem with religious ecstasy. Those few who experience it seem to let it get out of control—at least in the eyes of those of us who have never experienced it. The rest of us are so frightened by the prospect of it that we do all we can to "make sure it doesn't happen here!"

The problem is not with the ecstatic religious experience per se, but with the abuse of it. If it becomes a substitute for all other religious expressions, gives rise to religious snobbery or pride, is pursued for itself alone or used as an escape, then it is a clear danger to true Christian spirituality.

That's what concerns Paul in I Corinthians 12. He has observed two kinds of religious ecstasy that are harmful. The first of these are the orgiastic practices of some of the contemporary pagan religions of his day. "You know that when you were heathen, you were led astray to dumb idols, however, you may have been moved" (12:2). These dumb idols stimulated worshippers to religious frenzy, but they could not answer prayer.

Ecstasy's Source

Secondly, Paul was referring also to Christians who demonstrated religious ecstasy, primarily those who spoke in tongues. Obviously this phenomenon was causing divisions in the churches—just as it does today—because some were claiming that it should be the mark of all true Chistians, while others condemned it as sheer emotionalism. The problem is that ecstatic experiences seems to denote spiritual authority. But Paul is saying that ecstasy alone—no matter how dramatic—is not enough unless it is by the spirit of God that we are moved. Is the ecstasy from God or from some other source?

In Paul's day there were apparently some who asserted that Christian discipleship cannot be authentic unless it is stamped with the approval of the experience of speaking in tongues, an assertion still made or suggested by some today. But Paul says no, there are "varieties of gifts," not just one: the utterance of wisdom, knowledge, faith itself, healing, working of miracles, prophecy, ability to distinguish between spirits, to speak in and interpret tongues. (Is it by chance that Paul lists tongues and interpretation last?)

For The Common Good

The acid test, says Paul: "To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good" (2:7). If the gift doesn't build up the church,—as opposed to tearing it down—it is not of God. God gives us his gifts, not to divide us, but to bring us together.

Note that Paul says, "To each is given..." All of us are given gifts by God to share with the church. There isn't one of us who is not gifted. There isn't one of us who doesn't have some contribution to make to the life of God's people. It is true that with our human limitations we may assume we have no gift or that, in the light of someone else's more dramatic gift, it is not worth much. But Paul wants us to know that God sees us differently. If our gift seems poor to us we must not make the mistake of thinking it is of little or no consequence.

So, the question is not whether we have a gift to give, but whether we have yet begun to give the gift that we have. Have you given your gift yet?

Oklahoma City Feeder Cattle

Oklahoma City, OK
Wed Mar 29, 1995
USDA-OK Dept Ag Market News
Oklahoma National Stockyards Weekly Cattle Summary

Compared to last week: Feeder steers under 800 lbs steady; over 800 lbs 1.00 lower. Feeder heifers steady to 1.00 lower. Stocker steers and heifers steady. Demand good for feeder cattle and improved some as sale progressed. CME cattle futures posted significant gains Monday giving a boost to the feeder cattle market. No boost needed for stockers as demand remains very good for these kind. Weigh-ups improved for buyers from last week with majority of cattle in average fill conditions. Flesh conditions also improved with bulk of feeder steers returning to medium flesh; however feeder heifer offerings remain rather fleshy. Overall quality plain to average with end attractive. Slaughter cows and bulls 2.00-3.00 lower. Demand fair to moderate from packers as slaughter cows and bulls take the same downward trend as the fat cattle market. Total of 346 cows and bulls sold with 65 percent to packers. Receipts include 341 show steers from the Oklahoma Spring Fair. Receipts this week 8,534; last week 11,577; last year 7,853.

Supply consisted of 66 percent yearlings over 600 lbs; 26 percent calves and light yearlings under 600 lbs; 4 percent cows and bulls; 4 percent slaughter show steers.

FREE DELVOTEST® SP or P OFFER

Introducing Delvotest® SP.
Buy a Delvotest® Block Heater from January 1st to March 31st, 1995 and get a $25 Delvotest® kit Free.

Delvotest® SP is a simple, reliable, inexpensive test for detecting virtually all antibiotics which includes and increased sensitivity for sulfa residues in milk. You can set up a Delvotest® SP in 2 minutes. With the use of a timer, you can read the results at your convenience, up to 12 hours from the start of the incubation period. You can run the test in your own milk room.

OFFER EXTENDED; THROUGH MAY 31, 1995

Why Delvotest® SP?

- Because you need to know your milk is free from all antibiotics, including sulfa residues.
- Because you need to know your milk is going into the tank truck, instead of down the drain.

Pa. State Grange Names Youth Couple

INTERCOURSE (Lancaster Co.)—Bob and Amy Noble, of Greenville, have barely been married but five months and now they have another "honeymoon" to celebrate: the Mercer County Grangers were named 1995-96 Young Couple for the Pennsylvania State Grange.

The Nobles were selected for the high honor during the Grange Youth Department's Youth/Young Marrieds Weekend Conference held here in Lancaster County.

It is an honor that the couple vigorously sought.

"We cherish the opportunity to serve the Grange as the Young Couple as we promote the Youth program and show people what the Grange has to offer," Amy said.

They were chosen the Young Couple based on an interview, ambassadorship qualities and Grange participation. Both are active in their subordinate (local) Grange, Stony Point Grange #1694, and serve on the PA State Grange's Youth Department Committee.

As the Young Couple, the Nobles will represent the Grange at various functions throughout the year, will visit local Granges, promote the Youth/Young Marrieds program of the Grange and serve as the "host" young couple at the 1995 National Grange Convention in Harrisburg this fall.

Outside the Grange, Bob is a senior designer and Amy is a substitute school teacher. They are parents of two boys, Joshua, 11, and Christopher, 10.

Major Change In Crop Reporting Date

YORK (York Co.)—Legislation approved by Congress has made significant changes in certain crop reporting dates.

The Pennsylvania State Grange is a family organization representing 33,0000 rural Pennsylvanians. The organization offers a number of services such as insurance, food cooperatives and a credit union. The Youth/Young Married Department in the Grange encompasses members age 14 to 35 and promotes various activities for the different age groups.

At the Youth/Young Marrieds Weekend, couples get together for fellowship and socializing while participating in various workshops that educate about the Grange, family life and agricultural and rural affairs.

"The Federal Crop Insurance and USDA Reorganization Act, passed last year, established special dates for the 1995 crop year only," according to David S. Evans, vice chairperson of the York County Consolidated Farm Service Agency (formerly ASCS).

Evans, an East Prospect grain and livestock producer, said, "County farmers who are grain program participants and others who wish to record their farm crop history acreage must report wheat and barley by April 28, 1995. This date is revised from previous years' June 15 date."

Acreage reports are used to establish program compliance or a farm's cropping history for use in future years' farm program. Reports are taken on copies of aerial photographs with crops and acreages distinguished. Therefore, producers must visit the county office to file the report.

The York County Office is located at 120 Pleasant Acres Rd. in York. Office hours are Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Phone (717) 755-2801.

Ayrshire Breed Focusing On Genetics

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — The Ayrshire Breeders's Association has announced its 1994 All-American results and a new production goal for the breed to increase production annually by 3 percent.

According to news releases made recently by the ABA, headquartered in Brattleboro, Vt., an increase of 3 percent per year would mean that the average Ayrshire would be producing more than 18,000 pounds of milk and 620 pounds of protein by the year 2000.

"This is attainable only if all of us work towards it," said Jim McConnell, ABA president. "It is the entire membership of the (ABA that) is focusing on genetics. As a board, we have set the goal, and all of us together will have to increase our use of young sires and be highly selective with our matings of all animals."

The current rate of increase is approximately 1.4 percent, according McConnell.

"We wanted to set a goal that is realistic, and achievable," he said.

"I am confident that we will be making strong gains in the milk and protein production changes during these next few years."

In other business, the ABA announced its 1994 All-American contests. There are two catagories, one for youth, or junior members, and the other for adults.

In the adult division, five of the winners were entries from Canada, while none were from Pennsylvania. There were no Pennsylvania entries from Pennsylvania in the junior member division either.

While a number of the adult and junior winners came from entries from the Midwest, there were several from other Mid-Atlantic and Northeastern states.

"As usual, competition was stiff. Congratulations are in order for all participants," said Linda Hanson, of Minnesota, who served as contest coordinator.

"It's great to see such enthusiasm and participation among our Ayrshire youth."

Cargill's Feed Division Plans For Lebanon Mill

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.)— Cargill's Feed Division announced that construction will begin soon on a new state-of-the-art feed mill here.

Dave Larson, Feed Division president, said the facility will focus on the nutrition and service needs of the area's dairy producers and will also produce swine and other specialty feeds. The plant will produce both bagged and bulk feeds. Farm store products will be distributed from the mill.

"We decided to locate a mill in Lebanon to better serve the needs of Pennsylvania's dairy farmers and other livestock-feed users," Larson said. "This is Cargill's first mill in eastern Pennsylvania, an area which we believe is a high-potential, long-term market for the livestock industry." Cargill has been providing some service to the area through its mill in Walkersville, Md., Larson noted.

The facility will be located at the intersection of 16th and Lehman streets and will employ 10 to 15 people. The main structure at the Lebanon mill will be a tower seven to eight stories high. Other buildings will include a one-story office and warehouse. Construction is expected to be completed by the summer of 1996.

ADC District 13 Honors Achievements

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

REEDSVILLE (Mifflin Co.)—"I was shooting for the bonus, not the award," said Roland Pecht of the quality milk award presented to him at the Atlantic Dairy Cooperative (ADC) Big Valley Local District 13 annual meeting, held recently at the Camelot Country Restaurant in Reedsville.

This Milroy dairy farmer and his wife were one of three recipients of the award, given for an inspection score of 90 or above for 12 consecutive months.

But Roland and his wife Amy had added reason for being proud of the award—it was earned in their first year milking on their own.

"We have a good dry cow program. We keep the cows clean, dry and treated. Our milk cows have dry sawdust bedding. The DHIA records help with knowing the somatic cell count," Pecht said of what he thinks his farming operation does to produce top-quality milk.

"We try to devise a plan that is right for our farm situation. Each farm is different, but we're putting effort into ours."

The Pechts milk 25 cows in a parlor and have an 800-acre crop arrangement with his father. Their farm name is R & A Holsteins.

Frank and Edith Hartzler said they believe last year's update of their pipeline, bulk tank, and cleaning equipment contributed to their winning the quality milk award.

"We check the milk house every night to make sure the equipment was washed and cleaned properly," Edith explained. "We make sure that the milk has cooled down."

The Hartzlers farm 110 acres of their own Hartzler Acres and additional rented ground. They milk 70 cows in a stanchion barn.

J. Lester and Ray Yoder of Dry House Farm said keeping things generally clean overall helped produce milk worthy of the quality award that Lester accepted at the banquet.

"We teat dip all the time, keep the cows clean, keep the equipment clean. If any count goes up at any time, we check into it to see if things are washing correctly," Ray said. "If the SCC case is chronic, we send the cow for beef. She's not worth keeping."

From the left, members of Atlantic Dairy Cooperative's District 13 are recognized and awarded: John Yoder, for 25-years membership; Frank and Edith Hartzler, for quality milk and 25-years membership; Roland and Amy Pecht, for quality milk; and J. Lester Yoder, for quality milk.

Ray also suggested buying high quality cleaners and not relying on less expensive brands that might do an inadequate job.

Lester and Ray are brothers who farm 200 acres and parlor milk about 105 cows.

ADC Field Representative Martin J. Smith recognized Frank and Edith Hartzler as 25-year members of the Atlantic Dairy Cooperative. John Allen Yoder received the same award, as well as Lowell and Savilla Peachey.

In other business, David Stuck from Bellville presented the annual meeting report. Held Dec. 17 and 18 in Lancaster, Stuck said delegates submitted resolutions concerning quicker return of milk

Waiting To Control Quackgrass Can Cost You Plenty.

Waiting to use a rescue treatment like Accent* can cost you up to twice as much as using Roundup® herbicide to stop quackgrass before your corn is up. But that's not all you'll pay...

WAITING CAN COST YOU 14 BU/A IN YIELD

Quackgrass is an aggressive competitor for soil moisture and plant nutrients. And if you wait until your corn is up to control quackgrass, you've already lost yield. University tests have shown that waiting to control quackgrass can cost you up to 14 bushels per acre. And then there's the matter of reinfestation...

QUACK CAN COME BACK WITH A VENGEANCE

You know how tough quackgrass can be. Unfortunately, post treatments like Accent don't. They often just knock quack back instead of controlling the entire plant, rhizomes and all, like Roundup. The result? Quackgrass comes back and you're back to square one.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT'S TOO LATE

Using Accent after the damage is done can be costly. So don't hesitate. Use Roundup to stop quackgrass before it robs you of yield and profit. See your dealer for the early, economical quackgrass control of Roundup.

WARNING!

An odorless, colorless, invisible--and costly--forage thief!

You can't see it--and you can't stop it. Storage losses in forage can steal your valuable crop--how much is lost depends upon how you store your feed:

- Tower Silos have Up to 8% loss*
- Bunkers have Up to 45% loss

If the average difference in feed lost between tower silos and bunkers is 30%, then storage of 1000 tons will mean 300 tons MORE lost in a bunker. If silage is valued at $30 per ton, the additional losses from bunker storage would be $9000 a year.

For information on losses for all types of crop storage methods, contact the Crop Storage Institute for your free copy of " Methods of Crop Storage" and "Know the Facts."

Highland Association

A directors meeting will be held on April 7 at the host farm, Who's Hill Farm, operated by Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson, in Sunbury.

After the meeting in Lewisburg on Saturday, a tour will be conducted at Who's Hill Farm in Sunbury. Who's Hill Farm is located in the beautiful Susquehanna River Valley of Pennsylvania, an hour north of Harrisburg and 15 minutes from the spring meeting sight.

According to Hugh Wilson, the farm consists of 70 acres of land, with 55 tillable acres. The Highland Cattle, noted for their long coats and telltale horns, will be a feature of the tour.

According to Lynn Wilson, the tour will include a judging contest similar to those at fairs to teach members how to type the animals and what the industry is looking for.

The farm's herd numbers include 23, with 11 brood cows due this spring. Fencing is electric, some high tensile, and some "homestrung," according to Hugh Wilson. The main herd is wintered outside, never grained (once in the brood cow herd), and all cows must produce a calf yearly. The hay is homegrown and placed into both square and round bales.

Who's Hill Fold of Highland cattle was founded in 1973 after the Wilsons first saw the cattle at the Tunbridge, Vt. "World's Fair". Gradually, after purchasing the original stock, the Wilsons used bull genetics to improve the herd.

By careful selection, the Wilsons have been able to produce a Highlander that routinely and predictably weans at over the American Highland Cattle Association's minimal requirement for weight gain certification, according to Hugh Wilson.

The Wilsons halter-break all the calves. They use a simple home-built oak gate, oak shoot, and swinging pipe gate for a squeeze.

For more information, contact Hugh and Lynn Wilson, Who's Hill Farm, RD 3, Sunbury, PA 17801, (717) 286-7952.

Holstein Sets World Record Production

BRATTLEBORO, Vt.—A new world record for milk production has been set by Bell-Jr Rosabel-ET, who has become the first Holstein cow to produce more than 60,000 pounds of milk in a 365-day lactation. She is owned by the Bell-Jr. Group of Calhan, Colorado.

With the completion of her January 1995 DHIR test, her record of 60,380 pounds milk surpassed the record of 59,300 pounds set by Robthom Suzet Paddy, owned by Robthom Farm, Springfield, Missouri, in the fall of 1993.

Rosabel's production record includes 2,108 pounds fat and 1,841 pounds protein on a three-times-a-day milking schedule, at the Miramont Dairy in Calhan, Colorado. The herd was verification tested.

The dairy's 52-cow herd is owned by Wayne and Kathy Gillespie, with a 3x RHA of 32,626 milk, according to Colorado DHIA. Rosabel is owned by a syndicate that includes the Gillespies, Nadine Gillespie of Parker, Colo.; Albert Schroeder, Elgin, Minn.; Steve Erwin, Plainview, Minn.; and Tom Kuball, Waterville, Minn.

Rosabel (VG-85) was born April 3, 1988. Her dam is SGS Jelle Bean Stream (VG-85), a Jet Stream daughter, and her second dam is a VG-86 Elevation. Rosabel's sire is Lekker Ivanho Bell Jesse-ET.

Rosabel's 365-day record is first on the National Leaders List for milk, ranking above all class leaders. In the 3x 365-day mature class, she is first for protein, and second for fat. She started the current record at five years, nine months. DHI technician Ken Anderson of Canon City, Colorado tested Rosabel each month.

Rosabel received oxytocin at the third milking during one test period when in heat, which accounts for the label (I) behind her record. The January (and last) test was affected by BST.

Wayne Gillespie said he was proud of Rosabel's accomplishment. "This is a goal we work for, to have our cows do the best they can," he said. "It encourages us to work toward the future and gives us the shot of adrenalin we need to go on to the next day."

Rosabel is "by far" the biggest animal on the farm, he added, estimating she weighs close to 2,000 pounds when in good condition. He noted she is milked in the last stall of the five-cow herringbone milking parlor as it is the only one large enough to accommodate her.

While the herd gets alfalfa hay and their uniquely developed complex high energy pH-monitored ration in the bunk, each cow is individually fed by the computerized system. The cows are then individually fed flaked corn and cooked beans in the milking parlor.

"We feed for the individual, not for the masses," he said.

Rosabel's 305-day record of 51,210 pounds milk, 1,780 pounds fat, and 1,544 pounds protein places her second on the National Leaders List, in the 305-day 3x mature class for milk, behind Tullando Royalty Maxima, of Orford, New Hampshire.

Rosabel is first on the Leaders List in the 305-day mature class for protein.

PSU Satellite Teleconference For Cooperatives

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — In response to increased interest, Penn State University and Cornell University have joined efforts to provide a satellite teleconference on the subject of conducting cooperative business from 10 a.m. to noon, April 5.

The Penn State Cooperative Business Education and Research Program, and the Cornell Cooperative Business Enterprise Program are sponsoring the teleconference is to be downlinked to five or six sites in Pennsylvania, and across New York and New England.

The conference is to feature case studies of businesses and communities that have benefitted from cooperative development ventures.

The audience for the conference is planners, developers, county extension workers, and those who have an interest in retaining or expanding businesses, and working to provide community stability and economic health.

For more information contact a local extension office.

quality reports and resolutions concerning GATT.

Stuck reported that ADC Field Consultant Elwood Hench was honored for his 33 years with Atlantic. Stuck said that ADC will reimburse dairy farm members $50 for participating in Penn State's Dairy MAP program.

Delegates at the annual meeting voted to retain, rather than lower, their 12 cents per hundredweight dues, because it generates a cash flow vital to the cooperative. Stuck encouraged other members to consider participating as a delegate to the annual meeting.

Victor and Carolyn Yoder of Belleville attended the Young Cooperator's conference which is designed to educate young farmers about cooperatives like ADC. Yoder spoke of milking a cow at the Philadelphia Zoo and the comments he and his wife heard from urban visitors. Yoder urged other ADC members 40 years and under to consider attending as a Young Cooperator.

In his director's report, Charles E. Schilling described the Young Cooperator's program as a building block for leadership. He reiterated ADC's goal of returning top dollar to farmers through their patronage refund checks.

Guest speaker James S. Fraher, chief operating officer for ADC, said he was encouraged to see the young crowd—an encouraging sign, he said, for the future of the dairy business.

Fraher said more and more milk is being produced all the time, but the good news is that the market for milk and dairy products is growing. Fraher said dairy farmers are marketing a product that has good value, is convenient, comes in all shapes and sizes, and that this all adds up to more sales. With exporting butter and with no surplus, Fraher said ADC looks ahead with cautious optimism.

Earlier in the evening, Big Valley Local President J. Loren Yoder welcomed the crowd, while ADC Field Consultant Elwood Hench served as master of ceremonies. David R. Spicher gave the invocation.

Mifflin County Dairy Princess Erin Goss handed out individual cups, milk, and pudding powder for a shake-your-own dessert, while "Geraldine the Cow" entertained the crowd.

1995 Dairy Of Distinction Farms Sought

Kingston (Luzerne Co.) — Do you take pride in maintaining your dairy farm? Does your dairy farm project an attractive, wholesome image to consumers? If so, the Dairy Of Distinction Program of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will consider your farm for the program's annual recognition awards.

The Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program was first started in 1983 to recognize the hard work and dedication of the farmers who maintain attractive farms. The purpose of the program is to instill a greater sense of confidence in the wholesomeness of dairy products, and increase their sales.

Farms that apply are judged on the roadside appearance of buildings, grounds, and surroundings, since this is what our dairy product consumers observe as they drive by. The cleanliness of the barnyard, feed areas and manure management are other aspects of the farm operation taken into consideration. Roadside judging is conducted during the month of May. Former winners of past years are also rejudged to ensure they continue to meet the standards of excellence.

To qualify for consideration, you must be actively dairy farming and shipping milk. Applications are available from your state secretary, Pennsylvania: Paul Nichols, American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc., 239 Schuyler Avenue, Box 5 , Kingston, Pa. 18704, (717) 283-2204, New York: Carol Weddle, N.Y. Holstein Association, 957 Mitchell Street, Ithaca N.Y. 14851, (607) 273-7591, or New Jersey: August Knispel, R.D. 1, Box 325, Pittstown, New Jersey 08867, (201) 735-4989. All applications muse be completed and returned by April 15th, 1995.

The Dairy of Distinction program is financed in Pennsylvania by Dairy Farmers through the American Dairy Association Dairy Council and Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program, plus Agribusiness organizations. The Pennsylvania Dairy Of Distinction Program is conducted with advice and help by Penn State cooperative extension.

Application

PURPOSE OF PROGRAM

Attractive dairy farms give the consumer greater confidence in the wholesomeness of milk and stimulate milk sales which encourages public support for the dairy industry. The award gives recognition to the dairy farmer for maintaining a well-kept farmstead.

ELIGIBILITY

All Northeast dairy farms producing milk for sale are invited to make application for the award. Dairies receiving the 10 highest scores in each of the 91 districts will receive an 18" x 24" Dairy of Distinction sign to be displayed in front of their farm.

HOW IS YOUR FARM SCORED?

Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Program, Inc.

Awards will be based upon neatness, good maintenance and other factors which can be controlled by the farmer. Attractive background scenery should not be weighed heavily in judging. All judging observations should be made from a vehicle at one or more points on an adjacent public highway (or if farm is off the road, the nearest lane). Judging should give equal consideration to old wood construction and new construction of metal or concrete block.

The award program may be used for subsequent advertising or promotion activities for dairy products or dairy farming. Farmers who apply for awards agree that; if selected they will cooperate with these activities and make all reasonable efforts to maintain both the exterior and interior of their properties in an acceptable condition.

HOW THE APPLICATION WORKS

The owner or operator of the dairy farm should sign the application and send it to NEDFBP secretary by April 15.

HOW THE JUDGING WORKS

Judging teams will visit farms during the month of May. Farms will be judged each year as the award is presented on an annual basis. Any dairy failing to maintain appearance standards will be asked to remove their sign. The Dairy of Distinction signs remain the property of the committee, not the property of the dairy farmer. All farms must achieve a compliance score of 90 percent on their Dairy of Distinction score card. Your cooperative or milk handler will be contacted to approve your milk quality.

RULES FOR THE DAIRY OF DISTINCTION AWARD

1). The Dairy of Distinction sign remains the property of the Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification Committee.
2). The post and bracket shall be supplied by and maintained by the dairy farmer. It is suggested that a wood post 4' x 4' x 12' or iron pipe 2' x 12' be used. Posts or pipe should be installed and maintained in true vertical position with 8' above ground. Top of the bracket shou'd be lower than six inches from the top of the post.
3). Sign shall be displayed in front of the dairy at roadside. An attractive post and bracket, or other frame, shall be used to display the sign. No more than three signs should be displayed from the sign frame or post, and all shall be of a style, general size and quality comparable to the Dairy of Distinction sign. Sign should be secured on all sides to avoid wind damage.
4). Signs shall not be moved to other premises. New owners of a Dairy of Distinction farm must apply to retain the sign.
5). Replacement of damaged signs shall be the discretion of the committee.
6). No producer shall be charged with scoring or sign expense.
7). Judges' decisions will be final.
8). Judging will take place between May 1st and May 31st.
9). Farms awarded a Dairy of Distinction sign in previous years will be judged between April 1st and April 30th. If they do not qualify, they will be rejudged between May 1st and May 31st so they have the opportunity to keep the sign.
10). Farms that do not requalify will return the sign to their regional Dairy of Distinction Committee.

Farm Bureau Plans Harrisburg Legislative Tour

CAMP HILL (Cumberland Co.) — An estimated 400 members of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau (PFB) are to visit state legislators in Harrisburg on Monday to discuss a number of problem issues and possible legislative remedies.

According to a news release, the PFB's top two issues of concern are property rights and local tax reform.

Every year, PFB members as a group formally visit the state Capitol to meet with senators and representatives and to discuss ideas about public policy.

For the most part, the ideas deal with issues which are considered to be problems. The PFB, through its policy development process, has formed a number of positions on a variety of issues.

The 400 members expected to participate on the legislative tour serve on county legislative committees and seek to talk directly with elected representatives.

Following the day's activities, the PFB members are to attend a banquet at the Harrisburg Hotel, at 6:30 p.m., to hear an address from Keith Eckel, president of PFB. The PFB also has invited state senators and representatives to attend.

However, the state Legislature is not in session and isn't scheduled to resume session until April 18. While some legislators continue to work out of their Harrisburg offices when not in session, many use the off-session time to meet with constituents within their home districts, and maintain a staff in Harrisburg.

Other considerations may keep legislators in Harrisburg.

Currently, the state Senate is holding budget hearings, which are scheduled to be held until Friday (April 7). Depending on the respective agenda of representatives, the hearings may help ensure their presence in Harrisburg coincides with the PFB tour.

(As an aside, the Senate Appropriations Committee is scheduled to hold a hearing on the agricultural portion of the budget starting 9 a.m., Thursday, in the Senate Majority Caucus Room.)

Of the two prominent issues, the PFB's position on local tax reform is, "Current local tax laws are inadequate to meet revenue needs and are based on the outdated idea that ownership of land is a measure of a person's ability to pay local taxes," according to the news release.

"Restrictive laws have forced local governments to rely heavily on real estate taxes to increase their revenues. This has been particularly harsh for agriculture.

"Studies have shown that, on average, farmers pay a significantly higher percentage of their income in local taxes than the average businessman or taxpayer.

"Farm Bureau recommends local governments be allowed to use a locally determined combination of property taxes and a flat rate income tax to reduce property taxes. Nuisance taxes and the personal property taxes should be eliminated.

"Farm Bureau supports removal of the cap on earned income tax, provided property taxes are reduced proportionately. Farm Bureau also recommends a cap be set on property taxes and that taxing districts be prohibited from raising taxes or taking on debt beyond a fixed percentage of the tax base without referendum approval."

The news release also reported that four bills have been introduced this session concerning local tax reform. Last year, under a different legislature, local tax reform proposals had gained wide attention, but none was passed.

Historically, political pressure from Philadelphia, which has its own unique taxing structure, has been blamed for preventing a consensus to change local taxing codes.

According to the PFB, of the current proposals, "House Bill 76 focuses solely on school districts, while H.B. 138, Senate Bill 2, and S.B. 105 would give all but first class counties, municipalities and school districts the option to change their taxing structures and reduce property taxes."

The rights of property owners has become increasingly controversial. A current trend is to seek financial compensation from the government for any restriction it places on an owner to profit from using the land.

The PFB news release stated, "Farm Bureau believes any government action that diminishes an owner's right to use his property constitutes a 'taking' which is prohibited by the U.S. Constitution 'without just compensation.'

"In recent years, government all too often has shifted the balance between the public interest and rights of property owners away from landowners.

"Farm Bureau is supporting S.B. 805, the Agricultural Private Property and Private Property Protection Act, to prevent unnecessary land use restrictions and further erosion of property rights.

"The bill would create an independent board to develop guidelines agencies must follow to reduce the impact of proposed actions on private property rights. Agencies not in compliance with the guidelines would be subject to legal action by the state Attorney General's office.

"Landowners would have the right to go to court for compensation if state government action reduces their property value over 10 percent.

"The legislation would also require local agencies to keep on file their justification for all permit, license or variance decisions which adversely affect property rights. These files would be open to public inspection."

In addition to local tax reform and private property rights issues, PFB members are also planning to continue to promote its position on returnable, container deposits.

Over the past decade or more, series of "bottle bills" were sought by PFB and other agricultural organizations in an effort to keep down the amount of debris, especially glass containers, which the general public has been discarding along roadsides and into pastures, creating dangerous hazards for rural and agricultural people and animals.

While returnable, deposit bottles had been a common private business practice throughout Pennsylvania 20 years ago, it became more profitable, especially for the beverage industry, to the use plastic or thinner-glass throw-away containers.

As a result, while the beverage companies profited, the refuse from the one-use containers has been going to landfills, farmer fields, or roadsides, at an increased cost burden and health risk to the rest of the community.

According to the PFB, "Roadside litter is a problem that continues to plague farmers. Discarded bottles and cans can damage farm equipment, contaminate harvested crops, and, in some instances, cause injury or death to farm animals.

"Farm Bureau supports legislation to establish a return deposit for all beverage cans and bottles. Stricter enforcement of anti-litter laws is also encouraged. In addition, Farm Bureau supports legislation to require biodegradable packaging by fast food outlets."

Some of the other issues of concern include state government reorganization, rural health care, reform of the Seasonal Farm Labor Act, tort reform, water rights, and reform of wetlands regulations.

IS YOUR CORN STATE-OF-THE-ART?

It is when you start with advanced IMI-Corn™ hybrids. New IMI-Corn is specifically designed to be used with today's modern herbicides. Advanced herbicides like RESOLVE™ CP herbicide. The contact and residual control of RESOLVE can put down your toughest broadleaf weeds and key grasses — with 60 to 90% less active ingredient per acre than standard corn herbicide programs. And it does it all with no atrazine. So insist on state-of-the-art performance.

Scott Peterman stands beside the tractor that was used to fulfill his father's wish to be carried to the cemetery by one of his antique Moline tractors. The elder Peterman died last August after a long bout with diabetes.

Moline Antique Tractor Collection Lives On

Mercer Co. Correspondent

MERCER (Mercer Co.)—Glenn Peterman was never shy about his devotion to Minneapolis Moline tractors. He used them for years on his beef and grain farm near Greenville. Friends said he would have looked out of place driving anything else.

For most of his life, Peterman didn't exactly consider himself a collector, yet there were always more Molines around than he really needed, his wife Connie observed more than once.

His love affair with the now-extinct equipment line can be traced to his childhood when Peterman's father owned a Moline dealership and even earlier when the older Peterman restored a Twin Cities tractor, a predecessor to the Moline company. Peterman's first Moline was a rubber scale replica presented to him as a boy by a factory representative.

Save for a hitch in the military, the Mercer County man was never again without a Moline tractor in his life.

It wasn't until the last 10 or 15 years, though, that he began collecting in earnest, sometimes traveling across the country or into Canada to rescue a Moline for his collection.

"There's a story behind every one of these tractors," An Amish friend of Peterman's observed as he strolled among rows of tractors at a recent show.

One tractor, a 1926 Twin City KT, sat for years at the gate of a Texas ranch. Another machine, a 1943 MM GT, was used to build the Toftrees golf course at Penn State University.

For Peterman, the pursuit had little to do with restoration, but a lot to do with nostalgia. He paid to have some of his finds restored and put hours of his own sweat into others. Some of the fading yellow workhorses were destined to stay in much the same condition in which they had been found, rusty and perhaps missing a few parts, but appreciated nonetheless.

Despite his interest in Molines, some friends and neighbors said they never knew just how large the collection was growing on his farm, situated back a long driveway that his family began to call Moline Lane.

Those friends, along with about two thousand people from across the United States, found out on March 18, when the Peterman family hosted the winter meeting of Prairie Gold Rush, a worldwide group of Moline enthusiasts.

The collection, which the family believes to be the most comprehensive in the world, includes a rare 1938 UDLX Comfortractor, which doubled as a car. With a cab and seating for two, the machine cruised at 40 mph.

Also on display was a 1910 Universal C, which was designed to pull horsedrawn equipment. The collection, which spilled out of two machine sheds, includes more than a half dozen Twin Cities tractors, dozens of Moline tractors and a handful of rare Moline bulldozers.

With a battery charger, some starter fluid and a few minutes tinkering, about 60 percent of the tractors could have been coaxed to life, Peterman's son Jeff said.

It was Peterman's goal to own at least one of every significant model and he was closing in on that goal. Altogether, visitors at the three-day Moline show saw 100 tractors.

Neighboring farmers were there, along with old friends and tractor enthusiasts from across the country.

Unfortunately, Peterman was not.

In August, at 62, he lost a long bout with diabetes.

Pa. Raw Milk Producers Hold 54th Meeting

COATESVILLE (Chester Co.)—The Pennsylvania Raw Milk Producers-Distributors Association Inc. held their 54th annual dinner meeting on March 14 at Fineskinde Farm in Chester County.

Sixteen members and guests were in attendance from various Pennsylvania counties and one couple from Long Island, N.Y.

This meeting is an annual event where members share a meal, fellowship and current relevant topics concerning marketing of their raw milk products.

A regular business meeting and open discussion took place after the meal.

Raw dairy cow milk is sold by the majority of the members in attendance. There were also three individuals present who represent the goat industry, an area in demand in some sections of our state.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Boston were special guests at the dinner. Dr. Boston is a professor at the School of Veterinary Medicine from New Bolton Center in Kennett Square.

The present slate of officers were re-elected for another one-year term.

They are Joseph C. Stump, president from Stump Acres Dairy, York Co.; Rick Goss, vice president from Redgate Farm, Lebanon Co.; and Glendora M. Stump, secretary-treasurer from Stump Acres Dairy.

Joseph C. Stump, Rick Goss and Jacob H. Fisher Jr. were appointed to represent the association on the Pennsylvania Farm Show Committee in Harrisburg.

The association is open to all producers/marketers who are involved in the sale of their raw milk dairy products. More information may be obtained by calling Glendora M. Stump at (717) 792-3216.

wishes, the man who founded Peterman's home for tired Molines was taken to the cemetery behind a well-polished Moline that had been one of his favorites.

There was never much question that his last wish should be honored, family members said.

Mrs. Peterman said her husband knew he might not live for the show, but that he helped plan for it anyway. Debra Elder, Peterman's daughter, said her father helped with every detail, even picking out the menu for a banquet and choosing host's gifts for the more than 200 people who attended the dinner.

Not surprisingly, each dinner guest went home with a glass Moline mug.

Despite her husband's death, Mrs. Peterman said she has no plans to sell off his collection of Molines and Twin Cities tractors.

"I thought everything went great," said Mrs. Peterman, who explained she spent much of the weekend thinking about her husband. "I don't think it could have gone much better," she said.

Aside from friends and neighbors who swapped stories about Peterman, visitors came from as far away as Arizona and Washington state.

Maplebrough Revelat Kandy, bred by W. Gordon Risebrough, and owned by Justin Burdette, of Mercersburg. She is a daughter of Lonsfarm Revelation out of Maplebrough Magnet Kari.

Burdette, son of James and Nina Burdette, also showed the reserve grand champion in the youth division of the show. His junior 3-year-old Windy-Knoll View CC Pear-ET, a Carnation Counselor daughter, was first in its age class in open and youth division.

Gor-Wood-D Farms was named premier breeder and exhibitor of the show. The well-known Holstein farm from Mansfield is a family operation with Gordon Wood and sons Tim and Ron in partnership.

They showed a number of animals, winning the first place in the aged cow class with a home-bred red and white Holstein, Gor-Wood-D Rhythm Maiden Red. Both her sire and dam were also home-bred Holsteins.

The Woods also showed the first place 5-year-old, Gor-Wood-D Camaro Memoir, which was also named the best bred and owned of the show. In addition, they showed the best three females, and the best produce of dam.

The junior champion was a fall yearling, Don-Ton Chaos Beauty, owned by the syndicate of Doug Beatty, Mark Campbell, breeder Don Eaton, and Tom Gretz. It was sired by Don-Ton Enchant Chaos-ET out of dam Miss Blackstar Bonnie.

The reserve junior champion also was a fall yearling, Windy-Knoll View Prism-ET, owned by Ida Jane and Leroy Plance Jr. and Fred Strouse. It was bred by James and Nina Burdette and is a Hanoverhill Starbuck daughter out of the Burdette well-known Windy-Knoll View Ultimate Pala.

In the youth division, Matthew Day, son of Curtis and Ann Day, of Shippensburg, showed the grand champion, TK-Tri-Day Stardom Ivana-ET, a Hanoverhill Stardom daughter out of dam Luncholm Valor Pixie. Ivana was bred by Kingstead Farm and Matthew's parents.

The junior champion of the youth division was Ro-Meyer Counselor Bacchus, a summer yearling daughter of Carnation Counselor owned by Cory Meyers, of Meyers Brothers Dairy, in St. Thomas. She placed second in the class in the open division.

The reserve junior champion was a spring yearling, Dar-Dale Nittany Pepsi, owned by Dixie Doll, daughter of Dale and Darla Doll, of Dar-Dale Farm in Glen Rock. Pepsi finished fourth in her age class in the open division.

Mifflin County Farm Bureau Holds Spring Meeting

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

BELLEVILLE (Mifflin Co.)—Progressing collectively as a people is vital in a vibrant civil society where members make a concerted effort toward solving problems to enhance their future. It's a step toward revitalizing democracy, civil responsibility, and volunteerism.

An organization run locally by volunteer effort, Mifflin County Farm Bureau members heard Robert L. Wilson, owner and editorialist of WKVA in Lewistown, speak of such organizations-service clubs, fraternal organizations, parent-school associations, and labor unions-as avenues and forums for not only civic involvement, but for expressing civic responsibility.

His talk centered on revitalizing democracy's third leg-American civil society, the place where we make our homes, educate our children, visit our neighbors, and so on.

While the domain of laws in government and economic self-interest in the marketplace form the other two legs of a civilized society, civil society governs attributes of social order such as responsibility, trust, fraternity, solidarity, and love.

"Government and marketplace are not enough to make a civilization. You need a healthy civil society," Wilson said.

Wilson said while the language of the marketplace is get as much as you can for yourself, and the language of the legislature is what they think others want, the language of community service is promoting the spirit of giving without measuring what one receives in return.

The spirit of volunteerism comes alive annually in Mifflin County with projects such as the World Hunger Association's Meat Canning project at A. J. Peachey Meats. It also rekindles during disasters. But as Wilson puts it, thankfully there are more barn raisers than barn burners. He commended this county for raising over $13,000 through WKVA for flood victims out west, but, he said, "we just can't have catastrophes all the time."

The absence of responsibility in some people causes others to be asked to serve again and again in service organizations. But to become involved is the civic responsibility of all person.

"Some say we need heroes. But to understand a true civil society, interaction is needed to grasp and grapple problems, and that will not happen with a hero. We become only spectators and have not progressed collectively. Forget heroes. As citizens, we all need to respond, to take positive steps to enhance our future," Wilson concluded.

After his talk, Wilson mentioned that next year marks his 50th year in broadcasting. He started WMAJ in State College and then moved to Lewistown to start WKVA. He and his wife have been married for 53 years. They have three children and eight grandchildren.

Ellinger reminded members of the Harrisburg tour scheduled for April 3. He and Dennis Strock attended the Washington Tour held March 15 and 16, and Ellinger said the following issues are of importance to farmers:

-Capital gains
-Estate Taxes
-Tax provisions in Resolution 15
-The Farm Program
-The Clean Water Act Reauthorization
-Wetlands bill
-Private Property Rights
-Health care deduction for self-employed
-and Regulatory Reform.

During the Harrisburg Tour, Ellinger said members will be meeting with their two Adopt-a-City legislators, Representatives Alan Butkovitz and Michael Horsey, both of the Philadelphia area.

Issues of statewide interest as of March 1 are:

-local tax reform
-property taxes
-returnable container and recycling issues
-rural health care
-water rights
-wetlands
-wildlife management and crop damage
-workman's compensation
-farm truck exemption
-storage tank indemnification assessments

Ellinger said there is a possibility of the sale of Farm Preservation vehicle license plates.

District 10 State Board Director, Wayne Freeman, congratulated Membership Chairman Ken Loht on attaining two members above the membership goal of 360. He complimented him on his hard work.

Mifflin County Farm Bureau President Stan Dunk presided over the dinner meeting.

Young Sire Evaluation Sale Set

MORRISVILLE, N.Y.—Beef producers looking for a new herd sire will be heading to Dryden on April 22 to put their bids in on up to 40 bulls which have completed the Young Sire Evaluation Program.

The sale, co-sponsored by the N.Y. Beef Cattlemen's Association and Cornell Cooperative Extension, will start at 3 p.m. and will be held at the Cornell Teaching and Research Center located on Route 38, four miles south of Dryden, N.Y.

A parade of bulls will be held at noon. This will allow potential buyers to view the bulls while consignors highlight the bull's pedigree, expected progency differences (EPDs), and performance information.

The program is an on-farm based program that evaluates bulls based on their EPDs. EPDs have been shown to be an extremely important tool for sire selection. This year there will be 30-40 bulls available for sale. Bulls from the Angus, Charolais, Limousin, Polled Hereford, RX-3, Salers, and Simmental breeds will be sold.

The bulls have been farm raised and will be brought to the Teaching and Research Center for final evaluation on Friday, April 21. The final evaluation will include yearling weight, ribeye area and backfat thickness, breeding soundness exam, pelvic area measurement, structural soundness evaluation, frame score, and Health status and certification. All bulls which meet the sale qualifications will then be sold through the sale at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

For more information on the Sire Evaluation Program or sale, contact Ted Perry, New York Beef Cattle extension associate, (607) 255-5923. The preliminary sale catalog is available by calling Carol Gillis, NYBCA executive secretary, at (315) 684-7114.

There's something extra in a starter fertilizer program.

Starter fertilizers unlock benefits for corn farmers. They stimulate seedling growth, hasten crop maturity, improve crop tolerance to some insects, increase crop competition with weeds and frequently increase yields, particularly in production fields featuring conservation tillage and irrigation. Starter fertilizers make crop production more environmentally sound because they improve fertilizer uptake efficiency.

The agronomic benefits of starter fertilizers increase crop productivity and profits from corn production.

Kindig, Others Receive National DHIA Awards

COLUMBUS, Ohio — National Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) held its annual convention in Burlington, Vermont, this week and presented three awards of national recognition to three people, including Lancaster Countian J. Robert Kindig.

Association members also conducted other business, and elected directors, however, that information was not available by presstime.

National DHIA serves as a liason for the DHIA System with other dairy industry organizations. The DHIA System is comprised of 32 affiliate DHIAs, 45 central milk analysis laboratories, and nine dairy processing centers. It includes more than 2,000 employees nationally and has a membership of more than 50,000 dairy producers.

J. Robert Kindig, of Conestoga, received the H. Victor Joachim Distinguished Leadership Award for his outstanding contributions to the dairy industry, according to a news release from National DHIA.

"Kindig has provided leadership at the state, regional and national levels of DHIA for over 20 years, including three years as National DHIA president (1989-1992)," stated the news release.

"He was also elected to the Pennsylvania DHIA Board of Directors, and served as its president."

According to National DHIA, C. William Heald, professor of dairy science at Penn State University, said, "In a time of vast changes for National DHIA, Pennsylvania DHIA and Lancaster County, Bob was at the helm, serving as chairman, or moderating the action in confidential negotiations, or trying to help others see the future, developing a new vision for new methods, compromising when things were in danger of disintergrating.

"The outcome is a vastly different DHIA community at local, state, regional and national DHIA levels," Heald said.

"The work is not done, but DHIA is surviving and getting ready for the 21st century as a force to serve dairy farmers. Quietly, Bob has been at the center of the whirlwind, making things right, as it appeared they were ready to fly apart.

"National, Pennsylvania and Lancaster DHIAs are all better because of Bob's leadership."

Kindig also has been involved with the Holstein Association, the artificial insemination industry, and 4-H clubs, among other community and professional service organizations.

According to the news release, "Through his National DHIA leadership, he has served as an instrumental board member on the Council of Dairy Cattle Breeding."

N. Alan Bair, with Atalantic Breeders Cooperative, headquartered in Lancaster, said, "I have come to appreciate Bob's tremendous ability to stay focused on the 'common good' of his fellow dairymen and the general public. His leadership and interest go beyond the farm, as witnessed by his commitment to his local school board, community and church."

The H. Victor Joachim Distinguished Leadership Award is named posthumously in honor of past National DHIA president H. Victor Joachim. The award is given annually to a DHIA dairy producer or spouse who has held a leadership position in DHIA or the dairy industry, and who the National DHIA board of directors feel has thereby made a notable contribution to the advancement of DHIA in the United States.

The recipient also needs to have demonstrated outstanding and unselfish service for many years.

Martin A. Wilson Memorial Award

Also receiving national recognition was Robert McCauley, general manager at Washington DHIA, in Burlington, Washington.

McCauley was the recipient of the Martin A. Wilson Memorial Award, an honor bestowed upon a person who is, or has been, employed by an affiliate DHIA in a management position for at least five years, and who, in the opinion of the selection committee of peers, has been dedicated to the improvement of, and provided leadership to, the advancement of DHIA.

According to the president of the Washington DHIA, Clifford Henning, "Bob has consistently kept Washington DHIA a leader in the industry since becoming its manager 22 years ago. He is a very knowledgeable, hands-on manager who possesses many qualifications that make him ideal for this award."

According to a news release, McCauley received a bachelor's degree in animal science from California State University at San Obispo in 1966, then went on to manage the Rainier School state institution dairy herd in Washington state for four years.

In 1972, he was hired as manager of Washington DHIA and currently has the second longest tenure of an affiliate DHIA manager in the country. (The current title for longest tenure belongs to Al Thelen in Michigan.)

A number of initiatives have happened at Washington DHIA since McCauley has been manager, including the first computerized meter inventory; the first laboratory in the United States to have a multi-spec, infra-red milk analyzer; the first laboratory in the West to send components to the processing center electronically; the first state-owned central lab to be fully computerized for data collection and transmission to the processing center; and the first state organization in the United States to have all herds keypunched remotely and then print in-house reports from the dairy records processing center (DRPC).

According to National DHIA, McCauley was also instrumental in the 1979 change from processing records at Washington State University to having it done at DHI-Provo.

Prior to that, in 1974, the Washington State DHIA, under McCauley, started a central accounting service for local DHIAs in the state and all local associations now use that service.

He also is credited with playing a key role in the implementation of the SPEAR program in Washington for in-barn data entry. Within a two-year period, the program has been implemented in more than 90 percent of the state's herds.

In other activities, McCauley initiated an international sample exchange program between DHI and other milk laboratories.

"He was also very active in the early trials and testing of the ProStaph test developed by VMRD in Pullman, Washington. Those two parties continue to cooperate on the development and testing of other analyses that will benefit the dairy industry," according to the news release.

In other capacities, he has been a member of a number of National DHIA committees, including the Technical, Rules, and Quality Certification committees. Most recently he served on the Rules Structure Committee of the Council on Dairy Cattle Breeding.

Outstanding Service

Another award was presented to Dr. Lyle Wadell, director of Cornell Dairy Records Processing Laboratory, in Ithica, N.Y. Wadell was named the recipient of the organization's Outstanding Service Award.

With 36 years of service to Cornell, and 30 years as director of the laboratory, "Wadell has frequently been at the forefront of data processing developments in the DHIA System," according to a news release.

During Wadell's tenure, the Cornell DRPL grew to serve 6,000 dairy producers with almost 500,000 cows.

The award is presented to a DHIA manager, university worker or dairy industry person who, in

Montgomery Holstein Club, DHIA Hold Meeting

KULPSVILLE (Montgomery Co.) — The Montgomery County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, and the county Holstein Club combined forces to hold their annual awards banquet on March 23 at the Towamencin Fire House, in Kulpsville.

After the dinner, Katie Sterner, county dairy maid, held a panel quiz. She asked two panels, made up of eight dairy farmers, veterinarians, and feed company representatives, to answer several sets of questions about dairy products and practices.

In awards presentations, the Holstein Club and the DHIA each recognized high production among respective members.

The Holstein Club recognized its members whose individual registered cows made top milk and milk component production, according to age class.

In milk production, among 2-year-olds, Merrmead Farms was recognized for the 23,996 pounds of milk made by Merrmead Royal Joan; among 3-year-olds, Wayne Hallowell's No.95 made 32,022 pounds of milk; among 4-year-olds, Hallowell's No.69 made 28,179 pounds milk; among aged cows, Harold and Tom Halteman's Indian Vale Chairman Colleen made 30,689 pounds milk; and among the senior aged cows, aged 10 years or more, the Halteman's Indian Vale Chief Charlene was tops with 14,094 pounds of milk.

In fat production, among the 2-year-olds, Freddy-Hill Farms' Freddy Hill Cleitus Clipper made 844 pounds; among the 3-year-olds, Harold Moser Jr.'s Moser Hill Skyler Katrina was tops with 974 pounds; among the 4-year-old's, the Halteman's Indian Vale Rebel Rudy made 1,084 pounds fat; among the aged cows, Freddy-Hill's Rebel Betty made 1,168 pounds of fat; while the Halteman's Indian Vale Chief Charlene made 509 pounds.

In protein production, the high producing 2-year-old was Hallowell's No.18, with 781 pounds; among the 3-year-olds, Hallowell's No.1 made 933 pounds; among 4-year-olds, Freddy-Hill's Likabul Lucy made 804 pounds; and the Halteman's aged cow and senior aged cows were tops with Colleen producing 902 pounds, and Charlene making 459 pounds protein.

The Montgomery County DHIA recognized members whose herds were rated highest producing, according to rolling herd average for production of milk and milk components.

For milk, fat and protein production, Patty-Run Dairy Farm was the top herd. Patty Run's herd had an average of 22,914 pounds milk, 844 pounds fat, and 720 pounds protein.

The second highest-averaging milk and protein herd was Wayne Hallowell's, with an average of 21,610 pounds milk and 710 pounds protein.

In fat production, the second-highest producing herd was owned by Roy S Kolb & Sons, with an average of 759 pounds, while George Seneko Jr. and Merrymead Farm tied for third with 732 pound herd averages.

Seneko's herd was third highest for protein production with 680 pounds, while the herd owned by the Fred Seipt family was third for milk production with 21,366 pounds.

In goat herds, Harold and Joan Stump, owners of Stump Hollow Aplines, received DHIA high milk, protein and fat awards. Their milking goat herd made an average of 2,645 pounds of milk, 90 pounds of fat, and 80 pounds of protein.

the opinion of the National DHIA Board of Directors, has been dedicated to the improvement of, and has provided notable leadership to, the advancement of DHIA over the years.

According to National DHIA, "The Cornell DRPC led in calf management programs, flexible report generation through the AIM program, on-farm computer support, and the Express package, bringing rapid turnaround. Dr. Wadell was also a leader in incorporating adjustment factors, AM/PM testing plans, age adjustment factors, and linear prediction procedures."

David Mollenhauer, a national director from New York, stated in the news release, "No one has worked harder to raise the level of records usable in national genetic evaluations than Lyle Wadell."

According to National DHIA, "This commitment to the United State's cooperative dairy industry has also been evident through Wadell's chairmanship of the national data processing manager's group and his adoption of exchange protocols with other DRPCs and electronic meter manufacturers."

Wadell earned his doctorate from Iowa State University in 1959, and his master's and bachelor's degrees in 1955 and 1957, respectively.

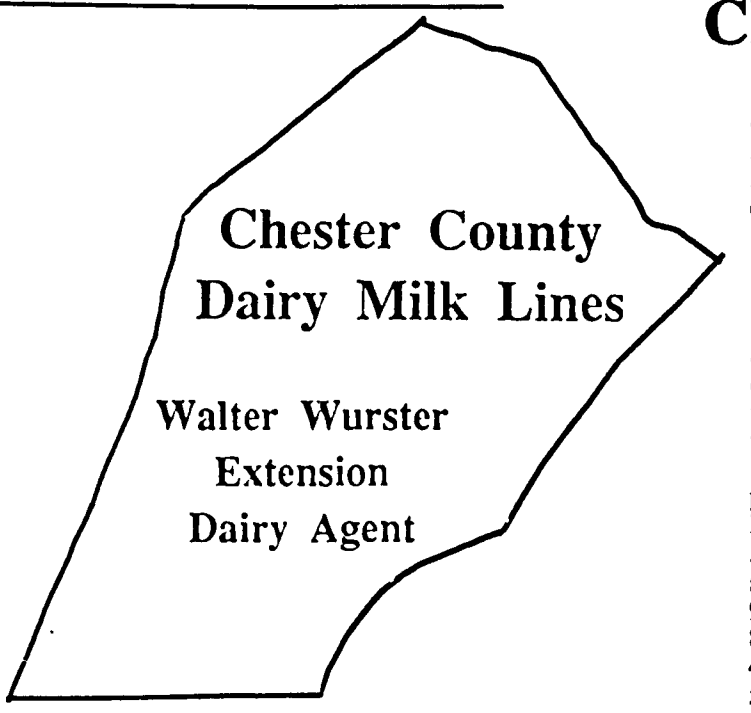
Chester Urge Merger With Pa.DHIA



WALTER WURSTER
Dairy Agent
Chester Co. Extension

WEST CHESTER (Chester Co.) — The directors of Chester County Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) unanimously voted on March 16 to recommend that their membership vote in favor of permanently mergin with Pa.DHIA.

Members will be receiving information on the merger and a ballot that can be returned, by mail, by May 18, in order for membership to make the final decision.

Voting can also be done in person starting 7:30 p.m., on May 18, at the Chester County Extension Office, located in Suite 370, Government Services Center, at 601 Westtown Road, near Rt. 202.

Members not casting a vote are to be counted as a "yes" vote, in favor of the merger.

A positive vote for the merger will result in Chester County DHIA officially ending as an organization, with its board of directors becoming an advisory committee to the state association. The directors will also decide on how the remaining funds are to be disbursed.

The directors reviewed several options before reaching the conclusion to merge.

Those options included a permanent merger; a conditional merger for another six months to a year; joining another DHIA organization; or returning to operating as an independent county organization.

With a very acceptable working relationship with Pa.DHIA over the past year, it was decided that continuing that relationship on a permanent basis was the best alternative.

Also, under the able leadership of Manager David Slusser, Pa.DHIA has made major strides in member relations and sound fiscal management.

Regardless of which option was accepted, a rate increase was a necessity by June 1.

If members have questions concerning the merger, or how the county funds should be disbursed, they should contact a director in their area.

Diretors include Dan Miller, president, (610) 869-2604; Dave Bartram, vice president, (717) 529-2163; Glenn Ranck, secretary/treasurer, (610) 932-3309; Jeanette Brooks, (610) 857-5715; Ken Brown, (610) 458-0965; Marilyn Hershey (610) 593-5998; Penny Moore, (610) 869-7539; Bob Peifer (610) 869-7359; Dave Stauffer, (610) 286-6920.

Dairy Barn Meetings

In other news, Chester County Extension will hold two barn meetings on April 5, to discuss and offer suggestions on how to handle and prevent foot and leg problems in dairy herds.

Dr. Dale Moore, Penn State Extension veterinarian, and M. Dale Herr, a foot trimmer from Lititz, will conduct the two-hour meetings.

Topics will include foot anatomy, weight distribution, proper foot trimming, and diseases such as laminitis, foot rot, and heel warts.

Feet and leg problems are more prevalent on dairy farms today. Many cows do not see pasture or excercise lots. In addition, heel warts/strawberry warts/hairy warts are showing up in more herds.

Milk production and profits can take a real nose-dive when cows have either acute or chronic foot problems.

Take a couple hours out of your busy schedule and attend one of the barn meetings.

SESSION ONE

Place: D.H. Lonehill Farm, David Horning, Honeybrook.

Pot Of Gold Calf Sale Opportunity

LIBERTY (Tioga Co.)—Cash awards and trophies are just two of the rewards that can come to a junior who purchases a Pot of Gold calf in the Pennsylvania Jersey Cattle Association's (PJCA) annual Pot of Gold sale. The calves, offered to juniors between the ages of seven and 19, are sold each year in conjunction with the PJCA annual meeting and spring sale.

The Pot of Gold Sale will be held on Saturday, April 18, at noon at Normandell Farms near Liberty.

"The Pot of Gold Sale is a great opportunity for juniors to buy good animals," said Jay Clark, of Lancaster. "And, they can earn back some or all of their calf's purchase price."

Jay, along with several brothers and cousins, built up their Jersey herds while juniors by buying calves at state Pot of Gold sales. Although Jay is now a practicing attorney, he still owns several cows in another herd and appreciates the opportunities that Pot of Gold sales offered.

"Pot of Gold calves were a good investment for me," he said.

Todd Stroup, of Topaz Jerseys, agreed. Many animals in his current herd of 110 milking Jerseys descend from Pot of Gold calves that either he or his wife purchased at state or national sales while they were juniors.

"It was a great opportunity to pick up excellent quality animals to build a herd with," he said. "You know you're getting a top animal because breeders put in their best calves so that they have a chance to have that calf win the Pot of Gold."

One of Stroup's favorite cows is an Excellent 92-4-year-old that made over 22,000 pounds of milk. That cow is a daughter of one of his Pot of Gold purchases. Another descendant of a Pot of Gold purchase is Topaz Satellite, 29J2959, an active sire at ABS.

But, even if calves don't produce show winners or A.I. sires, Pot of Gold purchases give juniors the chance to earn back some of their purchase price and still have a top notch cow.

Juniors between the ages of seven and 19 are eligible to purchase one of the designated Pot of Gold calves. This year there are six.

Twenty-five percent of the gross of the sale is set aside in a Pot of Gold fund. After the calves complete their first lactations, the juniors whose calves rank first in production win the "Pot."

Complete rules are printed in the PJCA Spring Sale and Pot of Gold catalog.

Catalogs are available by contacting David Norman, sale chairman, at (717) 324-5631.

Guild To Meet April 9

WESTMINSTER, Md.—The Blacksmith Guild of Central Maryland will have its monthly meeting Sunday, April 9, at 2 p.m. in the blacksmith shop at the Carroll County Farm Museum, 500 South Center Street, Westminster, Md.

The forge will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., giving those interested in becoming a blacksmith or learning more about the Guild the opportunity to observe blacksmiths at work.

Founded in 1986, the Blacksmith Guild of Central Maryland is dedicated to preserving and promoting the art and craft of hand-forged iron. A regional chapter of the Artist-Blacksmiths' Association of North America (ABANA), the Guild meets to share ideas, information and techniques. New members are always welcome.

For more information or for questions about blacksmithing, contact Guild President Todd Sparks at (410) 357-8374.

Thanks & Congratulations To

young people's planning group. He was president in 1962. He was also president of the Association of Young People of Maryland Farm Bureau. From 1967-70 he was president of the Frederick County Farm Bureau. He was vice president of Maryland Farm Bureau from 1975-80, and president at the state level from 1981-83.

The list of the committees he has chaired includes insurance liaison, membership, records and tax, dairy, and legislative. While president of Maryland Farm Bureau, Enfield appeared monthly on "Up On The Farm," a public service TV series on farm-related issues.

Enfield spent eight years as a 4-H'er (he was a 4-H all-star in 1969), then went on to devote 20 years as a 4-H leader. He was superintendent of the horse and pony department at the Frederick Fair, leader of the Frederick County Tractor program, and chair of the resources subcommittee.

He received the 4-H Leader Pin in 1973 and the state 4-H Alumni Award in 1983. With Shirley, he helped start the horse program at the county level and instituted the 4-H Horse Show at the fair. He was named Honorary State Farmer by FFA in 1981.

Appointments from American Farm Bureau include Northeast Ag Research Committee and the North East Cull Cow and Calf Marketing Study. Through the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, two years were spent on the National Advisory Council for research, extension, and teaching, and three years as chair of the FB/Grange Land Use Study Committee. He was a farmer panel member for two years at the University of Maryland Ag Forum.

Eighteen years have been devoted to Md.-Va. Milk Producers, 16 years spent as an agricultural representative on the Maryland National Bank Advisory Board, and six years on the Maryland Ag Commission, including chairing the commission from 1979-81. He participated in Frederick/Montgomery County DHIA for three years. He was on the board of directors for the Brunswick Co-op for three years, and has been on the district nominating committee for Southern States Co-op since 1989.

Enfield spent two years, 1992 and 1993, on the State Dairy Task Force. He and his wife are also charter members of the Frederick County Farm Museum.

Enfield has been very active in the Ag Land Preservation Program at both the county and state levels. He was instrumental in getting ag land preservation in Maryland. He has been involved with CLUE (Coalition for Land Use Education) and other programs for land use education and publicity, and participated in the Land Use Committee in Farm Bureau. He also helped start the "SLV" orange safety triangle plaque program for farm vehicles on the road, which subsequently became Maryland law.

Other affiliations include five years with the Brunswick Jaycees, where he held the offices of president, vice president, and treasurer, and involvement in local government. In government at the county level, Enfield spent nine years as an alternate member on the board of zoning appeals, two years on a government study commission, and six and a half years as president of the board of supervisors of elections.

Shirley Enfield, like her husband, has given selflessly to numerous organizations. She was area chair for the March of Dimes for three years. Nine years were spent as a member of the Brunswick PTA, including two years as president. A 4-H'er for 10 years, Shirley was then a leader of the Petersville Girls 4-H Club for 10 years. Thirty-nine years have been devoted to Farm Bureau.

She was secretary of the Association of Young People of Maryland, Frederick County Farm Bureau Women's Committee treasurer, and the chairperson of the Frederick County Farm Bureau Women's Committee for two years. In 1979 she received an award for outstanding program leadership. She also served on the safety and insurance committee and the scrapbook committee. She was Maryland Farm Bureau District 1 Director in 1979. She participated in the cows and crops discussion group for three years. With her husband, she was a charter member of the Frederick County Farm Museum, where she has sinced served on the food committee.

The Enfields are 40-year members of Brunswick First United Methodist Church, where both have been active for a number of years. They have been married 40 years.

As if they don't have enough to keep them busy with farming already, add Maryland's state sport, jousting, to the Enfield family's list of activities. Leon was the Maryland State Jousting Champion for eight different years, and was the national jousting champion in 1968, 1969, 1976, and 1978. He is a charter member of the Maryland Jousting Tournament Association. In 1966 and 1967 he was awarded the Bremen Trail Memorial Trophy for exceptional service in jousting by the association. He was president of the association from 1966-1970 and chair of the Maryland State Jousting Championship Tournament in 1973 and in 1979.

He has been involved with the National Jousting Association since 1979, and is a charter member of the National Jousting Hall of Fame.

Shirley is a 38-year member of the Maryland Jousting Tournament Association and was chairperson of the Fellowship Committee in 1991 and 1992. In 1975, she was honored with the Non-Rider of The Year Award. In 1990 she was inducted into the National Jousting Association's Jousting Hall of Fame.

Both Leon and his wife have been members of the Western Maryland Jousting Club for 18 years, and Leon has been on its board of directors since 1992. The whole family is involved with this sport, and there are currently three generations of Enfields jousting.

The farm has been in the family for 51 years. It was purchased in 1944 by Leon's parents, Bertram and Sara Enfield, who were born in Pennsylvania. Although they had been in the milk business, this was the first farm Enfield's family owned.

There are 207 acres, with an additional rented 105 tillable

Pa.DHIA, Other Cooperative Directors Hold Educational Seminar

From the left, front to back, is Fred Lovell, Cathy Smith, Luke Rebuck, Herman Bishop, Neal McCulloch, Dale Hoover, Duane Hertzler, Tom Crothers, Dave Kuhn, Edward Lipscomb, Vernon Horst, Gordon Hoover, and Thomas Powel, all cooperative volunteers and employees attendings a three-day education program.

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Twenty-three directors from 11 different agricultural cooperatives operating in Pennsylvania recently attended a three-day educational program held at the Scanticon Conference Center, in University Park.

The purpose of the program is to educate directors of cooperatives and provide them with knowledge and skills necessary to help lead their cooperatives into the future.

From Pennsylvania Dairy Herd Improvement Association, directors who attended were Luke Rebuck, from Northumberland County, Dale Hoover from Lebanon County, and Neal McCulloch, of Cumberland County. David Slusser, Pa.DHIA general manager, also attended.

Other directors who attended represented cooperatives operating in the state and came from all over the state, New York and Maryland.

The special event was called Director Education Week (DEW) and combined three educational programs: the 11th Basic Director Institute; the 2nd Graduate Director Training Program; and a management forum.

The program ran from Tuesday through Thursday.

The basic training program included study of board powers and responsibilities, managing cooperative finances, and legal aspects of directorships.

After being in different programs Tuesday, the basic and graduate directors, and the managers present, all participated Wednesday in a program that focused on education, trade associations and networks, the changing economic and institutional environment, and emerging trends in the market place.

The advanced directors later studied more in-depth financial management, proactive planning, leadership development, and issues concerning board perpetuation.

The faculty included industry and Penn State University specialists. Key speakers were Porter Little, of CoBank, Denver, Colo., Dr. Chris Peterson, University of Michigan, Rod Nilsestuen, of the Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives, and George Steele, a cooperative consultant from West Chester.

Avcrage Farm Feed Costs For Handy Reference

acres. The barn was "remodeled in 1948," said Enfield. "It had been a beef operation." There are 54 stanchions.

Milk is picked up daily from the 1,000-gallon bulk tank. The milking equipment was updated in 1981, at that time, a 2 ½ -inch milkline and a 3-inch vacuum line were installed.

In 1974, a 20x70 stave silo was added, followed by a 20x50 Harvestore high moisture corn unit in 1983, and in 1984 and 1988, two more Harvestores, 20x80, for haylage, completed the picture. Leon and his son Bob would like to add a freestall barn in the future.

Enfield Farm is, as of 1979, a partnership of Leon and his son Bob. Leon coordinates the operation and is primarily responsible for crop management, equipment, and feeding. Bob, married to Dawn, is herd manager.

Shirley has the responsibility of keeping the books, and also manages the grounds and gardens. She and Dawn both share the farm errands. Another son, Ken, is in the construction field. He and his wife Stacey help out whenever needed, as do daughter Linda Minnick and her husband Darrell, who are also in the construction business. They are a real asset when buildings need repaired or renovated.

In keeping with family tradition, Bob has served on the Frederick County Farm Bureau board of directors and is on the Frederick/Montgomery County DHIA board.

The Enfields milk between 85 and 90 head of Holsteins. Rolling herd average is 21,353 pounds, with 3.82 butterfat, 817 lb. fat, and 692 lb. protein. Somatic cell count is about 120-150k, it has been down as low as 80k.

There are 75 head of heifers. All replacements are raised on the farm. The herd has been closed for five years. Heat detectors are used, and Bob does the AI, breeding for "functional feet and legs and improved udders." About half the herd are purebreds.

The herd has earned Md.-Va. Milk Producers' "Quality Award" every year since 1988. The herd also placed first in low somatic cell count and second in the overall herd management categories in 1992 and 1993, as evaluated by Frederick County DHIA.

TMR has been fed since 1984—approximately 35 percent corn silage and 65 percent alfalfa haylage, on a dry matter basis. Cows are fed in one group. There is a microwave in the barn with a gram scale, used to check moisture levels a couple of times a week.

Bob has been working with nutritionist Bill Weiler, from Southern States, to computer-balance his TMR mix. It is balanced for 85 pounds of milk. There has been an increase in production and in body condition scores, which has helped with overall herd health, since Bob has had the resources of the nutritionist available to him.

Dry cows are fed in two groups—a "close-up" group, three weeks before calving, and a "far off" group. The far off group are together with the bred heifers on pasture, supplemented with TMR.

Calves are housed in individual pens, bedded with straw, from birth to two months. They are weaned at two months or 200 pounds. They then go to bedded pack group pens with headlocks, and stay there until they are about 700 pounds. At that point they go in with the breeding age group.

Breeding age heifers, over 700 pounds, are fed TMR balanced specifically for them. They also get what is cleaned out of the trough from the cows, so none is wasted. Heifers are bred at 830 to 850 pounds. Bob's target freshening age is 24 months — currently they are at 25.

A hoof trimmer is brought in once a year. The rest of the time, Bob trims hoofs himself when the cows go dry. Cows are body-clipped in spring to reduce heat stress.

The Enfields have had a long-standing commitment to utilizing environmentally sound farming practices on their land. Contour strip planting and crop rotations have been implemented on the farm to control erosion, and minimum tillage or no-till is used as indicated by soil types.

Approximately 90 acres of alfalfa are grown. Leon also grows 135 acres of corn, with about 30-35 acres going for silage, the balance for high moisture corn. Twenty-five to 30 acres of barley account for the balance of the cropland.

Holstein Association Makes Identification Easier

BRATTLEBORO, Vt.—Holstein breeders across the country now have many alternatives available to them when they are identifying their animals with Holstein Association USA Inc.

Realizing many producers were looking for ways to save time and money, the Association made changes to fit members' needs. Dairy producers can now use photographs or sketches, tags and tattoos, paper applications or computer disk applications, or the telephone to officially identify their Holsteins.

"One-side" Color Diagrams

Until recently, a sketch or photo of both sides of the animal was required to identify the animal. By using the One-Side/Sketch option, producers can submit a sketch or clear photo of the right side of the animal.

A metal USDA uniform series ear tag number is also required with the one-side sketch. Approximately 35 percent of the ID applications received by the Association now contain a one-side sketch or photo.

Many producers are finding the Association's "tagging" alternative a very efficient way to identify their animals.

A double set of tamper-proof ear tags or a single tag set combined with an ear tattoo can now replace the sketches or photos of calves.

By teaming up with Allflex, the Association has developed a tagging system that includes a management number designated by the producer and an Association identification number as well. Tags come in seven fade-resistant colors.

"The tags provide producers with a durable and visible on-farm identification system with the added benefit of being accepted for Holstein's identification programs," according to Neil Hammerschmidt, director of marketing and dairy herd services at the Holstein Association.

"As herds get bigger, labor is at more of a premium. Many dairy producers simply don't have the time to draw color markings. We already have more than 500 herds using one of the tagging alternatives, which clearly shows there is a need."

Tags can be ordered through an Allflex distributor using the new Holstein Connection Order Express™ system, or directly from the Holstein Association.

Paper and Computer Applications

Producers also now have choices in how ID applications are submitted to the Association. Paper applications may still be used. In fact, the Association is considering using "imaging" technology, which will allow scanning equipment to read applications into the Association's computer.

Producers with a computer system of their own can now submit ID application data on a diskette in a standardized ASCII file format, eliminating the paper application form entirely.

For producers that do not have a computer, the Association is working with several DHIA processing centers to develop systems for electronic transfer of ID information directly to the Association. This will save producers both time and paperwork.

Phone ID

Identification by phone is yet another option producers can use to save time. Programming was completed in 1994 to allow information on animals to be entered into the Association's computer system while the producer is on the phone with an Association telephone representative.

This option allows that Association to identify any problems or discrepancies while the producer is on the phone.

Once the input process is complete, a computer-generated application (complete with Holstein identification number) is sent to the producer. Signatures and sketches or photos can then be returned to the Association for final processing.

Holstein producers all across the country are continuing to see the benefits of identification alternatives. For more information about these ID options, call the Holstein Association at 1-800-952-5200.

Dairy Problem Solving Through Extension Downlink

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.)—Last June, the satellite program, "Dairy On-Farm Problem-Solving: The Process" introduced ag-professionals to a new technique in addressing their client's problems.

This program was so well received that a second showing is now scheduled for April 26.

This satellite teleconference will provide a continuing education opportunity for ag-professionals who advise dairy producers. This includes farm consultants, county extension agents, feed company representatives and veterinarians.

The five-segemented program will introduce techniques to a systematic approach when identifying, quantifying, and developing

It's Easy To ID, Control Triazine Resistance

EAST PETERSBURG (Lancaster Co.)—It's easy, according to agrichemical dealer Jim Bowersox, to identify triazine weed resistance in your fields. It's controlling those resistant populations, without sacrificing crop safety, that has become a major concern of his customers in the Lancaster area in recent years.

"We have triazine-resistant lambsquarters and redroot pigweed," said Bowersox, sales manager for Chemgro in East Petersburg. "Velvetleaf can be a problem in corn, but we've never actually identified it as being triazine resistant."

There are two keys to recognizing that you have a triazine-resistant weed population, according to Bowersox. First, when last year's small patch of escaped weeds becomes an unusually large patch the next year. Second, the escaped weeds are of one particular species, such as only lambsquarters or just pigweed.

"At that point, we could send them away to Penn State to be identified," he said. "But if we know you are getting good general weed control on all other species, it's a pretty good bet you have resistance."

To control triazine-resistant weeds, Bowersox said that Prowl® herbicide has been the "big gun" in his service area. "We don't have much else to choose from up front. We generally get pretty good results on redroot pigweed with full rates of Lasso® or Dual®. But it's the lambsquarters that can really be a problem," he said.

Due to heavy manure usage, whatever herbicide he chooses must also control burcucumbur, yellow nutsedge, foxtail, and fall panicum.

Though tillage would be another good option for controlling triazine-resistant weeds, no-till is on a slow growth trend in his service area, preventing some of his growers from turning to traditional weed control. Thus, Bowersox turns to several other methods using other herbicides and application methods.

When Harness® was labelled for the 1994 use season, Chemgro and its growers were quick to try the new herbicide.

Weather played a hand in giving the new herbicide a tough test its first year out. Bowersox says weather conditions were wet and cold early. "Ideal weather for injury," he says. In addition, it got really dry later in the season. Dry conditions, combined with a crop that was slow to canopy, meant late weed flushes that escaped through many herbicide treatments.

"Harness did just fine. There was some injury this spring, but none from Harness," Bowersox said. "And weed control results were good. On the triazine-resistant lambsquarters, it definitely has more activity than the other grass control products."

Harness was applied preemergence in both water and nitrogen carriers. In some cases, a triazine, such as atrazine or Bladex, was added as a tank mix partner.

Another method Bowersox recommends for controlling triazine-resistant lambsquarters and pigweed is to use a two-pass herbicide program. Though growers sometimes balk at the added expense of a second trip across the field, a postemergence broadleaf herbicide is another good option for controlling resistant weeds.

Right now, Banvel® is the main postemergence broadleaf herbicide he uses, in addition to some Buctril®. "And, we're looking at products like Permit®," he said.

Deere Day Integral To Dealerships

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.)—The history of John Deere dates back to 1837, when a blacksmith in Grand Detour, Ill. named John Deere fashioned a steel plow from a discarded mill saw blade that scoured itself clean in the rich prairie soils of the Midwest.

Deere's history in planting and seeding goes back to 1860, when Deere and the Van Brunt Company started selling grain drills, and in 1877 the Deere Mansur Works of Moline started producing corn planters.

In 1911, the Joseph Dain Hay tool manufacturing company was purchased by Deere and the plant was established in Ottumwa, Iowa, making a variety of hay making machines for the American farmer.

As agriculture in America grew, horse power was beginning to give way to tractor power, and in 1918 Deere purchased the Waterloo Gasoline Traction Company operated by John Froelich, who built the first gasoline tractor that would propel itself both forward and backward. In 1918, 8000 Waterloo boy tractors were produced, and Deere continued to produce them until 1923 when the first tractor to bear the John Deere name was introduced, the model "D". The years since then have seen a continuing parade of engineering advancements in a variety of models and power sizes that have won enthusiastic acceptance among farmers everywhere and made John Deere the leader in the farm tractor field.

Since 1937, John Deere Day has been an integral part of all John Deere dealerships throughout North America. The program is the catalyst for the local dealer to convey to his customers what's new from John Deere and to say "thank you" to his customers for their past business. During the winter months, the John Deere Day has been a tradition at all dealerships that continues today.

This year's show commemorated the 100th anniversary of the Deere-published Furrow Magazine. The Furrow is one of the world's oldest farm publications. Throughout the Furrow's history, its editorial pages have helped introduce new John Deere products and services, agriculture technology, and presented practical, useful information about modern farming methods, along with touches of human interest and entertainment.

In the 11 shows held this year from January through February, dealers in Southeastern Pennsylvania, Northern New Jersey, and Northern Maryland hosted 4,700 guests at their shows.

This year's meetings covered such subjects as the new 8000 series tractors, new MoCo's, and planters. a special report on global positioning farming gave guests in attendance an idea of the future in high tech farming.

Farmhand Introduces Self-Leveling Loader

GRINNELL, Iowa—Farmhand introduces the new GL545 loader. The GL545 is available with a two-way hydraulic self-leveling system which can be field-installed.

This new leveling system delivers peak performance without all of the pivot points, linkages, and grease fittings added by mechanical self-leveling systems. Best of all, the self-leveling cylinder on the GL545 Loader mounts below the loader arm to maintain a low loader profile.

The GL545 loader is designed to fit 2WD tractors up to 120 HP, and FWA tractors up to 60 HP. This Quick-Attach loader lifts 3,400 pounds to 10 feet 4 inches with a 4,700-pound breakaway.

The GL545 is available with many bucket and attachment options, including material buckets, bale spears, grapple forks, bale forks and more.

Dealer Contributes To North American Policy

CHICAGO, Ill.—Charlie Hoober of C. B. Hoober & Son in Intercourse, Pa., was in Chicago recently with a select group of Case IH dealers to participate in the year's first dealer advisory board meeting.

Hoober was elected by fellow dealers to join the Magnum and Four-Wheel-Drive Tractor Committee, one of seven advisory boards which helps develop and refine customer services, product design, and product support for Case IH customers across North America.

"It's easy to talk about being responsive to customers," said Herman F. Kosten, Case vice president, North American agricultural equipment sales. "Members of the dealer advisory board, like Charlie Hoober, make it happen. When they see a way in which Case can better serve them or their customers, they have the opportunity to do something about it. All of our more than 1,700 North American dealers receive the names and phone numbers of dealer advisory board members. Company personnel confer regularly with the dealer advisory board, and you'd better believe we respond to their suggestions."

C.B. Hoober & Son is a full-service Case IH dealer.

Case Celebrates Milestone

Marshman Elected Agway Vice Chairman

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—Robert L. Marshman of Oxford, N.Y., has been elected vice chairman of the Agway board of directors. He fills a vacancy created by the resignation of Charles C. Brosius, West Grove, who recently became Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture.

Marshman was first elected to the Agway board in 1989 and serves as chairman of the board's membership and energy/financial services information committees. He owns and operates Marshman Farms in partnership with his brother Dan, his sons John and David, and his nephew, Travis. They maintain a dairy herd of 550 registered Holsteins on the 675-acre farm which has been in the family for six generations.

Marshman studied agriculture at Cornell University and is active in many farm organizations. He is a former president of the New York Holstein Association and the Chenango County Farm Bureau. In his community, he served on the school board and is past president of the Chenango-Delaware Board of Cooperative Educational Services and the Oxford Lions Club. He received the Lions International Leadership Award in 1989.

A director to succeed Brosius on the 18-member Agway board will be nominated by committee members of director district 17 at a director nominating meeting on April 27 at the Holiday Inn, West Chester.

responses to on-farm problems. Farm records, inspection of animals, facilities, and feed delivery systems will then provide additional information for problem analysis when using this process.

Participants will be encouraged to expand their thinking and work cooperatively with other ag-professionals when examining farm problems. Practical exercises will allow participants to practice these principals.

A visit to a local farm will augment the information provided by the telecast. Time will be available to have participants' questions answered by extension specialists from Penn State.

Veterinarians and feed company representatives can earn professional continuing education credits by attending this teleconference. Five ARPAS will be offered to feed company representatives and 7.5 credit hours to veterinarians.

Penn State is charging $30 to cover the cost of the seminar notebook. Some down-link sites will have an additional local registration charge to cover lunch, and transporation costs to and from the farm.

Several regional county extension offices have agreed to support this program by hosting down-link sites within Pennsylvania, and other East Coast states. Contact your local county extension office to learn where the nearest down-link site will be located. Site registration at the down-link sites for the April 26 program will begin at 8 a.m.

If you have questions concerning this program, contact Carol Burns. She can be reached at (814) 863-0489. Her e-mail address is CMB#@PSUVM.PSU.EDU.

Ag Science Students Tour Lebanon Enterprises

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.)—Students and adults had the opportunity to view select sites in the Lebanon County area on Tuesday, March 21. Keystone Protein, Chestnut Hill Road, Fredericksburg; Gehl Manufacturing, Lebanon; Weng Crest Farm 2; and Thomas and Shirley Krall dairy facilities were the four businesses visited.

The tour, sponsored through the adult/young farmer organization, provides students and adults with the opportunity to view a variety of agriculturally related businesses and to learn about their career opportunities. The tour also allows for an exchange of ideas between producers and agribusiness persons.

Keystone Protein was the first enterprise visited. It includes a recycling plant for the inedible products of the poultry processing facilities. A water treatment and discharge plant is also located on the facilities.

Products such as meat meal, animal fat, and feather with blood meal are final products produced. The products are used in pet foods and dairy and beef animal feeds.

A complete water recycling facility complete with a laboratory is part of Keystone Protein. All water used in the solids plant is moved through various tanks, allowing processes using "bugs" to consume the solid wastes, which are later spread as sludge. Water is eventually returned to a nearby stream.

A family business, Keystone Protein is operated by Don Weaver and managed by brother Neal Weaver.

Gehl Manufacturing, an agriculture equipment manufacturing plant, was the second stop on our tour. The plant opened in 1990 and manufactures four styles of equipment with various models of each.

The plant features a vertical flow plant. Raw metal is bent, welded, or lathed into the parts needed and then assembled and painted.

Unloading wagons, spreaders (2 styles), and mixers are manufactured in the facility. A limited inventory of parts and finished product is kept on hand. A company plan is to keep investment down and distribute the equipment to dealer and producers as needed.

Weng Crest 2, a turkey growing facility, ownned by the Glen and Steve Wenger families, was another stop on the tour. A composting and beef feeding area were also observed at this stop.

Three-week-old turkey hens in a growing facility were observed. A recently installed water system for the poults fascinated students as the turkeys moved around to quench their thirst. Another interesting construction feature noted by participants was the ease at which younger birds could be moved to the growout facility.

A composting structure provides an efficient way of disposing of wastes and carcasses.

A bank barn with an extended feedlot area provides adequate housing for the beef portion of the operation. Holstein calves and steers are fed in the facility.

The dairy facilities of Thomas and Shirley Krall was the final business visited. Tom's construction abilities were visible. A recently remodeled free stall barn was observed. Additionally, the milking and storage areas plus housing for heifers and calves were viewed.

Feeds utilized by the herd were examined and identified. An explanation of the (total mixed ration) utilized by the herd was included. Storage facilities for forages were explained.

As a finale to the tour, students divided into groups for a scavenger hunt through the Kralls' facilities.

Lobaugh Resigns Post, Holstein Tour Set

THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams Co. Extension
Dairy Agent

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.)—It was a surprise when it came, the announcement by Adam Lobaugh, 344 Lobaugh Rd., Aspers, Pa., that he is resigning as president of the board of directors of the Adams County Holstein Association, effective April 1, 1995.

With his farm sale scheduled for Friday, April 7, and his intention to quit farming, Lobaugh stated his feeling that board decisions should be made by those active in the industry. An active participant in affairs of the Holstein Association since the 1950s, he will be sorely missed.

Lobaugh will be succeeded by Kevin Holtzinger, vice-president, who accepted the responsibility and presided at a board meeting at 1:30 p.m., on Monday, held at the Adams County Extension Office, Gettysburg.

Dairy Tour
Tuesday, April 4

Dan Waybright, chair of the tour committe, expressed confidence that 47 passengers will fill the bus for the Adams County Dairy Tour.

Scheduled to depart Gettysburg at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, April 4, the group will visit the Jed Beshore farm near New Cumberland and Em Tran, Inc., Elizabethtown before a lunch stop at the Country Table Restaurant, Mount Joy. Afternoon visits to the farms of Kenneth Zurin near Mount Joy and to Robert Rohrer at Washington Boro will conclude this tour.

Josie Riser reported that a letter will be mailed to prospective candidates for Adams County dairy princess. The decision on continuing the dairy princess program is contingent on locating qualified applicants who are willing to serve.

Holtzinger announced that the National Holstein Convention will be held June 25-28, at the Pittsburgh Vista Hotel, Pittsburgh. A pre-convention tour is expected to visit Gettysburg and other points in south-central Pennsylvania.

The meeting adjourned at 2:45 p.m., with the board agreeing to meet on April 4, while on tour.

"Charlie's new lagoon pump sure is fast!"
"That's because it's one of those new Van Dale 5000s."

Fast and powerful only begins to describe Van Dale's new line of Series 5000 Lagoon Pumps. The Series 5000 has the perfect combo of agitation volume and pressure to break up hard surface crust or bottom manure solids in even the largest lagoons or pits. And with up to 5,000 G.P.M. agitation capacity it can blast a stream of manure 100' or more in any direction to create easy to pump and easy to spread slurry. They are by far, the fastest and easiest operating pumps on the market.

W.Va. Holstein Seeks Consignments For Annual Sale

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. — The West Virginia Holstein Association is starting to make preparations for its annual cattle sale, set to be held August 26, in Moundsville, at the Marshall County Fairgrounds.

According to a recent news release, the organization is seeking consignments from breeders in West Virginia and neighboring states.

"Despite all the farm herd dispersals advertised in agricultural publications, the West Virginia (Holstein) group still believes that there are buyers that need to upgrade their herds, or to increase their herd size," said Merle Chaplin, a member of the state association's board of directors.

Animals considered for the sale should be either registered or qualified-grade female Holsteins, according to the association. No bulls will be considered.

The sale coordinator is Ivan McCombs, and Denny Remsburg is sales manager.

According to the news release, the association is seeking young animals that can fill the needs of youth seeking dairy project animals for 4-H or FFA, as well as cows in milk ready to add to the herd.

Both Remsburg and McCombs are to be visiting farms late April through early May to review potential animals for the sale catalog.

For last year's sale, consignments came from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, and West Virginia. A wide variety of pedigrees was made available last year, and the association is seeking to repeat that same quality and diversity for this year's sale.

Holstein breeders who may have a candidate for the sale should call McCombs at (304) 232-4543.

Jersey Sires Reaffirmed

REYNOLDSBURG, Ohio— The tremendous reputation enjoyed by U.S. Jersey sires was reaffirmed this month with publication of the first international genetic evaluations by the Interbull Center of the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences, Uppsala, Sweden.

Production data from daughters of nearly 2,500 sires from the U.S., Canada, and Denmark were combined in these genetic evaluations, resulting in bulls from different countries being compared directly to each other.

Of the top 100 sires ranked for transmitting protein production, 97 are from the U.S., and three are from Denmark. Of the three Danish sires, two were sired by U.S. bulls which had semen imported into Denmark.

The Interbull Center plans to continue these evaluations every six months. As the international genetic evaluations develop, more countries will be included in the program.

Sons and daughters of U.S. Jersey sires have consistently ranked among the best animals in countries which have imported U.S. semen.

International Interest in United States Jersey genetics is not slowing. Jersey breeders across the U.S. have reported recent calls from a variety of countries, including Mexico, South America, and Australia. In addition to purchasing semen from U.S. bulls, interest in embryos is also reportedly high.

Semen exports have risen from 45,161 units in 1985 to 289,087 units in 1993. If you are interested in purchasing U.S. Jersey Genetics, contact Jersey Marketing Service, 6486 East Main Street, Reynoldsburg, Ohio 43068-2362, phone (614) 861-3636 or fax (614) 861-8040.

BIG SPRING SALE!

McLANE

8 Models Available

21" MULCHING MOWER

Push and Self Propelled

(Also Available: 21" convertible mower for mulching or bagging)

Engineered like no other lawn mower in the world!

The new McLane mulching mower features a high-lift steel blade and a new deck configuration which create a super vacuum that holds grass blades upright for maximum cutting efficiency. The clippings are forced through a special recirculation chamber and down into the mower path for recutting. This recutting process is repeated over and over again until the clippings are pulverized into a fine mulch. This mulch is then driven deep into the lawn, returning nutrients and moisture to the soil. Grass clippings and leaves virtually disappear.

Pysanky Expert Breaks Artistic Secrets Behind Egg Folk Art

LORETTA GOLDEN
Cambria Co. Correspondent

JOHNSTOWN (Cambria Co.) — Cambria County abounds with a rich ethnic heritage. This is evidenced by the many different festivals held throughout the year featuring ethnic food, crafts, music, and dance. One person who is instrumental in trying to preserve a bit of the area's cutlture diversity is Anne Majcher.

Anne lives with her husband, Joe, and children, Matthew, age ten, and Carolyn, age nine, in suburban Johnstown. At the present time, this former full-time chemistry and physics teacher enjoys being a stay-at-home mom. She does teach adult evening classes a few nights a week and enjoys this as she feels that her adult students are highly motivated. She is also active in her church as an organist and choir director.

Springtime is a busy season for Anne because she volunteers quite a bit of her time to teach the centuries-old craft of making pysanky. She is quick to point out that this craft is from her husband's ethnic background and not something that she grew up with. She's basically self-taught—has read a few books on the subject, attended a few impromptu pysanky sessions, and has perfected what she does with a lot of practice.

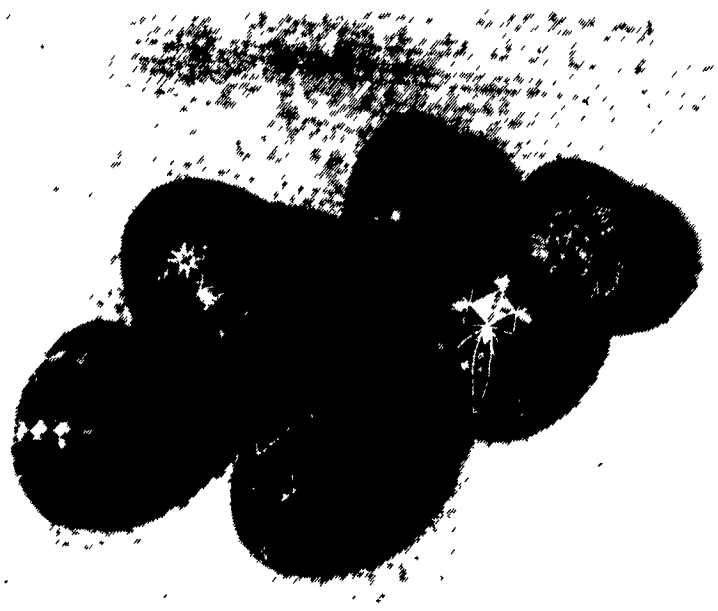
It's an art form that she's passing on to her children but does admit that Matt's pysanky seem to have a "sports" theme to them. She is quite proud of the fact that two of the eggs which Carolyn did last year received ribbons at the Ukranian Pysanky Festival.

Pysanky are raw multi-colored eggs which have been written on and intended as ornaments. Variations of this craft have been found throughout the countries of Eastern Europe including the Ukraine, Poland, and other Slavic-speaking nations. This is not a craft for an impatient person — a beginner can expect to spend approximately three hours on one egg.

In Anne's home, it is easy to see the results of her handiwork. Pysanky decorates the kitchen and dining area.

Anne said that one of the most important steps in the entire process is selecting a good egg. She admits to spending a good bit of time in the supermarket checking each individual egg. It (the egg) must be free of flaws. Any blueish-gray spotting or streaking on the shell indicates that the shell is weak. These spots are more easily seen by holding the eggs in front of a candle flame or bright light. This is called "candling" the egg.

Anne uses an ear syringe to blow out the insides of the egg. When preparing many eggs, as she does for school groups, this is easier than doing this with her mouth.



Before beginning, be sure that your hands are clean. Any hand lotion, cream, etc. will tend to leave smudges on your egg. The egg must be at room temperature and placed in a vinegar and water rinse to clean the shell. The vinegar better prepares the shell to accept the dye.

Anne covers all of her work surfaces with old newspapers and then clean paper towels as this is a messy process. At this point the "egg-sperts" disagree as to whether to work with a raw egg or one which has been hollowed out. There are advantages and disadvantages to both but the dying and wax application process is the same in either case.

Because quite a few of the persons attending her classes are beginners, Anne prefers to have the egg hollow. To do this, pierce both ends of the egg with a hat pin and insert this far enough, into the egg to pierce and stir up the yolk. Blow into the narrow end and the egg will exit through the wide end, which has been enlarged slightly. The inside of the shell should then be rinsed with a small amount of clear water. Pat the egg dry with a clean paper towel.

Now you are ready to begin applying your design. An easy way to divide the egg in half is to place a rubber band around the egg and trace around the rubber band very lightly with a pencil. In Christian terms the band symbolizes "eternity". Anne prefers geometric designs and quickly sections off the two faces of the egg and pencils in guide lines.

She is preparing a few dozen eggs for three classes which she'll be teaching at her children's school, St. Clement Elementary. The school children are eager to do their eggs and the school personnel feel that they are fortunate to have such a nice diversion. Each child will then have a keepsake ornament to take home along with a new appreciation for a different folk culture.

A kistka, is an instrument which resembles an old time fountain pen and is used to apply the wax to the egg. The tip of the kista is heated slightly and then beeswax (no other wax will do) is scooped into its reservoir above its tip. Again heat the kistka, slightly and the beeswax will be free flowing. Anything drawn on the egg with the kistka will remain white. Anne describes this as a very sophisticated form of "wax resist." At this time the holes at the top and bottom of the egg should be sealed with wax.

The egg is now ready to go into the first color of dye. This is the lightest color of the color sequence you wish to use. A traditional sequence would be yellow, orange, red, and black. Take the egg out of the dye and pat dry with a clean paper towel. Next, use the kistka to fill in any spaces, lines, designs, etc. which you wish to remain yellow. Dye in the next darker color. (Now you have some white and yellow protected.) Continue with the kistka and dye. After the last color is applied, dry the egg for at least ten minutes. No moisture can be on the egg for the last step.

At this point the egg looks rather messy since the beeswax is an ugly greenish-black color. It's difficult to imagine that this mass of wax is about to be turned into a work of art. The beeswax is removed by heating the egg near the candle flame and wiping off the wax with clean tissues.

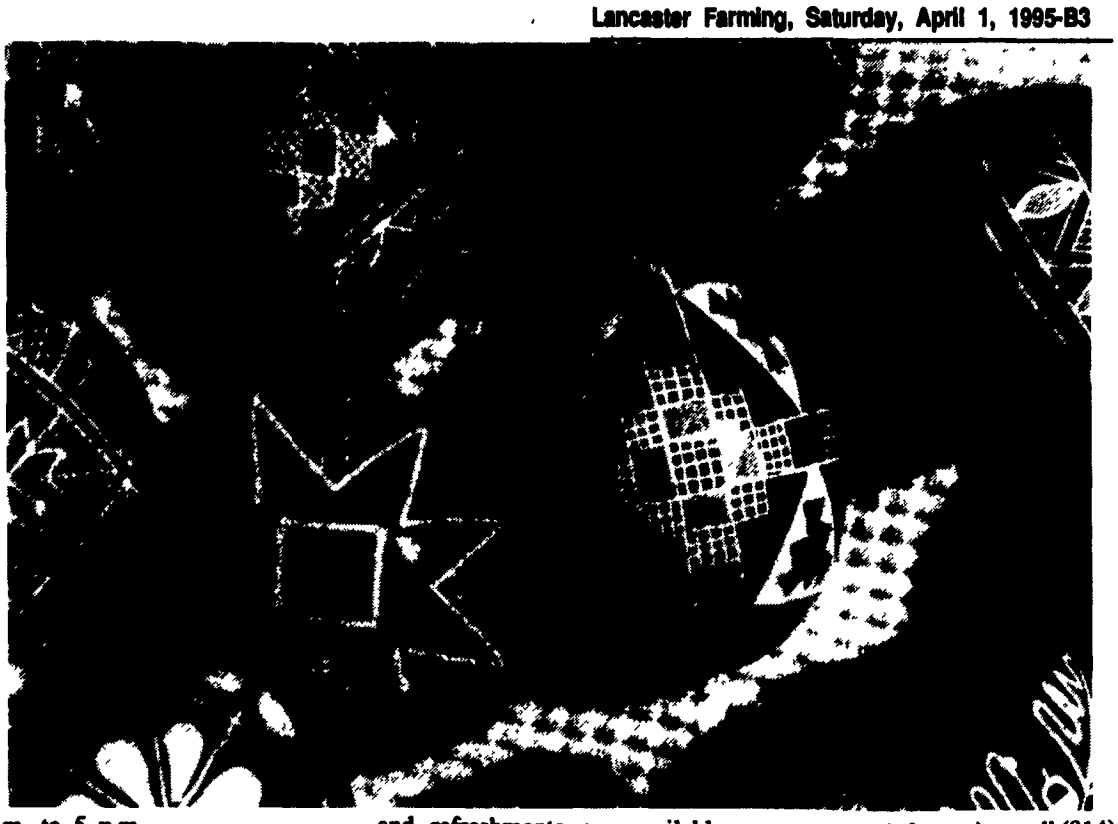
After the wax is removed, finish the shell with shellac or varnish. This protects the dyes. (Note: If the egg is hollowed after it is dyed, varnish must be applied before piercing the shell and expelling the insides.) Because a candle is used, along with hot wax, children are under constant supervision during classes.

The intricate patterns vary from egg to egg. Many of the symbols have Christian meanings, but in pre-Christian times the symbols had more agricultural interpretations. For instance, the symbol of wheat signified the life's work of the Ukranian peasant. Prosperity and wealth are symbolized by animals. Pysanky with these designs were believed to have a positive effect on farm animals and their good health. The unique history of pysanky shows people who respected nature and who worked hard to survive.

In the past the dyes used on these eggs were all natural dyes. Anne uses chemical dyes because they are readily available through a supplier and are easy to prepare for the large numbers in the classes she teaches.

A class, taught at St. Casimir Church in Johnstown, is open to anyone who has a willingness to learn this art form. Fifty people attended a multi-generational session and everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves. Because of the large crowd, there are two other instructors, Ron Wanko, who has been doing pysanky for more than 20 years and creates masterpieces, and Paul Yackulich.

The fourth annual Ukrainian Pysanky Festival will be held at the S.S. Peter & Paul Orthodox Church on St. Clair Rd., Johnstown, on Saturday April 8, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.



Egg demonstrations, a contest, pysanky sales, and baked goods and refreshments are available. Children ages 6-11 may decorate their own eggs.

Plan to Make the Most of Time

When I was in college, I received a coffee cup that was decorated with one word: "Procrastinate."

Although it was originally bought as a joke, the idea of "putting it off till tomorrow" fit (and still does fit, twenty years later) into my way of doing things far more than I'd like to think.

As much as I like to blame that familiar balancing act of job, home, and family, putting things off is a problem that is far more basic — tied up in the habits of self-management.

The truth of it is that "Gone with the Wind's" heroine, Scarlett O'Hara, is not alone in her decision to "think about that tomorrow."

Many people are dissatisfied with the way they spend their hours, days, weeks, and months. Use of time seems to be a universal problem. It is important to remember that people are the only "things" that can be managed. Time can not be managed (contrary to what is promised in workshop flyers), nor can it be saved — it can only be used. Becoming an efficient time user has many payoffs, including increased satisfaction, more relaxation, and much less stress.

Not getting things done is the result of two factors, according to time use consultant Alex MacKenzie. These are external ones, caused by other people, and internal ones, coming from within the person, herself. Although most people think of those external time wasters as the most important ones, the internal ones are the most common, and the easiest to fix because the person who is most easy to control is yourself.

To use time wisely, you have to control time wasters. Only through self-discipline and a dedication to change will you have the time to do the things that are important to you.

Jean Woloshuk of West Virginia University offers the following actions you can take now to become a more effective time user:

• ESTABLISH A PLAN to help you see all of the tasks you have to do. Set priorities so that the most important things get done. Break large jobs into many little tasks.

• USE A TO-DO LIST, writing down those things you want to accomplish during a day. Prioritize this list, and move from the most important item to the least important one. Stay with each task until you have finished it. This will give you a sense of accomplishment because you are now completing the tasks that are most important to you.

• USE YOUR "PRIME TIME, the time of the day when you're at your highest energy level to do the jobs requiring the most attention and effort.

• TRY DELEGATING TASKS to others who have more time. You don't need to do everything yourself. Remember to make this a positive experience for you and your "helper" by telling them what needs to be done, any time limits, and the resources available.

• LEARN TO SAY "NO" to tasks you shouldn't be doing. As Patricia Fripp, author of "Get What You Want" said, "There is no point in doing well that which you should NOT BE DOING AT ALL." Exercise control over your life so you can spend time productively on meaningful activities. Although no one can create additional minutes to add to the 24 hours he was allotted each day, there are ways to free up time to use it more wisely.

PRACTICE THE BARTER SYSTEM, swapping jobs with others in your family or workplace.

• USE SERVICES for pickup, delivery, travel and cleaning assistance (if resources allow). Some of these services may be free; others may pay for themselves when you are able to take time doing something far more important.

DO TWO THINGS AT ONCE — unload the dishwasher while talking on the phone, or exercise while you watch the evening news. Bank your waiting time by investing it in small tasks. Write store lists or meeting agendas while your car is being serviced.

• CLEAN THE CLUTTER out of your home and workspace. Throw away unnecessary papers, sell or give away unused items, and have a place for everything (this is the hardest step for me — yet to be mastered).

• ELIMINATE ANY HABITS that once made sense but are now time-wasters. As children grow older, remind yourself that part of growing up is taking over tasks that parents once did.

A good time user tackles projects with the belief that time is a most valuable resource that needs to be divided among important tasks, according to a plan. You are an important person, who needs time and space, not only to work but to concentrate and relax. Become "responsibly selfish," planning time use in a way that benefits you — and you'll find that this benefits others, too.

By making the most of your time, you can go a long way toward making the most of your life, gaining the freedom to do the things you thought you could only dream about.

Nutrition Education Made Fun And Easy

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)—Lancaster County cattle producers have teamed up with others around the country to help fund the production of two new high-quality nutrition education materials through the beef checkoff. The Discover Nutrition Tool Kit and the Lean 'N Easy—Preparing Meat with Less Fat and More Taste video kit both offer fun new ways to teach consumers to take charge of their nutrition habits. These unique programs are the products of a joint effort by The American Dietetic Association (ADA) and the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The Discover Nutrition Tool Kit was designed as a guide to implement nutrition education programs in supermarkets and restaurants throughout Pennsylvania and across the nation. The kit, which was created with an additional partner, the Food Marketing Institute, builds on ADA's National Nutrition Month campaign, "Discover Nutrition Anytime, Anywhere." It has been distributed to dietitians and supermarket consumer affairs professionals.

Part of an industry-wide effort to teach Americans about nutrition and healthful eating, the Discover Nutrition Tool Kit, succeeds in helping health professionals educate Americans in a fun, easy way. Dozens of "idea starters" including a supermarket tour with several themes, such as a "Spring Shape-Up Tour" and a "Focus on Food Safety Tour," take Pennsylvania dietitians and retailers through the year. Furthermore, how-to tips for promoting the "Discover Nutrition Lunch Club" along with details on how to host a Nutrition Day once, or several times a year, are included for Pennsylvania dietitians and foodservice operators.

A second project, the Lean 'N Easy video kit covers all aspects of eating meat as part of a lowfat diet — from how to choose lean meat cuts to healthier cooking methods. The educational program, featuring a registered dietitian, takes a humorous, yet educational approach to patients' fears about low fat eating, showing that it can be delicious, easy and not something to fear.

This kit was distributed to dietitians in a focused effort to teach consumers that by following just a few simple preparation and cooking guidelines, favorite main dishes can become even healthier. Other materials are included to assist the instructor in reinforcing the cooking principles demonstrated in the video.

On Being a Farm Wife (and other hazards)

Joyce Bupp

But I couldn't help it.

They just begged to come home with me.

Those little faces were so adorable, so appealing, so irresistible. All my resolve melted away. So I walked back to the clerk at the register, paid up and returned to make the final, tough decision.

Now. Which to choose?

A petite, white one had a sort of stately look to its face. The orange one with the blackish whiskers was especially perky. And the red one was a real eye-catcher; so was the two-toned blue.

No, no, no, not kittens.

Pansies.

While I admit to numerous bad personal habits, impulse buying is not usually one of them. But it does rear its head, however, when faced with a retail layout devoted to seeds, plants, and gardening. Sometimes I justify it in farm lingo — an investment in "breeding stock," some plant which can easily be propagated into a dozen clones for sharing, gifting or brightening the outside landscape.

Pansies are not for breeding stock. They're for fun.

And pansies come on the market at the very point in the year when we gardeners are most vulnerable. Not much else is blooming outside yet and the exquisite loveliness of colorful pansy faces offers bright color where there would otherwise be none.

New pastel shades bred into pansies in recent years make them even more attractive than before. The bright yellows and deep purples of classic pansies have been complemented with gentle shades of pink, pale blues and soft, blushing oranges.

But the fragile, delicate appearance of their beautiful bloooming faces is a cover-up. Pansies are tough. Dandelions are also tough, but pansies have lots more personality.

They're ruggedly durable, too. Those blooms will hold up through being covered with a couple of inches of late snow, sort of shake themselves off when it starts to melt and put a "wasn't that refreshing!" smile on their faces.

In fact, if started in late summer from seed and planted out in the fall, pansies will poke up blossoms during winter's warmer spells. My mom picked a pair of pansy blooms from one of her more sheltered flower beds about two months ago.

I never seem to be that well organized in late summer to remember to start pansies. Or can't find seed if I do think of it then. Luckily, the professional greenhouse folks plan further ahead and have them ready for us now, when we desperately need to satisfy those urges to kneel and stir around in the dirt.

Pansies do well in all sorts of containers that can be moved around outside to wherever a little color is wanted. Last spring, I planted pansies in a couple of large flowerpots and an old, blue-granite canning kettle that had developed holes from age and use, then grouped them on the semi-shaded patio where they could be seen from the kitchen. They bloomed for several months, until-mid-summer heat finally did them in.

But what color to choose? Faced with those wonderful colors of blooms, I just can't seem to make a decision.

Yeah, that was me, crawling around on my hands and knees through the pansy flats. Hunting the six-packs with six different colors in 'em.

Pansies are worth making a fool of yourself in public.

Raising Expectations

Forget everything you've heard about compact tractors.

MF 1200 Series Tractors and implements perform way beyond their size and price. Precise lawn mowing. Heavy duty weed and brush clearing. Serious gardening. Landscaping. Materials handling. Trenching. Even light field work. These tractors excel at jobs that used to require big, expensive, fuel-thirsty tractors and implements.

Standard features include water-cooled, 3-cylinder, diesel engines, 3-point hitch and high-capacity auxiliary hydraulics, and rear PTO. (Mid-PTO is also standard on the 1210, 1220 and 1230.) Chose two or four-wheel drive ag or turf tires, hydrostatic or synchro-shuttle transmission.

Nutty Recipes

When you want crunch, something to munch, excitement for lunch, nutritional punch, reach for nuts.

There are many different kinds of nuts. A nut that's popping up more and more in recipes is the pine nut. It is a seed called a nut that may be used in cooking, sprinkled in salads, in pesto sauce or eaten as a snack like sunflower seeds.

Pine nuts are seeds from a variety of pine trees. The nuts are eaten roasted or salted and may be used in making candy, pastry, and Mediterranean dishes. Pine nuts, sometimes called Indian nuts, pinons, and pignolia nuts, are available at health food stores, larger supermarkets, and farmer's markets

Pine nuts have a thin reddish-brown or whitish shell and are quite small but can be found up to 1½ inches. Although this seems like a fairly modern ingredient, Betty Light of Lebanon writes that she has cookbook that was printed in the late 1800s, which lists pine nuts as an ingredient for cookies.

For readers who have black walnut trees, 80-year-old William McPeak of Hackettstown, N.J. wrote that he found an easy way to husk and crack the nuts.

He dries the walnuts with the husk on screens. Cracking nuts is an art acquired only by experience, he writes. A light hammer will bounce off. Use a heavy machinest-type hammer. Lay the nut on a rock. Strike only hard enough to crack the shell and not crush the nutmeat. Use glasses to protect your eyes and keep fingers out of the way.

Nuts are often used as a garnish for topping casseroles. Try to match the flavor of the nuts with the flavor of the casserole. A robust-flavored nut such as black walnut might be too strong for a delicate fish dish. Almonds or pine nuts, on the other hand, have delicate flavors that complement the flavors of delicate dishes.

SPICED GLAZED NUTS

Mix together:
1 cup sugar
½ cup water
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon vanilla

Boil until mixture forms a firm ball when a small amount is dropped in cold water. Add 1½ cups nuts. Stir. Pour onto buttered plate to cool.

BLACK WALNUT CAKE

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup shortening
2 cups sugar
5 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups chopped black walnuts
3-ounces flaked coconut
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Cream butter and shortening, gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy and sugar is dissolved. Add egg yolks, beating well. Combine buttermilk and baking soda, stir until soda dissolves.

Add flour to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Stir in vanilla. Add walnuts and coconut, stirring well. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff peaks form. Fold egg whites into batter. Pour batter into 3 greased and floured 9-inch cake pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool layers in pans for 10 minutes. Remove and cool completely.

Cream Cheese Frosting:
¼ cup butter, softened
8-ounces cream cheese, softened
6¾ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and cream cheese. Gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Stir in vanilla.

Mary Stickley
Flinstone, Md.

BASIL PESTO

This uncooked seasoning may be used on pasta, about 2 tablespoons to a portion, with equal parts of butter; or 1 tablespoon to a dish of minestrone or on a baked potato. May be made in advance and stored in a cool place. Run a film of olive oil over the top before covering and store refrigerated.

Pound in a mortar about:
1½ cups fresh basil leaves

Parsley may be substituted, but the flavor is very different.
2 cloves garlic
¼ cup pine nuts

Add, until it forms a thick puree:
About ¾ cup thinly grated parmesan cheese

When the mixture is really thick, add very slowly, stirring constantly until the consistency of creamed butter:
¾ cup olive oil

Different varieties of nuts offer many different flavors. Some varieties are interchangeable, but try to match the mild food flavors with mild-tasting nuts.

PRESSURE COOKING NUT BREAD

1 egg
½ cup granulated sugar
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
2½ cups flour
1 cup nuts

Combine egg with sugar and beat lightly. Add milk and sifted dry ingredients. Add nuts. Grease mold and fill ⅔ full. Cover mold with three thicknesses of waxed paper and fasten with rubber band or string. Place 3 cups water in pan with rack in place. Put mold on rack, cover pan and turn on heat. When steam flows from vent tube, reduce heat to medium and allow steam to flow for 30 minutes. Set control on vent tube at 5 and cook for 30 minutes after control jiggles. Cool instantly by placing pressure cooker under the faucet.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND OATIES

1 cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
¾ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
3 cups rolled oats
1½ cups chopped natural almonds, toasted
6-ounces semi-sweet chocolate morsels

In large bowl, cream butter with sugar, eggs, vanilla, and almond extract until fluffy. Combine flours, salt, and baking soda; blend into creamed mixture. Stir in oats, almonds, and chocolate morsels. Chill 30 minutes. Drop teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in 350 degree oven about 10 minutes until lightly browned. Cool on racks. Makes about 6 dozen.

SEVEN LAYER COOKIES

¼ cup butter, melted
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1 cup chocolate chips
1 cup butterscotch chips
1 cup coconut
1 can condensed milk
1 cup chopped pecans

Melt butter in 9x12-inch pan. Layer remaining ingredients in order listed. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool. Cut in bars or squares.

PINE NUT DIAMONDS

Quick, easy — and unusual! Put through a food chopper:
1 cup dates
1 cup pine nuts
¼ cup candied pineapple

Pound in mortar. Moisten with about 1 tablespoon orange juice. Spread on a plate to dry. Cut in diamond shapes. Dip in confectioners' sugar. Serves 6.

If desired, put a dollop of whipped cream on top when ready to serve.

For homemakers eager to find ways to cut preparation time in the kitchen but wanting to serve nutritious, great-tasting muffins, the answer may lie in preparing a make-ahead baking mix.

The baking mix combines dry ingredients that may be stored in a tight container in the cupboard for up to six weeks or in the freezer for six months.

From this prepared mix, a portion is removed whenever you want to make muffins. Liquid ingredients are added and the mixture is ready to bake.

OAT BRAN BAKING MIX

2 cups all-purpose flour
2 cups whole-wheat flour
2 cups whole bran cereal
1 cup oat bran
½ cup nonfat dry milk powder
½ cup packed brown sugar
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt

Mix ingredients together in a large mixing bowl. To store, transfer mix to tightly covered container. Keeps six weeks at room temperature or up to six months in the freezer. Makes 8 cups.

For Zucchini Muffins, use the following ingredients:
1 cup oat bran baking mix
1 slightly beaten egg white
3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1 tablespoon honey
½ teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
½ cup shredded zucchini
Non-stick spray coating

In a large mixing bowl, stir the oat bran baking mix. In a medium mixing bowl, stir together egg white, water, vegetable oil, honey, and pumpkin pie spice. Add egg white mixture to the baking mix all at once. Stir just until moistened. Fold in zucchini.

Line four muffin cups with paper bake cups or spray with non-stick spray. Spoon batter into muffin cups. Bake in 400-degree oven for 18 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve warm. Makes 4 muffins.

Each muffin contains 145 calories, 4 grams fat, 5 grams protein, 27 grams carbohydrate, 230 milligrams sodium.

TOFFEE-NUT GRAHAM

48 half graham crackers, broken into sections
½ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup margarine
½ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅔ cup finely chopped nuts

Arrange graham cracker sections on cookie sheet. Combine brown sugar, margarine, and butter. Boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Pour over graham crackers and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

Sprinkle nuts on top during the first 5 minutes of baking and continue baking. Remove from oven. Cool. Place in tightly covered container.

PINE-NUT AND APPLE PIE

1½ quarts tart apples
Pastry for 10-inch pie crust
1 cup brown sugar, packed
Pinch salt
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
½ cup pine nuts
2 tablespoons butter

Pare, core, and slice apples. Roll the pastry and cover the bottom of the pie pan. Arrange apples evenly in the shell. Mix together brown sugar, salt, ginger, flour, and pine nuts. Sprinkle over the apples. Dot with butter. Cover with top crust. Cut pine-tree design in top crust to act as a vent. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 40 minutes more.

PINE NUT DUNK

BACK TO NATURE COOKIES

½ cup butter
¾ cup packed brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups rolled oats
¾ cup chopped natural almonds, toasted
½ cup wheat germ

In 3-quart saucepan over medium heat melt butter and sugar, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Mix in remaining ingredients to blend thoroughly. Pat evenly into greased 9x13-inch baking pan. Bake in 325 degree oven about 40 minutes until lightly browned and nearly firm to the touch. Cool 10 minutes. With sharp knife cut into bars about 1½ x1-inches. Remove with spatula to racks to cool completely. Store in airtight container. Makes about 6 dozen.

CHOCOLATE DREAM NUT BARS

½ cup brown sugar, packed
⅓ cup butter, softened
1 cup flour

Chocolate filling:

2 eggs
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
6-ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Chocolate glaze:

2 tablespoon dark unsweetened cocoa
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons water
1 cup confectioners' sugar

Mix the half cup brown sugar with ⅓ cup butter and 1 cup flour until crumbly. Press the mixture into a 13x9x2-inch baking dish to make an even layer.

Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes or until golden brown and crust fees firm.

In large bowl, beat eggs with the one cup brown sugar and vanilla until thick and frothy. Stir in cocoa, 1 tablespoon flour and baking powder. Blend in the chocolate chips and nuts. Spread mixture over the baked layer. Return to the oven. Bake for 15-20 minutes or until top is crusty and dry. Cool.

For glaze: mix the cocoa, butter, and water in a saucepan. Place over low heat. Cool, stirring until smooth. Beat in sugar. If needed, add more water.

Spread chocolate glaze over bars. When glaze is set, cut into bars.

QUESTION — Andy Andrews, Brownstown, would like a recipe for pumpkin-flavored candy apples.

Our Daily Bread Casserole

1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped pepper
1½ pound ground beef
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 can water
1 cup grated sharp cheese
1 pound cooked spaghetti
¼ cup grated sharp cheese

Saute onion, pepper, and ground beef. Combine soups, water, cheese, spaghetti, and meat mixture. Pour into large casserole pan and top with ¼ cup grated cheese. Bake at 375 degrees for one hour. May divide mixture into two casseroles and freeze one for later use.

Saucy Little Meat Loaves

Meat loaf:
1½ pounds ground beef
¾ cup oatmeal (uncooked)
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup milk

Combine:
⅓ cup ketchup
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

ANSWER — Yvonne Musser, Lancaster, wanted a recipe for buckwheat pancakes that cook high and light with a brown crusty edge. Thanks to Sarah Clark, Breezewood, for sending a recipe that was previously sent in by Howard McMillin, Westfield.

Buckwheat Cakes

4 cups buttermilk
1 cup packed brown sugar
2 pounds buckwheat flour
½ cup yeast
Salt to taste
1 teaspoon baking soda

Combine buttermilk, brown sugar, buckwheat flour, yeast and salt in a large crock; mix well.

Remove 4 cups batter. Add baking soda and enough water to make batter the desired consistency. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto hot griddle. Bake 3 to 4 minutes on each side or until browned. Store remaining batter in refrigerator for several weeks until ready to use. Yield: 30 servings.

ANSWER — Beth Ehrisman, Richfield, wanted a recipe for Pizza Hut's bread sticks and deep dish pizza dough. Thanks to Sarah Clark, Breezewood, for sending a recipe.

Bread Sticks

1½ cups warm water
4 cups flour
1¼ teaspoon salt
1 package dry yeast
1 tablespoon oil
1 tablespoon sugar

Mix together everything in mixing bowl except 2 cups flour. Beat with a mixer for 2 minutes. Add remaining flour and knead a few turns. Cover and let rise. Roll out into a square that is ½-inch high. Use a pizza cutter to cut strips 1x4-inches. Twist, roll in butter mixture and place on cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Take out of oven and brush with remaining butter spread. Serve warm with pizza sauce for dip.

Optional: Add about 1 to 2 teaspoons McCormick Salad Supreme Seasoning to the dough. It adds a bright color to the breadsticks.

ANSWER — Doris Brenize, Shippensburg, wanted the recipe for starter juice for the Hawaiian Friendship Fruit Cake that was printed in this paper on Feb. 18. Thanks to Sarah Clark, Breezewood, for sending the recipe.

Starter For Friendship Cake

6 ounces frozen apple juice concentrate, thawed
3 apple juice cans water
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 package active dry yeast
10-ounce jar maraschino cherries and juice

Combine all ingredients in one gallon jar or large container. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Cover and let stand for 10 days, stirring twice a day for 10 days. Use one pint to start your cake. Give others to friends.

PORK AND ASPARAGUS IN GINGER SAUCE

1 pound pork tenderloin
3 tablespoons reduced-sodium soy sauce
3 tablespoons chicken broth
2 teaspoons grated fresh ginger
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
10-ounce package asparagus pieces, defrosted
1 small red bell pepper, cut into thin strips and halved
1½ teaspoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons toasted sliced almonds

Partially freeze pork tenderloin to firm; slice across the grain into ¼-inch thick strips. Combine soy sauce, chicken broth, ginger and garlic. Place pork strips and marinate in refrigerator one hour.

Stir-fry pork strips in batches according to size of the pan, turning constantly. Remove pork from pan with slotted spoon; reserve. Stir-fry asparagus and red pepper strips in batches; 1 to 2 minutes or until heated through. Remove from pan. Combine cornstarch with reserved marinade, pour into pan, and cook and stir until sauce thickens. Return pork and vegetables to pan; heat through. Garnish with almonds. Serve immediately. 4 servings.

TOFFEE-TOPPED NUT BARS

2 cups light brown sugar
2 cups flour
½ cup butter, softened
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
⅔ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup coconut

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly grease a 13x9x2-inch baking pan. In a large bowl, add the brown sugar and flour. Using a pastry cutter or two knives cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Remove one cup and set aside. Add baking powder and salt. Using a fork, lightly beat in vanilla, milk, and egg. Continue beating with a fork until a smooth butter forms. Pour batter into prepared pan. In a small bowl, combine chocolate chips, nuts, and coconut. Mix all together. Sprinkle reserved crumb mixture over top of batter. Sprinkle with chocolate chip mixture evenly over the top. Using a long flat spatula, spread topping evenly over the top of the batter in pan. Bake for 35 minutes or until it tests done. Transfer pan to a wire rack. Cool bars in pan completely before slicing. Using a serrated knife, cut into about 24 bars. Store in airtight container for up to five days.

Cloisters To Exhibit Rare Manuscripts

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)—A special exhibit of rare manuscripts from the German religious community of Ephrata Cloister will open on April 21st at The State Museum of Pennsylvania.

The exhibit, "Early American Illuminated Manuscripts from the Ephrata Cloister," has been organized by Smith College Museum of Art. It reunites many of the original Ephrata Cloister manuscripts for the first time since their creation some 250 years ago and features a collection of items selected from museums and libraries throughout the east coast—including the Library of Congress and the Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

"This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to view the manuscripts in one exhibit," according to Michael Showalter, museum educator. "There are no plans to do this again anywhere in the country."

Scholars of folk art refer to these manuscript treasures by the German term Fractur, meaning fractured writing, eluding to the open spaces in the lettering. Members of the cloister produced manuscripts in many forms: music books, wall charts filled with religious sayings, and book inscriptions.

In conjunction with the opening of the exhibit, the Ephrata Cloister chorus will perform a free concert of music on Sunday, April 23, at 2 p.m. in the museum auditorium.

The chorus, under the direction of Dr. J. Daryl Hollinger, will present a program including music written by Cloister members and other early American composers. The Friends of the State Museum are sponsoring a special bus trip and tour of the Ephrata Cloister on May 15. On Saturday, May 20, a beginning calligraphy workshop will be offered at the State Museum. Registration and a fee are required for the trip and workshop. To register for the trip and workshop, call (717) 787-6590.

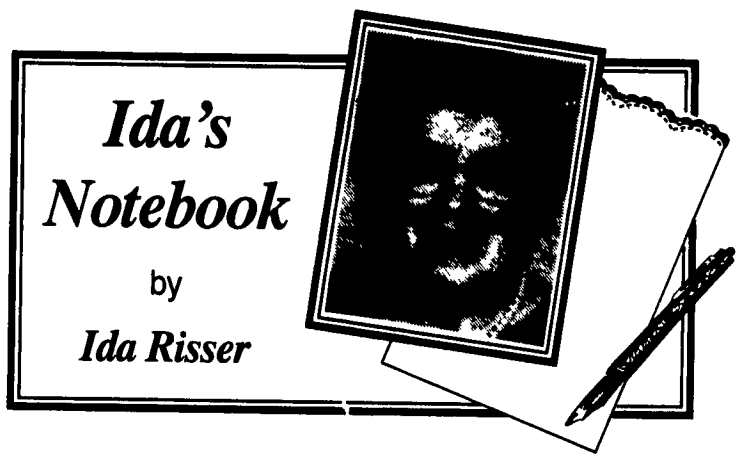
"The Ephrata Cloister represents one of America's earliest communal societies," said Showalter. "The Lancaster County community of religious celibates practiced an austere lifestyle which emphasized spiritual and mystical goals rather than material objectives."

The Ephrata Cloister and the State Museum operate under the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. The State Museum of Pennsylvania is located at Third and North Streets, Harrisburg. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. For more information call (717) 787-4978. Individuals with disabilities who need special attendance or accommodation should call (717) 787-4979 or the Pennsylvania TDD relay service at (800) 654-5984.

Toddler's Topics

COLLEGEVILLE (Montgomery Co.)—Are you feeling guilty that the TV and VCR have become the primary entertainment in your toddler's life? You're not alone with this problem and there are many simple TV-free activities to try instead. Information on this and many other topics of interest are covered in a free learn-at-home series by Penn State Cooperative Extension for parents of preschoolers.

To request your free copy of "Toddler Topics" call the Montgomery County Cooperative Extension office at (610) 489-4315.



We had enough warm and sunny days so that Allen could rototill the garden. Now the sugar peas are planted in a 100-foot double row so that a fence can be put up to support them. It is a job to drive posts for a fence but then the six-foot high peas are easy to pick.

Our daughter in Atlanta tells us that her spring flowers are finished blooming. I'm lucky to have forsythia blooming in the house as I forced some blossoms by bringing them indoors a week ago.

In regard to our Florida trip, I'd like to finish telling you about our journey homeward. We left the Orlando area and traveled to Silver Springs. Here the artesian springs are the world's largest. We went in a glass-bottom boat and could see 40 feet below the surface. Allen and I had been there before on our wedding trip and at that time we saw many more fish.

The same day we had a jeep safari ride and saw many unusual animals. This was followed by a jungle voyage on a larger boat. Some of the giraffes in their zoo were 18 feet tall. My husband bought a sign in a gift shop for our 12th and youngest grandchild—it said "Bryan Blvd."

Our next stop was Savannah where we had a guided tour of the city. One house that we visited was the "Isaiah Davenport" home and it was built in the early 1800s the same as our farm house in Lancaster County and it was quite similar.

All along the way we checked license plates and at the end of the trip we had identified 46 different ones. We were too well fed and decided that we better eat a lot of grapefruit when we got home.

The One Spreader Big Enough For Poultry Litter, Rugged Enough For Lime.

The Stoltzfus Poultry Litter Spreader is specifically designed for the demands of this challenging job. The 20 foot hopper holds a whopping 400 cubic foot load, meaning fewer trips for you. The big 30-inch drag chain moves large volumes of litter fast. And the dual hydraulic spinners spread a wide, uniform pattern up to 40 feet wide.

But its real beauty may be its versatility. Now you can spread fertilizer, stockpiled lime, compost, poultry litter and more, all with one machine.

Long considered "top-of-the-line" ag spreaders, many Stoltzfus Spreaders are still in use after 20 years. That makes a Stoltzfus Spreader preferred not only for quality and performance, but also for terrific economy in the long run.

Sure you can settle for buying on initial price alone. But with a Stoltzfus Spreader you won't be shopping for another spreader just a couple years down the line.

POURED SOLID CONCRETE

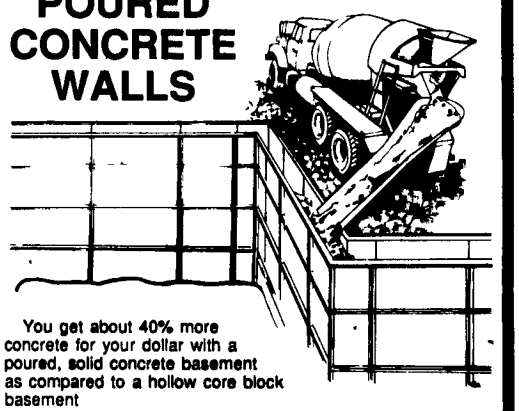
START WITH THE BEST!

POURED CONCRETE WALLS



You get about 40% more concrete for your dollar with a poured, solid concrete basement as compared to a hollow core block basement

A poured solid concrete basement weighs about 50 lbs more per cubic foot! Far denser What's more, poured solid concrete walls are monolithic there are no joints!

This is why laboratory tests show poured, solid concrete basements have many times the flexural and compressive strength to withstand the side and down pressures caused by earth, wind, water and building loads and the material density to resist water penetration

Best of all, thanks to modern and efficient construction techniques, poured, solid concrete basements are competitively priced

Solid Concrete For:

- Manure Pit Walls
- Hog House Walls
- Barnyard Walls
- Chicken House Walls

Fourth Graders Get Ag Day Lesson

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

FAWN GROVE (York County) — "How many of you like to eat?" was a question recently asked the fourth graders at the Fawn Grove Elementary School.

Every student shot a hand up in the air. Most of the hands went up again when the question was asked how many of the students and their families grew food in gardens at home. But only a few hands waved in the air when visiting speaker Gail McPherson asked how many lived on farms where people raised food for others as their way of making a living.

Fawn Grove Elementary School is located in a rural community, but only a few of the 56 children in the two fourth-grade classes live on farms. So Mrs. Hash and Ms. Whitaker, the fourth-grade teachers, invited a farmer, Gail McPherson, to visit with their class during National Agriculture Week.

Gail McPherson and her husband and family raise several hundred acres of orchard and grain crops just a few miles from the school. They also operate a land improvement business for building soil conservation improvement practices, like hillside terraces and ponds.

Fourth-graders at Fawn Grove Elementary School will learn more about agriculture with "The Farming Game," given by Gail McPherson when she visited their classes for National Agriculture Week.

Fruit and grain grower Gail McPherson talks with fourth-graders at Fawn Grove Elementary School about modern farming methods.

Several of the fourth-grade students dressed up with hats Gail McPherson brought along to show some of the many different kinds of jobs a farmer might do. Included in her hat show were the traditional baseball-style "farm cap," a beekeepers hat with net to protect against stings to the face, a hard-hat with ear protection against noise, a floppy straw hat that could protect against the sun while harvesting berries and a hat and plastic gloves to be used for safety when working with crop-protection materials.

Students also talked with Gail McPherson about how wooded areas and fencerows on farms supply cover and homes for many types of wildlife. They passed through the classroom a series of large, colored pictures showing soil conservation methods which help keep the water clean and prevent ersoion.

Fawn Grove fourth-graders donned hats to learn about the many jobs a farmer must be able to do.

Jimi Nomikos reads a radio-spot announcement about agriculture to his fourth-grade classmates at Fawn Grove Elementary School. Listening also are his teacher, Mrs. Hash, at right, and farmer Gail McPherson.

Mrs. McPherson told the students about some different uses for farm crops, like newspaper ink made from soybeans. She explained another interesting product, made from corn, which is used to melt ice on highways during the winter and is more friendly to the environment than salt products which have been used in the past. The classes also talked about the many careers that are related to agriculture.

So that the fourth-grade classes can continue to learn about agriculture, Gail McPherson gave them the gift of "The Farming Game." This game is similar to monopoly, and players can farm, buy and sell land, crops and machinery, take chances on the weather and either be profitable or lose money, depending on their skill and the luck of the game.

Attention, Kids

Kids, surprise your mother, father, grandma or grandpa, by sending us a little write up about them. If you have a photo, please include one with the story. If you prefer to draw a picture, you may include that also.

Cumberland County Holds 4-H Dairy Banquet

BETH MILLER
Cumberland Co. Correspondent

NEWBURG (Cumberland Co.)—Many well-deserved awards were given out during the 39th annual Cumberland County 4-H Dairy Banquet at the New Hope Church.

The Achievement Award went to Betsy Walton, daughter of Kathy and David Walton.

Becky developed a 4-H record, a videotape to complete the Blue Form, to win a statewide honor in 1994. She also served as the treasurer of the County-Wide Club and was named outstanding 1994 treasurer during the county's 4-H achievement banquet.

Becky has completed nine years of 4-H Dairy Club work.

The honor for Outstanding Member went to John Leib Jr., son of Glenda and John Leib.

John's many activities included attendance at club activities and meetings that was well above average. In addition, he participated at 4-H Days in dairy judging, showed animals at the county, district and state level competitions, completed the teen leadership project, and completed records on nine animals.

John has completed eight years of 4-H Dairy Club work.

Julie Dyarman, daughter of Deb and Randy Dyarman, captured the Merle Miller Award.

Julie had one of the best attendance records among the 4-H'ers and presented her project in an excellent fashion. Like Lieb, Dyarman showed project animals at county, district, and state contests. She completed records on six animals.

Julie has completed nine years of 4-H Dairy Club work.

The First Year Member Award was won by LeAnn Witmer, the daughter of Wendy and David Witmer.

LeAnn earned that honor by maintaining one of the highest attendance scores among club members and by obtaining the highest fitting and showing scores posted for first-year members.

She also received the highest score on her first-year project book.

Award sponsors included the Cumberland Valley Cooperative for the Outstanding First-Year Member Award and the Farm Credit Association for the Outstanding 4-H Dairy Member Award.

Club members weren't the only ones who left the banquet with some honors. Some of the "old-timers," the adults who help them, were recognized for their dedication as well.

They included Galen Smith, who was honored for 29 years of service to the club. John Leib was applauded for 27 years of dedication and Mark Naugle and John Ocker were thanked for the 23 years that they have served as adult leaders for the organization.

Curtis Day was awarded for his 10 years of service. Bill Dietrich, Kathy Walton, and Gerald Davidson were all recognized for eight years of leadership.

Six-year leader awards went to Susan Dietrich, Peggy Hensel, and Marilyn Zinn. Steve Cornman and Shawn Hensel received awards to mark five years of adult service.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

QUESTION — Florence Fisher, Etters, would like to know what to do to keep pigeons off a tin roof.

QUESTION — Florence Fisher, Etters, would like to know what to do to keep chipmunks from digging holes in the lawn.

QUESTION — Anna Grace Moore, Cochranville, would like to know how to make crafts with Christmas or birthday cards.

QUESTION — Walter Lee, Elkton, would like to know where to purchase a hair clipper with metal guides or gauges. He writes that every time he uses the ones he has, the plastic grip that holds the guide on the razor breaks. It gets rather expensive to purchase sets of guides so often.

QUESTION — Carol Brown, Halifax, would like to know where to purchase patterns to make things out of safety pins and beads. She especially would like patterns for an angel and snowman about 10 inches high.

QUESTION — Clarence Reeser, Denver, would like to know the address of Millers Tree Nursery, N.Y.

QUESTION — Alverna Martin, Wellsboro, would like the book "All Around America," printed by Scott/Forseman Co. in 1956. Alverna's fourth grade teacher gave her a book to keep 29 years ago. The book has been so well-liked by her seven children that it is no longer whole. Please contact her at R.D. 6, Box 174, Wellsboro, PA 16901.

QUESTION — A reader would like to know where to purchase goose gourd seed.

QUESTION — Shelby Hawkes, Monrovia, Md., would like the complete poem, "You know you are getting older when...." The only line she remembers is "when your back goes out more than you do." She needs the poem for an upcoming 40th class reunion.

QUESTION — George Rousis, Bally, hopes to move to the Midwest or Montana in a few years. He'd like to know how to find out weather temperature highs and lows, rainfall, and snowfall for the individual states during the past 10 years.

QUESTION — Helen Mill, Navajo Rd., Box 270 Indian Orchard, Honesdale, PA 18431, would like to purchase the new or used book, "Rollin Thunder."

QUESTION — Byrd Futhey, Woodward, would like a source for purchasing coveralls and bib overalls in children's sizes (size 12).

QUESTION — Mary Ann Reich, Beaver Springs, would like to know why bread doesn't turn out as well for her in an electric oven as it does in a gas oven. One woman she knows said that when they rented a home with a gas oven, she could make beautiful bread, but now they live in a house with an electric oven and she's tried three times and it comes out hard as a brick. Mary Ann's bread doesn't turn out that bad but it isn't as nice as the loaves made at work with a gas convection oven.

QUESTION — Ronald Alt, Wyoming, Del., would like to know if the "Rural New Yorker," a farm paper, is still published and where.

QUESTION — Conny Riggliman, Warriors Mark, would like to know how to make feather trees from goose feathers.

QUESTION — A faithful New York reader wanted a wholesale source for goose feathers to use to make old-fashioned feather Christmas trees.

QUESTION — Vernon Bryant has a very old stone home that has at least five coats of whitewash on it, but it is in need of another one. Does anyone have a formula for old-fashioned whitewash or a new one that will last and look really good?

QUESTION — Doris Hellerick, Antes Valley, would like to know where to purchase seeds for celosia Pink Tassels. It is a tall plant, not the wheat celosia.

QUESTION — Jenny Palovitch of Lancaster County would like to purchase a wrought iron bench that wraps around a tree. It may be new or used.

QUESTION — Several years ago, Harold R. Stoudt of Hamburg purchased aluminum clad electric fence wire by direct shipment from South Star Industries in Tenn. The dealer discontinued his business. Does anyone know of the company or one that sells similar high quality aluminum clad maleable steel wire. It did not recoil when unspooled and could be hand spliced.

QUESTION — Brenda Fouts wants to know how to removed baked-on grease from an electric frying pan. It's aluminum so oven cleaners cannot be used. She asks, how and why the outside of the pan gets a grease cooking?

QUESTION — Carl Humer, Dover, writes that one of his meadows is being choked out of a natural pond setting by multiflower rose. The plant already covers about 1½ acres and is spreading. Is there a herbicide to kill it? Someone suggested he burn it, but he is concerned about several nut trees that are nearby. How about leasing several goats to rid the problem? Please send suggestions.

QUESTION — R.B. Beiler, 862 Valley Rd., Quarryville, PA 17566, would like to purchase old Hardy Boy books — not new versions.

QUESTION — A Pennsylvania reader would like to buy the books, "The 'Mysterifying' Twins," and the "Secret of the Mystifying Twins." Books may be new or in good condition. (M.L.M. wrote to say she has the book. But neither buyer nor seller left an address. Someone needs to send an address).

QUESTION — A Lehighton reader would like to know the market price for goose and duck eggs.

QUESTION — Fay Leslie, 46 Witt Rd., Woodstown, N.J., would like to know if anyone is interested in exchanging old-fashioned seeds and cuttings from their gardens. She loves to save seed for next year's gardens.

QUESTION — Louise Graybeal, Renick, W.V., wants to know where to purchase flaked hominy. She writes that a company called Pleezing used to sell it. She has inquired about this product for years and hasn't been able to find out if it was removed from the market, and, if so, why?

QUESTION — Marian Mosemann, Summit Hill, is looking for a wire jig that can be used for making patterns in any shape and size by bending the wire.

QUESTION — Marian Mosemann, Summit Hill, would like paper puzzles that were sometimes given away by the John Deere tractor franchises. The puzzles were made either out of thin cardboard or thick paper. The puzzle pieces were packaged inside a letter-sized envelope with instructions to solve the puzzle printed on the outside of the envelope.

QUESTION — Marian Mosemann, Summit Hill, would like to know where to purchase gift boxes for jellies and breads. Candy boxes are too small.

QUESTION — Blanche Hertzler, Mt. Wolf, would like to purchase some old readers used in public school in the 1930s. She wants the third through sixth reader of the Baldwin and Bender series, copyrighted 1911 by American Book Company. She has the second reader. One of the readers has the poem "Taming the Colt," which she wants.

QUESTION — Don Woodward, Honey Grove, would like to know where a corn cracker can be repaired and where he can purchase a small one.

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Box 212, Shartlesville, PA 19554 (610) 488-7792, is searching for Christmas dinnerware picturing a winter outdoor scene, marked on the back with Sango 3900 Silent Night, Korea, Joan Luntz.

QUESTION — Cindy Eshleman, Jonestown, would like to know where to locate a Cub Cadet tractor hat.

QUESTION — John T. Los, 2350 Croll School Rd., York, PA 17403, would like to talk with someone about the lithographs with the following information on them: Artist signature — Fred S. Cozzens 1893. Armstrong & Co. Lith. Boston. Copyright 1893 American Publishing Co. — Hartford, Conn.

QUESTION — Edgar Jackson, Ligonier, would like to know how to puff wheat, rice, and corn for making cereal.

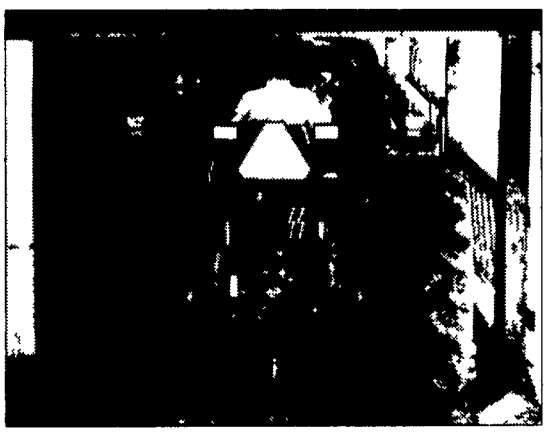
QUESTION — Tom Hicswa, Hammonton, N.J., would like to purchase sheet metal parts for a Case tractor model 300B made about 1960. He wants a grill, gas tank cover, etc. Please send information to Hicswa at Box 2169 Elwood R1, Hammonton, N J.

ANSWER — J. Martin, Lititz, wanted to know where to purchase a baler to make miniature bales for crafts and decorations. Thanks to Doris Horton, Randolph, N.Y., and to another reader for sending the following addresses.

Send a SASE for brochure from Ron Schulz, 6000 Quail Lane, Enid, OK 73703. Or, contact Bob Zink, 225 N. Rauthland, Wapakoneta, Ohio 45895 (419) 738-6615.

ANSWER — Brenda Fouts wanted to know the best method to remove manure stains from clothes. Thanks to Elaine Broyan, Berwick, who writes that she used to wash and rewash until she learned this method: Wet the clothes and rub with homemade soap. Put into a washer and wash with SAS Plus Premium Laundry Compound from Amway. Sometimes she lets them soak overnight. She keeps a bar of homemade soap next to her washer for all stains and it works great.

ANSWER — Nancy E. Cummings, Bolivar, wanted to know where to purchase lye that is used for making homemade soap? Thanks to Elaine Broyan, Berwick, and others for writing that lye packaged in small cans or plastic containers may be found in supermarkets near drain opener containers.



The lowered platform provides excellent clearance, and you don't have to give up the convenient controls, easy entry, and easy exit found on standard 6000 Series Tractors. Add high-speed, high-capacity hydraulics and you've got ultrahigh performance in an attractively low package.

The John Deere 620 Loader fits 2-wheel-drive models; the 640 is for models with MFWD. These loaders provide lift capacities up to 3,294 pounds.

Get a strong hold with John Deere holddown clips – made of thick, high-carbon steel and heat-treated to last and last. For most John Deere mower/conditioners.

Johnstown FFA Assists Cancer Society With Daffodil Days

LORETTA GOLDEN
Cambria Co. Correspondent

JOHNSTOWN (Cambria Co.)—The American Cancer Society held its Daffodil Days March 22-24. For the fourth consecutive year, the Greater Johnstown Area Vocational-Technical School FFA chapter has participated. Under the direction of horiculture instructor, Karen Remick, FFA members give their time and talents for this worthy cause. This is a community service project for the group.

Daffodil Days is the biggest event held by the American Cancer Society throughout the country. "The American Society recognizes the Daffodil as not only the first flower of spring but also the symbol of hope — hope that cancer can be cured in our lifetime."

When originally approached with the idea a few years ago, Mrs. Remick did not hesitate. She said that her life has been touched by family members who have been afflicted with cancer.

In order to prepare for Daffodil Days, the horticulture classes began making bows a few months ago. One thousand bows were made and placed into bud vases with three daffodils each.

After 50,000 daffodils are delivered to the school, the students' real work begins. Working alongside American Cancer Society volunteers an assembly-line production is set up. The daffodils are put into bundles of 10 and the edge of each flower is trimmed. The trimming aids in maintaining the freshness of the flowers. Each bunch is wrapped in paper and placed in cases. One thousand bud vases were also prepared.

Heather Pavlosky, grade 10, working with some of the bud vases.

Laura Barron is the 1995 chairman for Cambria County Daffodil Days. She emphasized that this project has really taken off over the past few years and praised the efforts of the Vo-Tech students. Because so many orders have been placed and must be processed in so short a period of time, she believes that her organization is quite fortunate to have the cooperation of the Vo-Tech.

The school provides use of its coolers for the flowers along with ample work space. Carol Harding, president of the Cambria County chapter of the American Cancer Society, expressed appreciation for the hard work done by the students.

Mrs. Remick says that her students show a real enthusiasm for this project. "It's a good project for the kids. They feel good working with community people and it's very good for their self-esteem."

Mrs. Remick points out that the volunteers who come in to work with her classes are wonderful to the students, complimenting them many times through the course of a day. When all of the work is done at the end of the week they even hold a pizza party for the students.

One of the FFA members stated that she really enjoys doing this because it makes her feel good to know in a small way she is helping someone.

Mrs. Remick is especially proud of a plaque which she received on behalf of her class. It's on display in the main trophy case in the front of the school. The Cancer Society recognized the students for their time and talent and thanked them for their "cooperation and dedication in the quest to conquer cancer."

Bollinger Home Is One Of Seven Open For Tour

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — For years, Sandy Bollinger has been strolling through homes opened for tours.

"You can get a lot of good ideas," Sandy said of the chance to observe other people's interior decoration.

Now, she's reciprocating by opening her home for the Kitchen Kaper Tulip Tour on April 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Her home, along with six other homes on the tour, blooms with ideas for decorating, cooking, and flower arranging.

For the eighth year, the participating homes on the day of the tour will be decorated by a local florist or greenhouse and a chef from an area restaurant will offer samples of culinary art.

An arts and crafts sale will be held at the Ephrata Church of the Brethren, 201 Crescent Ave., Ephrata, during the tour. Although some tickets will be available there, to assure a ticket, send for tickets in advance. Tickets are $7 per person (children will not be allowed without a ticket). Include payment with a business-size, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Elsie Minnich, 1141 Joann Ave., Ephrata, PA 17522 or call (717) 733-1075.

All proceeds from the tour sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Club of Ephrata will be donated to local charities.

Sandy and her husband Daryl own a spacious home built on farmland at 120 Briar Hill Road in Rothsville.

The 3,000-square foot home reflects the family's hobbies.

The Bollinger's home is one of seven opened during the eighth annual Kitchen Kaper Tulip Tour on April 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

This magnificent white mountain goat on rocky terrain offers an unique entrance to guests who enter the foyer at the Bollinger home. Nine-year-old Ryan dreams of the day when he can accompany his dad on hunts to the West and Alaska.

Daryl collects old sale bills, several of which are framed and hang on the walls. Both husband and wife buy antiques and collectibles to furnish the spacious home.

Daryl's mounted wildlife trophies are incorporated into the decor. A magnificent white mountain goat greets guests who enter at the front foyer. Mounted mule deer, antelope, and water fowl from his hunts to the West and to Alaska hang on the walls of his in-home office, where Daryl and two sons manage a home improvement business.

Sandy, too, has recently started an in-home business called Sandy Bollinger's Design. Her love for gardening and drying flowers started as a hobby. After several years of making her own wreaths, centerpieces, and floral arrangements, friends and acquaintances began requesting them. Now Sandy sells custom designs to individuals and to local shops. She also dries and makes her own potpourri mixtures.

Although much of her handiwork is interspersed throughout the home, on the day of the open house, Esbenshade's Greenhouse will do the the floral arrangements.

The Bollinger home is situated on 4½ acres.

"We both grew up on dairy farms, so we wanted some elbow room," Daryl said.

Nine-year-old son Ryan raises a few sheep, cats, and a horse on the land. One of the Bollinger's three sons is married and another will marry in May.

Throughout the year, Sandy welcomes guests with her own floral arrangements. On the day of the tour, Esbenshades Greenhouse will provide floral designs through-out the Bollinger's home.

During the tour, The Black Horse Inn will serve food samples to guests at the island where Ryan sits. The Bollingers call this their family kitchen because it includes a family room and a dining table in front of a fireplace. A formal dining room is behind the kitchen.

The Black Horse Inn will serve samples of one of their house specialties on the day of the tour.

Here is a brief description of the other homes open for the Tulip Tour.

• Jere Lyn and Richard Eidemiller, 442 Countryside Dr., Ephrata, built their brick Cape Cod home with a living basement complete with eating facilities. The light and bright main entrance has wall stencilling that continues into the dining room, where there's a beautiful antique oak table and hand-carved chair backs. The comfy living room has an open fireplace and windowwall overlooking the deck and garden. The kitchen has light oak cupboards and porecelain knobs. A small

Real History, Real Women

LANCASTER (Lancaster co.)—

An 1890s schoolmarm, a late 1700s farmer/mother, a hired Amish woman, a hard working gardener—the public will "meet" some of these historical Pennsylvania German women at Lancaster's Landis Valley Museum on Sunday, April 9. This free program runs from 1:30-3:30 p.m. and will begin in the Visitor Center. Seating is limited and on a first come, first served basis.

"A Sampler of PA German Women's History" will be offered in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Humanities Council (PHC). The PHC is overseeing the statewide project, "Raising Our Sites: Women's History in Pennsylvania" in which Landis Valley participates.

The first portion of the "Sampler" will focus on Amish women's late 1800s diaries, women gardeners in the 1700s-1800s, and hired women in the late 1800s. The presentations will range from readings and a slide lecture to a first-person presentation.

Then attendees will tour the museum grounds to see specific demonstrations such as historical gardening and childrearing and to participate in a cemetery tour and an 1890s lesson given by a schoolmarm. Some of these activities will depend upon the weather; attendees will be able to participate in most of the activities.

Landis Valley, rated "exceptional" by AAA, is the largest PA German museum. A state museum operated by the Commonwealth of PA, it is supported by the Landis Valley Associates. Individuals with disabilities who need special assistance or accommodation should call in advance to discuss their needs. PA TDD relay service is available at (800) 654-5984.

Located 2.5 miles north of Lancaster, the museum is on Route 272/Oregon Pike, a marked exit off both Route 30 and Route 222. For information, call (717) 569-0401.

Bollinger Home

breakfast table separates the kitchen and living room. The laundry and powder room open onto a brick walk circling the house.

Country Charm Florist will be decorating and Silk City Diner of Reamstown will be offering culinary samples.

• Chris and Merv Hill, 905 Martin Ave., Ephrata, moved into their new home one year ago. Chris has done much of the decorating herself, along with window treatments by Emma Brubaker. The two-story open end living area with a fireplace is furnished with some lovely antiques.

Chris's father is an antique dealer. The light ash cabinets and a corner window and sink also have a preparation island that divides the kitchen from the breakfast area. The family room contains mauve, gray, and green upholstered furniture. The powder room, utility closet, and laundry room is feather painted by Chris.

The Lincoln House will offer sumptuous food samples and Country Charm House will decorate with silk flowers.

• The Barn, 901 Dawn Ave., Ephrata. Rev. Bill Hambrick and his wife Barbara restored the barn for a first-floor board room complete with horse stalls turning into closets and grooming brush into notches. The second floor, formerly a tobacco shed and hay loft, was converted into office space, consultation rooms, and a library. The original wall tablet has initials and 1856 carved into it. The stone wall and wooden beams were exposed. School is held for grades 1 to middle school in the classrooms, and the lower floor boasts a game room for teenagers called the Fifth Quarter.

Byers Butterflake Pastry of Leola will serve tasty samples. La Fleur Boutique at Doneckers will have the floral expressions.

• Betty and Elias Landis, 1820 Rothsville Rd., Rothsville, built a stone house with a gazebo at the end of a long, winding driveway 11 years ago.

The Landis family built the house to share with church members and friends. A commercial kitchen has a table to seat 24, a piano, a fireplace, and collections of glassware and memorabilia.

As you enter the main floor, the living room and dining room are separated by a hallway leading to the kitchen and family room. The cherry cupboards and a preparation peninsula separates the breakfast room and living area with a window wall and fireplace.

The Chimney Corner of Lititz will offer something good to eat. Hendricks Greenhouse will add a touch of beauty with flowers.

• Barbara and Richard Will, 461 Maple St., Ephrata. An eclectic treat, the Will's home on top of the hill overlooks Ephrata. The older home has a sunroom and master bath. The home is filled with works of art done by local artists and by Richard Will himself. Beautiful silk-screened prints, a collection of angels from all over the world, and Beatrix Pott figurines, antique furniture, wicker sunroom furniture, and conversation pieces are everywhere. The entire home with quilts and canopy covers fill the bedrooms and is open to viewers.

Brossman Flower and Gift Shop will decorate and Checkers Restaurant will serve edibles.

• Ginnie and Don Good, 470 Ridge Ave., Ephrata, purchased their Greystone home in 1993, took a year to redecorate, and moved in December 1994. The entrance has a wall of Hummel plates from 1971 to 1995. Every beautifully refinished and upholstered piece of furniture has a history of its own. A number of antique objects were resurrected from the trash. The dining table holds a Limoge punchbowl and goblets. The breakfront houses beautiful china including a chocolate pot and cups. A crystal chandelier hangs over the dining table.

Three gas log fireplaces are in the home. The basement is an interesting entertainment area complete with bedroom and kitchen for overnight guests.

Down by the Farm Florist from Denver will decorate and Family Time Restaurant will offer edibles and goodies.

Beautiful Flowers Begin With The Soil

UNIVERSITY PARK, (Center Co.)-If you're planning a flower garden this summer, start getting your soil in shape now. Soil preparation can save you time, labor and money as well as rewarding you with beautiful plants.

"Preparing the soil is the most important step in gardening," says Dr. J. Robert Nuss, professor of ornamental horticulture in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences. "Have your soil tested this spring, and use the test results and recommendations as a guide."

A soil test measures nutrient amounts and pH, or level of acidity. Soil pH is measured on a scale of 0 to 14, with 0 being the most acid, 14 the most alkaline and 7 neutral. Most soils naturally have pH levels ranging between 5 and 8. "Many flowers do well in a range between 6 and 7, so chances are you won't need to change your soil's pH much," says Nuss.

Don't guess when it comes to fertilizing and changing pH. Over-applying chemicals can harm soil and plants as well as pollute groundwater and streams.

"Excess lime raises the soil's pH above what plants can tolerate, makes it more difficult for them to draw nutrients from the soil and slows growth of beneficial soil microorganisms," says Nuss. "Some flowers perfer a more acid soil and can suffer from iron deficiency if you apply too much lime."

Soil test kits are available at Penn State Cooperative Extension county offices and larger garden centers for a nominal fee. County extension kits include instructions for collecting soil samples as well as the address of Penn State's soil testing laboratory. Samples can be mailed or delivered to the laboratory.

You will receive test results in about two weeks. Results include levels of potassium, calcium, phosphorus and magnesium, along with the soil's pH. Also included are recommendations for the kinds and amounts of fertilizer to apply and how much lime if any to add to the soil.

"If you're planning to grow rhododendrons, azaleas, laurels or other flowers that prefer acid soil, you may need to apply a chemical such as sulfur, which lowers pH," says Nuss. "Apply no more than the recommended amount."

Till the recommended materials about 5 inches into the soil. While working the soil, remove stones, sod clumps, weed and debris.

"Work in several inches of organic matter," says Nuss. "There's little danger of adding too much. Composted kitchen scraps, well-rotted manures, lawn clippings and decayed plant material all are good forms of organic matter. They help retain water and supply nutrients for your flowers."

After tilling, your soil is ready for seeds or transplants. Feed transplants with a starter solution containing 2 tablespoons of high-phosphorous fertilizer diluted in a gallon of water. Pour 1 cup of the solution around the roots of each new transplant.

"Phosphorous is critical for getting new flowers off to a good start," says Nuss. "Without it, roots will develop slowly and plants will be weak."

Add 2 to 3 inches of organic mulch on top of the soil around your plants. Mulch helps keep soil moist, prevents erosion, discourages weeds and builds up the soil's organic matter. "Mulch also tends to be more attractive than bare soil in a ornamental garden," says Nuss. "It keeps mud from splashing on your flowers and gives the ground's surface uniform color and texture."

Several kinds of mulch are available at garden centers, including wood bark chips, shredded bark and peat. If you use grass clippings, leaves or well-decayed compost, periodically loosen them with a hand cultivator or hoe to prevent surface crusting.

When your plants begin to flower, sprinkle 2 tablespoons of high-nitrogen fertilizer on the soil about 6 inches away from the base of each plant. This will enhance flowering and give plants a boost for the rest of the summer. "If you fertilize too soon, however, you will delay the plants' maturity and decrease the number of flowers," says Nuss. "Wait until the first flowers open."

Finally, retest your flower garden's fertility and pH levels each year for several seasons. If reports remain similar, you can reduce sampling to every 3 to 4 years. "Nutrient levels and pH gradually change over time," says Nuss. "It's important to keep monitoring the soil to keep levels optimum."

Soil test kits may be purchased for $6 at Penn State Cooperative Extension offices or in 111 Agricultural Analysis Services Laboratory, Tower Road, University Park, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Herb And Geranium Sale To Be Held

LANCASTER (Lancster Co.)-The 16th annual Herb and Geranium Sale, sponsored by the Susquehanna Unit of the Herb Society of America, will be held on Saturday, May 6 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster.

A wide variety of herb plants will be offered for sale including those used for cooking, fragrance, dyes, wreaths and other arrangements, repelling insects, and herbal tea. Specialty plants potted from members' gardens will also be available as well as a selection of wildflowers and scented geraniums. This year the Unit is featuring native American plants as well as plants which attract hummingbirds and other birds, honeybees, and butterflies. Each of these will be clearly identified.

This year's educational exhibit features Bloodroot (Sanguinaria canadensis). Noted Marietta artist Henry Libhart has donated an original botanical watercolor of this native American plant to the Susquehanna Unit. Matted prints will be available at the sale.

Susquehanna Unit members are quite knowledgeable and eager to assist patrons in their selection of plants and will be happy to share their tips for planting, growing and usage. One member who specializes in raising scented geraniums will be available to discuss the cultivation of these interesting plants. Garden leaf carriers will be available as well as herb books and gardening items and "cook-booklets" compiled by the Unit and including many favorite herb recipes.

To help both the novice and the experienced gardener, all plants are identified by tag which includes the botanical name, common name, growth habit, usages and planting instructions.

It is suggested that patrons arrive early for the best plant selection. In an effort to encourage recycling, it is suggested that partons bring their own baskets and boxes to carry purchases.

Geraniums will be available in a wide variety of colors. These can be ordered ahead of time by calling (717) 768-3071.

Proceeds from the sale help support the Herb Garden at the National Arboretum in Washington, D.C. and the scholarship fund of the Herb Society which is used for research.

Rural Youth Reunion

The 58th anniversary of the organization of Lancater County Rural Youth will be celebrated with a banquet at the Hershey Farm Restaurant on the Strasburg Pike on May 6.

Former members and friends are asked to bring pictures and items of interest to share at the 5:30 p.m. fellowship hour. Dinner will be served at 6:00 and the cost is $14.50 per person.

Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Carl Diller, 2112 South View Road, Lancaster, PA 17602. Phone (717) 464-2233. They must be received by April 15th.

The program will consist of aerial views of Lancaster County farms by the Lancaster Alliance for New Directions. Also on the program will be a short skit from an early play "The Campbells Are Coming" and group singing.

The Lancaster County Rural Youth was an active group of rural young people who met monthly. They enjoyed square dancing and educational speakers. Some were members of an orchestra, some performed plays, and a monthly newspaper was published. There were at least 20 couples who met and later married from this group.

Learn Food Preservation

WILKES-BARE (Luzerne Co.)-Penn State Cooperative Extension is launching a Master Food Preservers Program in selected counties to provide interested persons with in-depth instruction in food preservation.

The course involves 30 hours of training and covers boiling water and pressure canning, making of jams and jellies, pickling and fermenting food and freezing. Taught in part by local Penn State Cooperative Extension Agent Mary R. Ehret, the course includes lectures, demonstrations, first hand experiences, and group discussions.

Each participant will receive food preservation resource materials and must pass accreditation exams before being certified as a Master Food Preserver.

Graduates are asked to volunteer 30 hours this summer and fall promoting safe food preservation practices in their communities. This commitment can be fulfilled by answering telephone questions, helping beginning canners, and providing information at farmer's markets, fairs and shopping centers.

Toe course will be taught May 1 through May 4, at the Luzerne County Canning Center in Nanticoke. Participants must apply by April 14. For more information and an application form contact the Luzerne County Extension Office at (717) 825-1701.

4-H Dairy Scholarships Available

MEADVILLE (Crawford Co.) — Scholarships are available to Crawford County dairy 4-H members, both past and present. Aplicants are required to have been a member of the 4-H Dairy program for a minimum of five years, but not necessarily all in Crawford County.

The applicant must be at least a senior in high school and enrolled in or planning to attend a school for extended education, either academic or technical. Additional requirements are outlined in the scholarship application, which must be submitted by June 1.

Applications are available at Crawford County Cooperative Extension, R.R.2, Box 825 B, Dunham Rd., Meadville, PA 16335, or call (814) 333-7460.

Farm Women Societies

Lancaster Society 14

On January 18, 20 ladies met to sew cancer pads at the home of Arlene Esbenshade in Willow Street. Following a delicious luncheon, served by hostesses Helen Hershey, Hehen Breneman, and Hannah Brackbill, members heard reports from the PA State Farm Show by Clara Rohrer and Helen Herr. "My Life Story" was told by Arlene Esbenshade.

February 8, 20 ladies met at the home of Viola Hostetter in New Holland and each showed a special valentine. Colleen Hayden, a registered pharmacist spoke on "Safe Use of Medicine." Hostesses were Clara Rohrer, Ellen Newswanger, and Marian Rohrer.

March 8, 21 ladies met at Ruth Kreider's home on Country Meadows Drive. Speaker Edith Gochnauer talked on "Hospitality—More Than Just Food." Hostesses were Eileen McComas, Ruth Combs, and Janet Leaman.

Livestock Notes

Penn State Cooperative Extension has available a series of publications under the umbrella of "Agricultural Alternatives."

A sampling of the fact sheets already completed include the following titles: Accelerated Lamb Production, Bison Production, Boarding Horses, Emu Production, Swine Production, Highbush Blueberry Production, and even Earthworm Production.

Each publication explores management, marketing, resource requirements, and sample budgets. The publications are being developed by the Small-Scale and part-time Farming Project at Penn State with support from the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Extension Service. The fact sheets are available in alternative media on request.

Following are sketches on a few livestock-oriented agricultural alternatives by publication title.

Off-Season and Holiday Lamb Production

Of the approximately 160,000 Pennsylvania lambs marketed each year, 30 percent are sold as off-season and holiday lambs. These lambs are marketed using both conventional (auctions, slaughterhouses, and brokers) and nonconventional (niche markets, specialty stores, and direct marketing) methods. The ideal market weight is 110 pounds for off-season lambs and 40 to 45 pounds for holiday lambs.

Off-season and holiday lamb production is easily adapted to small-scale or part-time farming operations. This type of production has a slightly higher investment cost than spring lambs because of increased housing costs. The most significant advantages of off-season and holiday lambs are:

- Market prices are higher during the off-season.
- Premium prices are paid for the smaller holiday lambs.
- Holiday lambs are marketed after weaning to reduce feed costs.

Before deciding to produce off-season or holiday lambs, you should consider these important management concerns:

- Breeding is more difficult than with spring lambs.
- Lambing rates are lower than with spring lambs (approximately 25 percent lower).
- Lambing may interfere with the harvesting of some crops.

Spring Lamb Production

Spring lamb production is easily adapted to a small-scale or part-time farming operation. Compared to most other livestock enterprises, it has lower investment costs, minimal labor requirements, and quicker returns.

Spring lambing also uses the sheep's natural breeding cycle (breeding in September through November and lambing in late March through April), which increases breeding efficiency and pasture utilization. An additional advantage is that spring lambing programs have lower housing and feeding costs when compared to more intensive lambing enterprises.

Before starting to raise sheep and lambs, you must consider the size of your intended operation and the type of market you face.

The smallest production unit to consider for spring lambs is a flock of up to 35 ewes serviced by one ram. Breeding ewes cost $65 to $100 per head and a good ram costs about $250. A ewe produces one to three lambs annually (gestation period of five months). The lamb can be available for market within four months after birth. It is possible to receive a return on your investment within nine months of purchase.

If you have no previous experience with sheep, starting with a few bred ewes and going through a lambing season could be a valuable experience. It may help you decide whether you want to be in the sheep business, while you develop or investigate market and test profitability.

Additional sheep alternatives include Milking Sheep Production, Feeder Lamb Production, and Accelerated Lamb Production.

Horse Boarding

The equine industry in Pennsylvania has doubled in size since 1967 and continues to expand and diversify. As a result, the demand for horse boarding services has increased.

Many Pennsylvanians enjoy a variety of recreational activities involving horses, such as trail riding, participating in horse and pony clubs, and competing in shows and other events. Horses contribute to the state's economy by creating a market for feed, supplies, and the services of boarders, veterinarians, trainers, breeders, and farriers.

Pennsylvania's large equine industry provides opportunities for small-scale or part-time farmers to add income by boarding horses. However, caring for horses requires considerable time and financial commitments that will affect all family members. Before starting a boarding operation, you should carefully evaluate all aspects of the enterprise, including the following:

- Much knowledge and experience are needed to manage horses.
- Boarding horses results in a loss of privacy on the farm.
- Managers must get along with many types of people and must deal with complaints or undesirable client behavior.
- Liability issues are a major concern.

Bison Production

Bison, commonly referred to as the American Plains Buffalo, are native not only to the Great Plains and the Midwest. They once roamed the mountain slopes and valleys of Pennsylvania. The state's last native bison was shot in 1801. Commercial breeders and bison enthusiasts have since reintroduced bison to Pennsylvania, where nearly 50 domestic herds with a total of 1,000 bison exist today.

About 7.5 million pounds of meat from approximately 15,000 bison are sold annually in the United States. The USDA's Meat and Poultry Inspection Directory lists about 100 bison-processing facilities nationwide. While Pennsylvania does not require meat inspection of slaughtered bison, many restaurants and retailers prefer USDA or state-inspected meat. Also, USDA inspection is required if meat is to be sold across state lines.

Three USDA-inspected slaughter plants for bison operate in Pennsylvania, but any meat-processing plant licensed for exotics can slaughter bison. The charge for USDA meat inspection is $40 per visit.

Although bison still have many of their wild tendencies and are only semi-domesticated, they are an agricultural alternative appropriate for small-scale and part-time farms. Bison adapt to a wide range of environments, feed sources, and management systems. A herd should consist of at least one bull and 10 to 15 cows. In Pennsylvania, herd sizes range from small operations with fewer than 50 bison to large operations with more than 200 bison. Only a few U.S. herds have more than 1,000 animals.

Swine Production

Considering current low prices for market hogs, I hesitate on this one, however, technological change and vertical integration in the swine industry have resulted in fewer farms producing record amounts of pork.

The number of operators involved in swine production in Pennsylvania fell from 20,000 at the beginning of 1981 to 7,600 by the end of 1992. Annual sales during this period grew to 1.33 million head in 1992, ranking Pennsylvania fifteenth in the number of animals sold.

Approximately 80 percent of Pennsylvania swine operations produced fewer than 100 head per year, and only 2.5 percent produced more than 1,000 head per year. While the trend in the swine industry continues toward larger farms, opportunities remain to make money by raising hogs in a part-time enterprise.

Three types of swine production enterprise and farrow-to-finish, farrow-to-feeder, and feeder-to-finish. No "blueprint" exists for these systems. The important thing is to design a production system that will complement your resources and lifestyle.

To determine which enterprise will work best in your situation, you must first consider:

- The amount of capital, labor, and land available.
- The level of management and marketing skills needed.
- The social and environmental implications associated with manure management.

Keeping Information Superhighway Farmer-Friendly

GENEVA, N.Y. — In Gary Larsen's vision of the future, animals walk on two legs and farmers keep in touch via cow phones.

Larsen's humor is one of the lowest common denominators that keeps the global community laughing. The highest common denominator is represented by the computer information networks available on the "information superhighway."

"These networks promise to deliver text, photographic, graphical and audio-video-based material in an interactive format over the Internet to agricultural and life science users in academia, research, and extension who may be based anywhere: in classrooms, laboratories, inner city schools, rural libraries, at home, or on the farm.

In a conference entitled "Highest Denominator Agricultural Information Systems: Issues and Implications," presented recently in Warren Hall on the Ithaca campus by Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, participants and panelists addressed some of the implications and issues of this emerging infrastructure. The conference was coordinated by Peter McDonald, librarian for the Agricultural Experiment Station in Geneva, and Henry DeVries, electronic technology specialist for Cornell Cooperative Extension.

"We felt people throughout the agricultural community were beginning to use network systems to disseminate information, but that there was very little quality control and overview," said McDonald, who has been at the forefront of creating a presence for Geneva on the Internet vis a vis the World Wide Web. "It is imperative that the information is presented coherently and follows standards. The conference addressed fiscal, sociological, and non-technological issues."

At the confrence, presentations were delivered from an administrator's, networker's technologist's, information provider's, and user's perspective, including "Economic Implications from Paper to Paperless"; "Working Models" including agricultural information systems available at North Carolina State, Penn State and Cornell; "Geographical Information Systems and Mosaic"; and "Models for Providing Connectivity Access and Educational Support." Attendees participated in several working groups, including ones on "Standards, Copyright and Server Protection," "Costs and Cost Recovery," "Last Mile Connectivity," "Audience Identification," and "Document Authentication."

"We were overwhelmed by the response," said DeVries. "Concerns about effective information delivery cut across an international spectrum of information deliverers — from librarians to editors, college administrators, extension and experiment station personnel, and computer specialists, and representatives from the private sector."

Participants numbered nearly 100, coming from 15 states and as far away as Texas, New Mexico and Canada. About 25 were from the Cornell community.

One of the events driving the conference, in part, is the fact that a CALS web server should be in operation by spring 1995, and will be used to distribute academic, administrative, and extension information. At that time, workshops and other outreach programs will be offered to the university community at large. CALS is one of the first colleges at Cornell to begin in the systematic design of a web server.

"Top administrators in Day Hall should recognize that this is a very powerful and malleable tool," said McDonald, who is concerned with the creation and subsequent abandonment of what he calls "information orphans" — information bytes that are unorganized, unindexed, and unsearchable. "The management of information on the Web is very complex. There is a lot of potential, but it is too easy for too many people to put up too much information too fast. If anybody can publish anything they want under the aegis of Cornell, the university needs to establish firm guidelines."

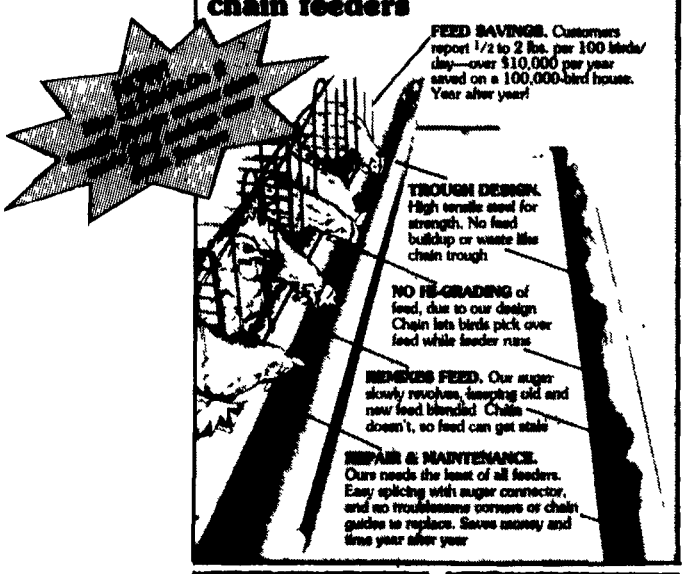
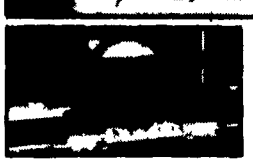
Here are the facts why ULTRAFLO® outperforms chain feeders



FEED SAVINGS. Customers report 1/2 to 2 lbs. per 100 birds/day—over $10,000 per year saved on a 100,000-bird house. Year after year!
TROUGH DESIGN. High tensile steel for strength. No feed buildup or waste like chain trough
NO RE-GRADING of feed, due to our design. Chain lets birds pick over feed while feeder runs
REMIXES FEED. Our auger slowly revolves, keeping old and new feed blended. Chain doesn't, so feed can get stale
REPAIR & MAINTENANCE. Ours needs the least of all feeders. Easy splicing with auger connector, and no troublesome sprocket or chain guides to replace. Saves money and time year after year



SIMPLE OPERATION. "Push-Pull" Power Units with low HP motor are located along the feeder line as needed.

EASY AUGER CONNECTOR. Allows fast and simple installation, also quick and easy repair of auger if ever necessary.

Remodel with Chore-Time and you can have more birds, better performance and less maintenance. Chore-Time's 4 tier, 20 inch deep Duratrims are the same width as 3 tier dropping board systems and 4 tier reverse cages. Go from 60,000 birds to 80,000 birds.

Over 80% of the nation's top egg producers* have already switched to Chore-Time cages with ULTRAFLO® Feeders!*

Egg producers have been putting up with obsolete chain feeders far too long Now there's a better way· Chore-Time's proven ULTRAFLO Cage Feeding System Since introduction, more than 80% of the top 54 egg producers* have gone to ULTRAFLO. A lot of smaller ones have too.

Herb Guide Available From Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK (Center Co.) — Herbs look good, smell good and taste good—and they're easy to grow. A new herb guide, "Herbs For the Home Gardener," published by Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences, describes 33 different herbs that can be grown with little fuss and a lot of enjoyment.

The 62-page guide features color photos of herbs, the history of their use, cultivation and care, growth habits, companion plantings, culinary uses and a list of recommended herbs for beginning gardeners.

Included are descriptions of the various uses for herbs, such as teas, flavored vinegars, wreaths, potpourris, dyes and plantings to attract bees. Also provided is a glossary of horitcultural terms and a reference list for further reading.

"Herbs For the Home Gardener" can be purchased for $8 from the Publications Distribution Center, 112 Agricultural Administration Building, The Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA 16802, (814) 865-6713. The publication is available in alternative media on request.

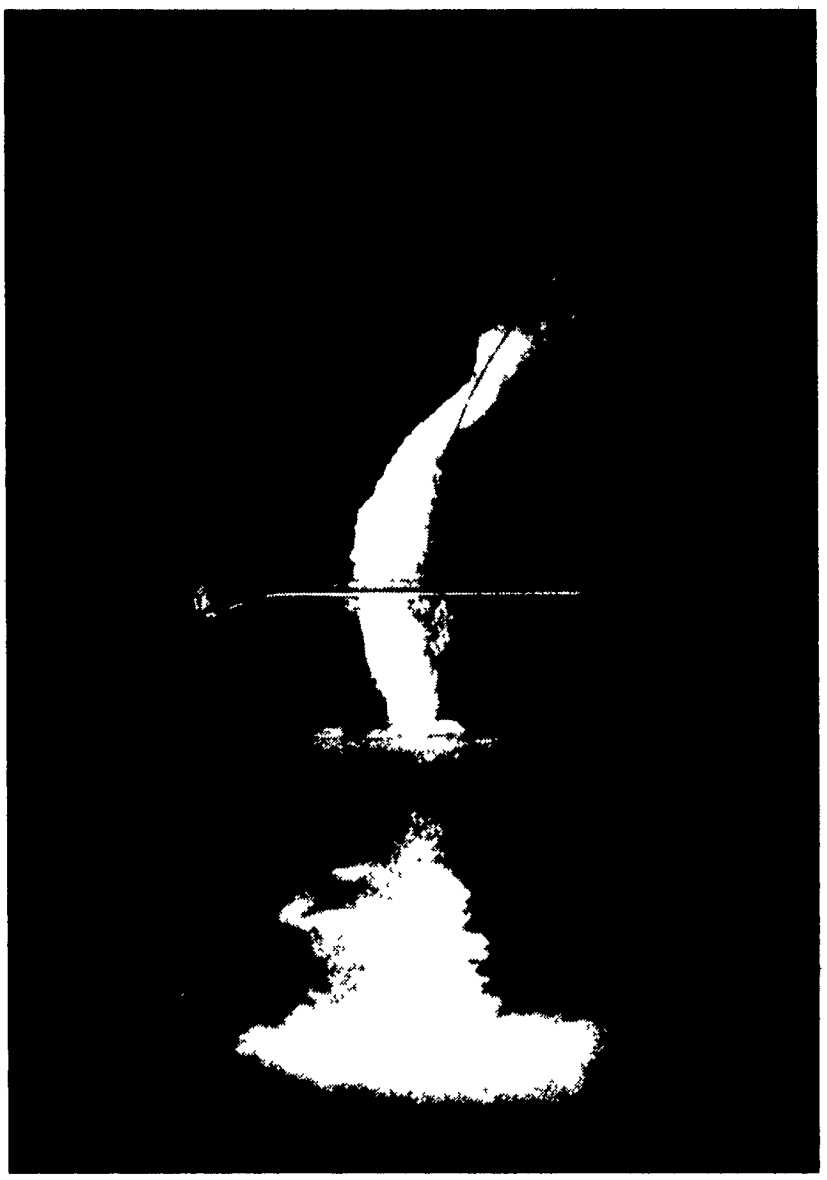
for the competitive advantage!



The introduction of the AIM technology has created a lot of excitement among area producers. Lancaster County field tests indicate why. The test results were taken from 13 herds representing in excess of 493 cows. These herds represented a cross section of various sizes, feeding programs, and management levels. Results from producers using existing Master Mix technology or competitive nutritional programs were compared.

What an Impact!

AIM (Amino Acid Impact Management) represents the third generation of industry leading patented protein technology from Master Mix Feeds and is the direct result of Master Mix Feeds' continued commitment to research. AIM technology focuses on increasing the total essential amino acid flow to the small intestine. AIM feeds feature higher rumen undegraded protein (RUP) levels with defined concentrations of lysine and methionine using highly palatable, highly digestible plant protein sources, for optimal protein efficiency.

COCCIDIOSIS INCREASES THE POTENTIAL FOR SALMONELLA ENTERITIDIS

Dr. H. S. Siegel
Professor Of Poultry Science

Salmonella enteritidis (SE) continues to be a human public health problem. This bacterial infection is especially serious when normal immunological capability is depressed, such as in very young children and in the elderly, and is a common complication of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS).

SE infection is very frequently associated with raw eggs or egg products that originate from SE-contaminated hens. Therefore, although SE usually does not cause mortality or visual symptoms in egg producing flocks, it is a threat to public health and the economic viability of the egg industry.

Previous research has shown that infection by species of Salmonella can increase when chickens are infected at the same time with one of several types of coccidia (Takimoto, et a., 1984; Stephens and Vestal, 1966). A recent research report by Qin and his associates (1995) indicates that there is a relationship between the severity of SE infection and the presence of the coccidia species, Eimeria Tenella.

The report shows that when coccidiosis is present along with SE, the length of time that birds are infected with SE is extended and that the SE bacteria is shed into the poultry house environment for a longer period of time. It was indicated that the coccidial infection provided a more favorable environment in the ceca of the bird for SE multiplication.

Subclinical cases of coccidiosis are occasionally observed in pullets coming into egg production. This can be a time when the birds are under some stress due to being moved to a new environment.

We have shown that stress tends to depress immunological function in poultry (Siegel, 1992). It is also the time when coccidiostats are removed from the feed to avoid problems with egg quality. Special care should be taken to ensure that the laying facilities are clean and disinfected when ready-to-lay pullets are housed to reduce the possibility of SE infection and to make the environment as stress-free as possible.

Woods vintage rearmount mowers geared for the '90s and beyond

The standards for rearmount mowers were set in 1971 when Woods introduced them.. Now for the '90s we've redefined the cutting edge with our new line of Woods rearmount grooming mowers.

Now Woods new rearmount mowers for the '90's involve the exchange of 20 years of engineering, manufacturing and marketing experience into exceptional quality, dependability and service at a very competitive price.

If your tractor is in the 16 to 35 horsepower range, there's a new Woods rearmount lawn mower for you.

Livestock Conservation Institute To Host Kansas City Meeting

BOWLING GREEN, Ky.— The Livestock Conservation Institute celebrates its 79th year of service to the animal agriculture industry with the 1995 LCI annual meeting to be held April 5-7 at the Marriott Allis Plaza in downtown Kansas City, Mo.

The three-day meeting offers those involved in the livestock industry the opportunity to participate in seminars sponsored by each of the nine LCI issue-based committees.

"LCI is fulfilling its role as a communications facilitator by providing a line-up of very distinguished people to discuss timely topics affecting the livestock industry," said Dr. Richard Hull, state veterinarian for the Illinois Department of Agriculture and chariman of the LCI Annual Meeting Planning Committee.

"This year's format includes two days of informational seminars and one afternoon for conducting committee business," said Hull.

"Highlights of the general sessions will include information on what is happening with the changes in the USDA, as well as the 1995 Farm Bill," Hull said.

"The seminars will offer discussions on disease eradication efforts, NAFTA, GATT. food safety inspection, livestock identification, and how they affect North American animal health," said Hull.

All of the seminars and related events during the 1995 LCI annual meeting will be conducted in the Marriott Allis Plaza in downtown Kansas City. Registration for the meeting runs through March 24; however, on-site registration will be available.

For more information, contact the Livestock Conservation Institute, 1910 Lyda Drive, Bowling Green, Kentucky, 42104-5809, (502) 782-9798.

Stop Plugging!
Fill faster with Lancaster Level-Flo.

You can blow in as much as three tons of haylage a minute over 100 feet up — with a new 12 center-fill Gooseneck from Lancaster Level-Flo. High profile and 33 larger diameter reduce friction to make plugging a thing of the past. And the Lancaster Level-Flo 12 gooseneck is fully enclosed to make sure your silage and haylage go into your silo—not on the roof.

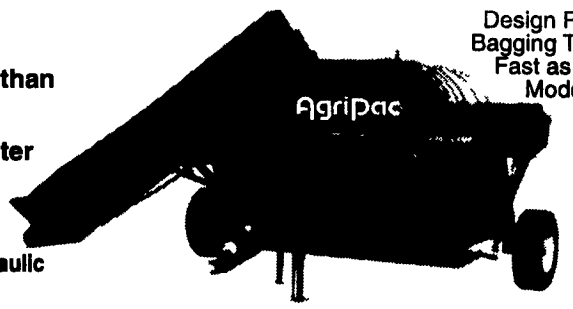
EARLY ORDER DISCOUNT

CENTERLINE BIG BAGGER

7' - 8' - 9' 10' Diameter

Design Permits Bagging Twice as Fast as other Models



Puts up to 15% more in the bag than bottom-pack units

Packs more punch from the center ... with less H.P. ... for tighter, more uniform bags of feed.

Note: One-man bag lift-loader and hydraulic cable rewind optional

Features...

- Wheels and tongue rotate to travel position
- Self-cleaning tunnel
- Cable up to 250'
- Rust-free chrome disc mechanical brake
- 540 or 1,000 rpm PTO • No hydraulics
- Mounted engines available
- Oil bath gearbox and drive chain
- #160 roller chain main rotor drive
- Safety first, V-belt-driven conveyor for side feeding. Front-load hopper available.
- Tongue centered for close bag spacing and road travel
- Up to 12' diameter by special order

What users report...

- "Produces a more even pack"
- "Up to 15% more feed in a bag"
- "Handles material with greater percentage of moisture."
- "Virtually eliminates 'juicing up' - as is experienced with bagging machines with rotors low to the ground to provide ground clearance."
- "Higher quality feed due to more even pack."
- "Machines with low mounted rotors must pack feedstuffs actually too tight in the lower area in order to get enough force to fill the bag at the top of the tunnel."
- "With a more even pack it's easier to remove the feedstuffs from the bag."

"THINK CONCRETE WHEN PLANNING FEED STORAGE"

30'x100' With Big Jim Drive Thru

"The Big Jim is doing a fine job bringing the feed down. We really believe the drive-thru, Big Jim System is worth anyone's consideration. It is costing more every year to grow forages and we feel our minimal quality and quantity losses are easily paying for the additional initial cost of this investment compared to that of a bunker. We are throwing no feed away and the cows are milking the best they ever have." (over 90 lbs. per cow.)

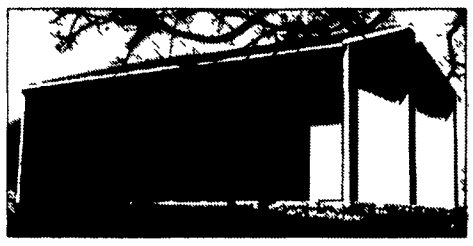
Side with Alumax ALU-TUFF Steel



When you put up a building, you expect it to be attractive and to last. A building constructed with ALU-TUFF will meet those expectations. That's because ALU-TUFF is made using top-quality materials, super-tough protective coatings. and a unique rib design that's both functional and attractive.

Years from now when other buildings are starting to show their age, your building will still look good.

- A STRONG PROFILE
  High 3/4-inch ribs on nine-inch centers give ALU-TUFF exceptionally high spanning properties for its weight and thickness, while stiffening ribs in flat areas prevent rippling.
- MADE TO LAST
  To keep Alu-Tuff working hard and looking good for years to come, we protect it with an oven-cured system of four different coatings.
- A GREAT LOOKING PANEL
  You don't have to sacrifice good looks to get a tough steel panel.
- MORE QUALITY FEATURES
  Each ALU-TUFF sheet is 38 inches wide to provide 36-inch coverage. That's wide enough to minimize the number of side laps, yet narrow enough to be easy to handle.

The Best of the Best

The Wheeling 2 oz. Seal of Quality coating represents the best of the best in the Wheeling Corrugating line of premium galvanized roofing and siding. Every panel that carries the 2 ounce coating assures you are getting the toughest, the most durable, the most corrosion resistant galvanized sheet available in today's marketplace.

2oz. Seal of Quality Wheeling

Genuine Old-Time Quality

Every Wheeling 2 oz sheet is manufactured from heavy gauge steel topped with an extra thick zinc coating and formed into profiles that contribute strength and good looks Build with a Wheeling 2 oz sheet and you ll be working with the kind of durability and dependability that s been a standard in the industry for almost 100 years

The Proof is in the Process

The performance behind the Wheeling 2 oz Seal of Quality is possible because of Wheeling s patented Cook Norteman manufacturing process This technology allows a more consistent quality product, and a more uniform coating with unsurpassed zinc adhesion The process takes more handling and more time but the end result is a super premium panel that has its own limited 20 year performance warranty

Dimensions and Specifications

If your building plans call for roofing and siding materials with exceptional corrosion resistance minimum upkeep and old time toughness you ll want to check the specs of Wheeling 2 oz Seal of Quality galvanized

INDUSTRIAL PAINT LIQUIDATION

We have just received thousands of gallons of the highest quality, industrial grade paints as a result of military base closings and cancelled government contracts. These paints were made to comply with strict Federal specifications by manufacturers who supply the industrial market. They were designed for extreme duty in military service, making them far exceed typical applications in commercial or farm use. We have a limited amount of each of the types listed below. Buy now while we have it available-most can be stored for several more years. We can fax or mail full descriptions of most of the items.

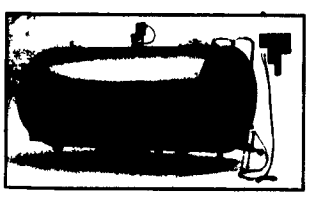
DAIRY FARM EQUIPMENT

Offer

Scroll-Compressor Technology

New in 1994



You may pay less for some dairy farm equipment... but it can cost you more!

Equipment cost is not the only cost of cooling milk

In the long run, total operating costs of a Mueller milk-cooling system are generally substantially less than those of "bargain-brand" milk-cooling equipment.

Example	Mueller	Competition
Cost of equipment	$31 000	$28 000
Cost of electricity @ 08 kW for 12 000 lbs milk/day for 10 years	$17 550	$22 850
Total operating cost for ten years	$48 550	$50 850
Savings	$ 2 300	-

Contact your Mueller distributor for further comparisons.

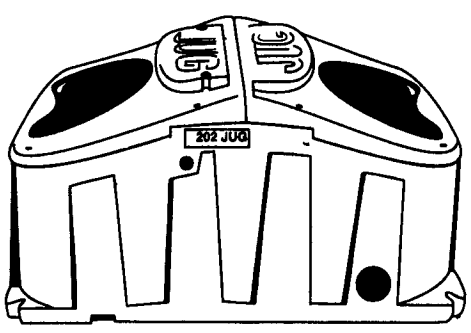
The JUG passes the "winter of '93-'94" test



Remember the c-c-c-c-c-cold winter of '93-'94? Wondering what the next one will bring and how your herd will fair?

Install the energy-efficient JUG to reduce concerns about freezing cattle fountains. Even in the coldest weather, the JUG performed, while the competition's waterers did not.

While the JUG's thick urethane insulation keeps the winter cold out, its patented drawtube recirculates water. Cooler bowl water exchanges with warmer reservoir water to keep bowl water open. The JUG will do its job.

A cold weather test conducted by an Iowa college during the winter of '94 demonstrated its energy efficiency. The JUG used only 108 kilo-watts of electricity over four months for a cost of $8.64. A competitor's waterer used 816 kilowatts, costing $65.28, almost eight times as much. The test confirmed the JUG's energy efficiency.

No other waterer equals the Jug for clean, palatable water. Low maintenance, the JUG also meets the requirements for dairy approval.

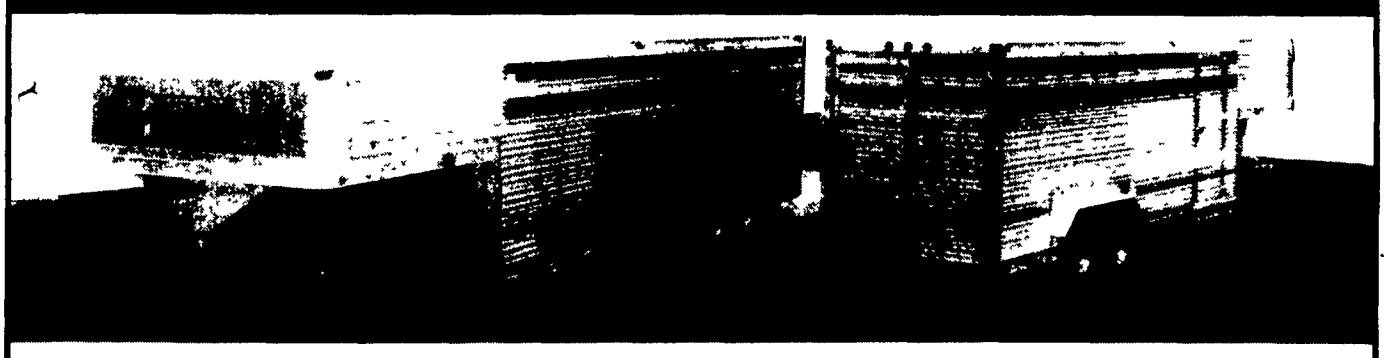
Anything Less Isn't Good Enough



If livestock is your business, Eby Gooseneck Trailers include these features to protect the livestock you transport:

- Durable all-aluminum construction with less weight for more payload
- Axles, wheels, tires and brakes that are designed to carry the weight the trailer will hold
- Gates and doors designed for easy loading/unloading
- Proven post and slat design to control airflow and easily close up for winter conditions
- Aerodynamic design to improve fuel economy

Eby Gooseneck Trailers are available in lengths from 12 to 32 feet with a choice of widths and inside heights. We offer every custom option, including stainless steel front end for great looks.

Whatever kind of livestock you transport, you can rely on EBY products to do the job right.

Eby custom-builds bodies and trailers for all types of livestock, grain and farm commodities.

Farming * Development * Hunting

Exceptional 309 acre farm in Northumberland County, six miles south of Sunbury, PA. Some of the most fertile soil in one parcel in central PA. Consistent high yielding vegetable production for local cannery and top corn and alfalfa yields are the standard on this level to gently rolling farm. Top quality high tensile fence encloses this property. Buildings on two sites include two large barns in super shape that hold in excess of 400 steers and two remodeled homes in beautiful settings, which have two large ponds - one stocked with trout enhances the beauty of the main home.

Outstanding deer and turkey hunting. Almost two miles of state and township road frontage makes this property a developer's dream.

Grazing Gazette

PENNSTATE
College of Agricultural Sciences in cooperation with USDA/ARS

GRAZING GAZETTE TO FOCUS ON PENN STATE GRAZING WORK

Larry Muller, Professor of Dairy Science and Steve Fales, Professor Of Agronomy Penn State

The movement back to grazing and pasture-based systems in animal agriculture is real and rapidly increasing. It is not "going backwards" or back to the "good old days," but is upgrading old technology that is right for economical and environmental reasons in today's agricultural industry.

Beef and sheep producers have had grazing systems for years, whereas most dairy producers moved away from grazing systems in the '50s.

The biggest increase and interest in grazing is with dairy producers. A recent Penn State survey indicated that 29 percent of the dairy producers in Pennsylvania are using pasture as a significant amount of the forage and 16 percent of adopted an intensive grazing system.

The trend is not limited to the Northeast. The Upper Midwest now has a significant number of dairy producers using an intensive grazing system. These systems are now appearing in larger herds in the west and in Texas.

A recent grazing meeting in Florida was attended by nearly 1/3 of the dairy producers in that state. The interest in grazing systems in Pennsylvania is increasing as evidenced by the many educational and producer meetings during the past few years.

Attendance and enthusiasm has been high at all local, state, and regional grazing meetings. More than 200 attended the two-day Pennsylvania Grazing Conference sponsored by the Grazing Research and Education Center. Grazing meetings and pasture walks are being held on a regular basis in many areas of the state. Producers are wanting and thirsting for information related to many issues on grazing.

It is to this end that Penn State is initiating a regular grazing column called Grazing Gazette, that we envision as being a focal point to disseminate information to producers and allied industries. The column can be what you want—give us some input. This column will be coordinated through the Grazing Research and Education Center located at Penn State University. This Center was formed within the past year with the mission to enhance the environmental sustainability and profitability of animal agriculture through better use of grassland resources.

The objectives of the Center are:

• To foster disciplinary grassland, animal, and environmental research. Grassland rescources are vital to sustainable and profitable systems, but improving these complex system requires expertise from various disciplines.

• To provide leadership for enhanced communications on grassland issues among researchers, educators, producers, allied industries, policy makers, and society. Unlike many agricultural commodity groups, grassland agriculture has no unified group. The Center brings together representatives of various groups interested in the economic and environmental benefits of pasture use.

• To coordinate educational resources and programs and to disseminate information on grassland agriculture to producers and allied industries. Information on grassland agriculture is diverse. The Center provides a focal point to assemble educational resource materials into a readily accessible information database.

The Center brings together scientists and educators representing several Penn State units and USDA/ARS.

Participating Penn State and USDA faculty and staff are:

• Robert A. Byers, USDA/ARS-Entomology;

• Dennis R. Buckmaster, Agricultural and Biological Engineering;

• Ersknie H. Cash, Dairy and Animal Science;

• John W. Comerford, Dairy and Animal Science;

• Clair C. Engle, Dairy and Animal Science;

• Steven L. Fales, Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology;

• Stephen A. Ford, Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology;

• Rabi Mohtar, Agricultural and Biological Engineering;

• Lawrence D. Muller, Dairy and Animal Science;

• Harry B. Pionke, USDA/ARS-Soil Science;

• Robert T. Sherwood, USDA/ARS-Plant Pathology;

• William L. Stout, USDA/ARS-Soil Science;

• Gabriella A. Varga, Dairy and Animal Science;

• Lowell L. Wilson, Dairy and Animal Science.

Participating cooperative extension staff include:

• Robert J. Brown, Somerset County;

• Paul H. Craig, Dauphin County;

• Phillip T. Durst, Montour County;

• Timothy J. Fritz, Montgomery County;

• David W. Hartman, Columbia County;

• Clyde A. Meyers, Berks County;

• Gary L. Shepphard, Westmoreland County;

• Glenn A. Shirk, Lancaster County;

• Philip E. Wagner, Franklin County;

• J. Craig Williams, Tioga County.

The Center's program has benefited from the experise of individuals from countries with a strong tradition in pasture science, including the Irish Republic, Northen Ireland, the Netherlands, and New Zealand. Communication is fundamental to the Grazing Research and Education Center, which not only involves University and USDA faculty and staff, but also derives input from an advisory council of individuals from various sectors of the agricultural community in Pennsylvania. Council members meet periodically with faculty and staff to offer guidance on research and educational needs of clientele in pasture management and utilization. The council provides a direct channel for two-way communication between the research community and those it serves.

Our plans are to publish a column every two weeks during the grazing season. We welcome your suggestions for topics. In addition, keep us informed of upcoming grazing activities and meetings. We also would like to have names and addresses of those interested in being on the Centre's mailing list.

Contact us at the Grazing Research and Education Center, 116 Agricultural Sciences and Industries Building, University Park, PA 16802, (814) 865-6541, Fax (814) 863-7043.

PLANNING AN EFFECTIVE GRAZING SYSTEM

There are about 1 million beef producers in the U.S., and more than 80 percent of these producers own fewer than 50 cows.

Many of Pennsylvania's beef producers are good examples of this statistic. The key resource for the cow-calf operator is the availability of grass. Using grass efficiently for small beef operations should entail planning an effective grazing system.

Pasture management, rotational grazing systems, and new forage species are all methods of using the forage resource efficiently. Grazing systems copied from places such as New Zealand have enhanced the ability of producers to organize the pasture resource, and it is an evolving process with better information becoming available. The following information may be some help in your pasture planning process.

Water

Many individual systems are designed around the availability of water. Studies show it is most effective to keep cattle within 700 feet of water. This results in more cattle drinking individually. Smaller, more portable tank sizes and water flow rates as low as 10 gallons per minute may be used in this case.

The implications of keeping cattle this close to water are design of paddocks and extension of water over a larger area. The "star"- or "wagon wheel"- type paddock designs with a water source in the center are very simple, but probably not most efficient.

In addition to keeping cattle further from the water, it allows for congregation around the tank and an inconsistent fertility from manure. It is also known that cattle will use forage more efficiently in a square or round paddock compared to an oblong or rectangular shape. This again results in keeping cattle closer to water and more evenly distributes manure.

There are many water systems on the market now designed for rotational systems, but it can as simple as a garden hose used to reach more locations in the pasture.

Stocking Rates

Many grazers first want to know what stocking rate they should use. The answers are as different as there are the number of farms. There are some equations available to determine the optimum stocking rate, but there are also some practical standards to use for a starting place.

First, remember forage availability is not constant on any given acre during the grazing season. Therefore, stocking rates are not constant either. The minimum number of paddocks to have available is usually eight or nine. Cattle should be allowed to graze the paddock to remove the available forage, but not be left on long enough that they begin to graze regrowth.

Secondly, do not overstock in new systems. Part of the advantage of rotational grazing is improving desirable plant vigor, and overstocking will delay that improvement. A recent study by Iowa State University (Western, et. al.) of stocking rates of .6, .8, and 1.0 cows per acre in a rotationally grazed pasture showed that calf weight production per acre can be increased at higher stocking rates, but total production — accounting for pregnancy and weaning rates in the cows — was not different over the period of the study. As usual, intensifying the response in one part of the management will result in an economic tradeoff in some other part of the system.

Economic Response

A second Iowa State study (Rouse, et. al.) over an 8-year period showed the variability of returns from a pasture system. In this case, the net calf weight per acre averaged 609 pounds, but varied from 553 to 682 pounds over the 8 years, due primarily to weather conditions. Additionally, yearly inputs for fertilizer, investment in cows, summer feed (when grass was not available), cow winter feed, labor, and depreciation on fences averaged $445, but varied from $339 to $472.

Net returns on an average feeder calf price of $80/cwt averaged $41.80, but again varied from losses of over $20 per calf to gains of over $100 per calf. These data emphasize that economic success of a pasture program will be strongly influenced by the availability of forage during the grazing season.

Flexibility of resources is essential, and the ability to accept and manage uncontrollable risk due to weather is needed.

Pasture Species

Any forage that cattle will eat can be a part of a pasture system. The key is knowing how to manage the plant to obtain the optimum amount of nutrients for the grazing cow.

For example, alfalfa-grass mixtures have been shown to be excellent species for a grazing system because of the consistency of available nutrients during a grazing season. Corn stalks can also be an excellent source of feed when grazed by cows, but the needs of the cow and the persistency of feed available result in this forage being managed differently than an alfalfa-grass mix.

The key is both can be used and the management program can be designed for them to effectively complement one another in the system. Reliance on any one species, particularly cool season grasses, will inhibit flexibility, efficiency, and animal production compared to a well-designed combination of species that meets the nutritional needs of the cow over a wider period of time.

There is no one or combination of plant species that will suit any given system. These decisions will be based on such factors as topography, soil type, the type of animals grazing, and the management resources available.

The basic economic advantages of using pasture in a well-designed feeding system are to: 1) optimize the pasture resource by providing nutrients to cows that meet their current needs, 2) allow the cow to harvest the feed, and 3) capture all of the nutritional value of the standing forage with zero harvest and storage loss. Proper planning is essential to making it work.

Coalition To Promote Exports

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Chris Schlect, chairman of the Coalition to Promote U.S. Agricultural Exports, expressed strong support for USDA's Market Promotion Program (MPP), Foreign Market Development Program or Cooperator Program, and other related export programs, "which we believe are assential if U.S. agriculture is to remain viable and competitive in the global marketplace under GATT."

The Coalition includes nearly 100 organizations representing farmers, ranchers, cooperatives, agribusinesses, regional trade associations, and state departments of agriculture.

"There are some who argue that export programs are no longer needed as a result of GATT and therefore should be reduced substantially or even eliminated," Schlect said. "Such action would be devastating to U.S. interests, and in effect, surrender the playing field to our foreign competitors. The impact would be felt not only by U.S. agriculture, but throughout our entire economy."

Schlect, who is president of the Northwest Horticultural Council in Yakima, Washington, pointed out that, if agriculture is to remain a growth industry, it must look to export markets where 95 percent of the world's population lives. Without these exports, agriculture would have to be downsized substantially since current production far exceeds domestic consumption.

He noted that while the GATT agreement is expected to result in expanded trade opportunities, the competition for both existing and potential new markets will be extremely intense. "Every country engaged in international trade has policies and programs in place to help it compete more effectively and to maintain and expand its share of the world market," he said.

"Between 1990 and 1994," he said, "the European Union (EU) spent approximately $10.6 billion annually in export subsidies compared with less than $2 billion spent by the U.S." He explained that because GATT requires that export subsidies be reduced by the same relative percentage, it leaves in place the same relative trade distortions that existed before. As a result, the EU will be able to more than maintain its historical advantage over the U.S.

"This is the real world of global competition," Schlect told the subcommittee. "American agriculture is the most competitive industry in the world. However, it is not enough to be economically competitive. Our policies and programs must be equally competitive. We can not and should not expect America's farmers and ranchers, and others engaged in international trade, to compete alone against the treasuries of foreign governments."

He noted that many in agriculture supported the GATT agreement because of assurances that U.S. policies would remain competitive with those of other countries. This includes maintaining funding and aggressively implementing the full range of U.S. export and related programs as allowed under GATT and U.S. law.

Schlect pointed out that both the MPP and the Cooperator Program have been trememdously successful in helping U.S. agriculture develop, maintain, and expand export markets in the face of continued subsidized foreign competition. They have also been cost effective. He explained that "both of these programs are administered on a cost-share basis with farmers, ranchers, and others who are required to contribute as much as 50 percent of their own resources to be eligible. This has not only helped maximize the use of available funds, it has also encouraged industry efforts to become more export-oriented."

U.S. agriculture exports account for as much as one-third of the total U.S. production and are projected to reach $48.5 billion this year. "Such exports help generate nearly $100 billion in economic activity, result in a positive trade balance of approximately $20 billion, provide jobs for nearly one million Americans, and return as much as $8 billion or more in additional federal tax revenue," Schlect said.

The agricultural leader concluded that "rather than engage in unilateral disarmament as some suggest, we need a strategy that is more pro trade, pro growth, and pro jobs." He said that such a strategy is one that "ensures that U.S. policies remain equally competitive with those of other countries and continue to be aggressively implemented as allowed under GATT and U.S. law. Without this commitment, both U.S. agriculture's and the nation's economic well-being will be adversely impacted."

Directors Attend Education Week

UNIVERSITY PARK, (Centre Co.)—Carl Kelso, Shippensburg, and Vernon Horst, Chambersburg, joined 23 cooperative directors from across Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New York during Director Education Week at the Scanticon Conference Center on the Campus of Penn State University.

The directors were board members representing 11 different cooperatives operating in Pennsylvania. Director Education Week (DEW) combined the 11th Basic Director Institute, the second Graduate Director Training program, and a management forum in a Tuesday through Thursday overlapping program.

The purpose of the director education program is to equip cooperative directors with the knowledge and skills necessary to direct their cooperatives into the next century. The basic training program included board powers and responsibilities, managing cooperative finances, and legal aspects of directorship.

Basic Association and networks, and changing economic and institutional environment and emerging trends in the marketplace. The advanced directors schooled on advanced financial management, proactive planning, developing leadership, and board perpetuation issues.

The faculty included industry and university specialists. Key speakers were Porter Little of CoBank, Denver, Colo; Dr. Chris Peterson, University of Michigan; Rod Nilsestuen, Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives; and cooperative consultant George Steele, West Chester, Pa.

Veal Convention April 13-14

AKRON, Ohio—The Ohio Veal Convention, April 13-14, will be held in the Akron Hilton Inn at Quaker Square.

The mills and silos of the former Quaker Oats cereal factory are now a luxurious hotel, restaurant, shopping, and entertainment complex that's been recognized for its uniqueness around the world. The hotel has round rooms in the silos that once stored tons of grain, with four restaurants and 25 shops in the former mill building.

The convention will feature the trade show both afternoons, informative speaker and panel sessions in the mornings, two buffet luncheons, and a veal showcase banquet. The Thursday evening banquet will have a great selection of veal dishes prepared by chefs from the School of Culinary Science, the Hilton Inn and local restaurants.

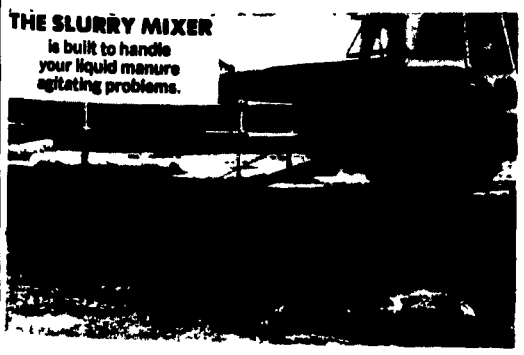
- ✔ A 6-inch hydraulic operated brass valve for unloading
- ✔ Has 3 different manure spreading patterns
- ✔ Tank has a float level indicator and sight glass
- ✔ A 20-inch rear manhole for easy access to tank
- ✔ Tanks are made of 5/16 thick metal
- ✔ Large air-cooled vacuum pump



This 3 point hitch Slurry Mixer's large 22" propellor produces a strong undercurrent that moves liquids, floating chunks of crust, weeds, bedding and dried manure into the propellor that chops, mixes and blends your manure into an even liquid Slurry.

Pump and Blast!

SERIES 5000 LAGOON PUMPS
32', 42' and 3 pt Hitch

Here's the answer to breaking up the thickest crusted pits or lagoons. the new Series 5000 Lagoon Pumps from Van Dale. They have the most impressive performance of any pump in their league, with agitation speed up to 5,000 G.P.M., to blast a stream of manure up to 100' or more!

The ability to work with smaller tractors (85 HP minimum) and operate in vertical wall pits from 8' to 14' deep, is what gives the Van Dale Series 5000 3-Point Hitch Pump the advantage over other pumps. Its short 16' length is extremely maneuverable, and the unique double joint drive shaft provides excellent articulation for up to 60° pumping angles. This allows you to pump different depth pits with one pump. And the 3-point hitch pump will easily operate in sloped wall lagoons as well.

CHECK OUT THESE FEATURES
√ Hydraulic Control from the Tractor Seat
√ Aggressive, 28" High Pressure Impeller
√ Dependable Bearing Assembly
√ Heavy-Duty Drive Shaft

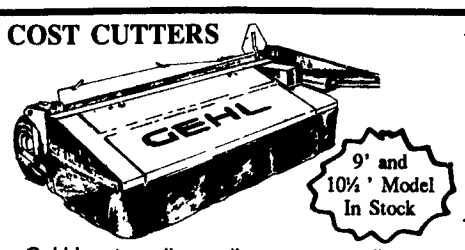
COST CUTTERS



9' and 10½' Model In Stock

Gehl has two all new disc mower conditioners to cut your crop down to size, fast and easy. The DC2340 has 7 discs and a 9 foot cutting width, the DC2360 has 8 discs, and a 10½ foot cutting width.
— Standard hydraulic tongue Makes it easy to position the unit without leaving the tractor seat

— High speed discs — Each disc has two knives to slice through the toughest crops and conditions the disc gear drive operates in an oil bath for long life.

— Sturdy frame — Cradles the cutterbar for extra protection and durability

— 540 and 1000 rpm driveline with equal-angle hitch for smooth power transfer.

GEHL.

A sturdy cutterbar support frame extends beneath the entire cutterbar. This design shields the cutterbar from direct impact with rocks or other field obstructions.

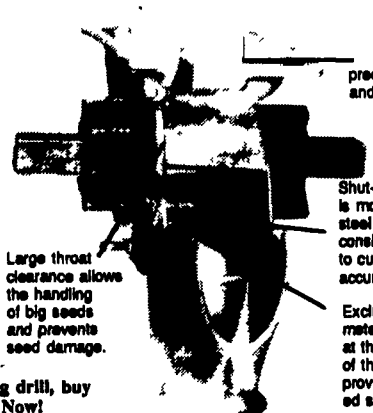
Fluted Roll Feed Cup Assemblies Save Seed and Save Time

A Known Fact That Case IH Die-Cast Zinc Alloy Feed Cups Are Superior To Other Competitive Brands Long Life Comes From Oil-Impregnated, Molded Sintered Metal Inserts Acts As A Positive Bearing Surface To Surround And Support The Fluted Roll



Flutes roll is precision-molded and won't freeze up during the idle periods.

Large throat clearance allows the handling of big seeds and prevents seed damage.

Exclusive tapered metered edge at the bottom of the feed cup provides unexcelled seeding accuracy, even seed flow, and more uniform spacing.

For replacement parts for your existing drill, buy Case IH quality from our Parts Dept. Now!

Precision engineered to fit your grain drill exactly!

Why settle for inferior look-alikes when you can have genuine Case IH fluted roll feed cup assemblies — renowned for accuracy, smooth operation and long life.

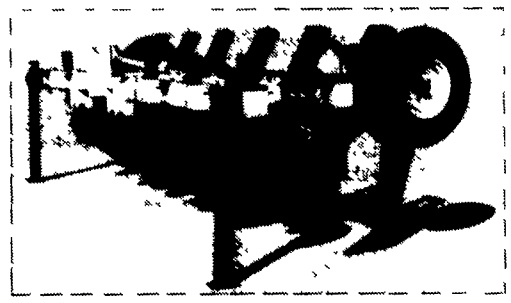
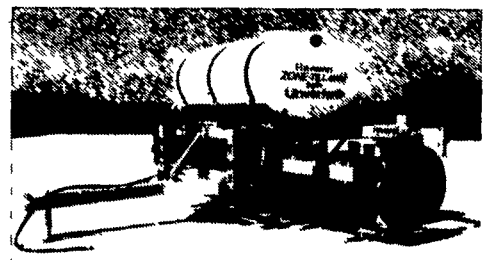
Equipment Shown Is In Stock For Immediate Delivery!

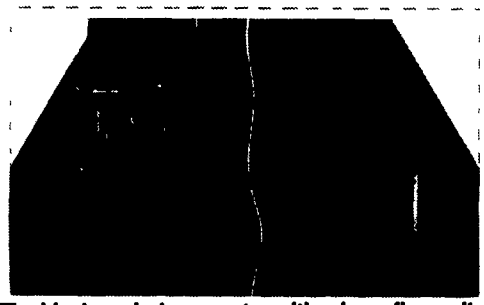


The Rawson Zone-Builder™ digs down and through hardpan to create a passage that allows plant roots and soil moisture to move freely into the subsoil.

Is Zone-Tillage an acceptable practice for conservation compliance programs?
Yes. It meets all requirements for soil conservation and residue management while still allowing the producer the opportunhity for conditioned seedbed preparation.

The Rawson Zone-Till Cart is the quick switch to Zone-Till. It can be attached to your existing planter or drill in just minutes, without modification to your equipment.





The ideal seed-placement position is on firm soil at the base of the tilled zone as shown above. Liquid or dry fertilizer can be placed on either side of the seed.

March 8, 1995

Dear Customer,

We at Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc. want to take this time to thank you for your patronage over this past year. Once again Spring is here, and with it, time to look at new strategies for '95 profitability.

We would like to personally invite you to take a day out of your busy schedule and come to the CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA INDUSTRIAL SHOW on APRIL 5 and 6 AT THE STATE FARM SHOW complex in Harrisburg. We feel that this show will enhance your decisions for profitability for 1995.

We will be featuring at our booth for the first time, the EPS P-205 portable water recycler and water vac, also ECS water containment mats, along with the Mi-T-M Pressure Washers, Skid Loaders, and LP Carburation for gas engines.

See Binkley & Hurst Bros. for complimentary tickets to this year's Expo.

Hope to see you there!

Sincerely,

Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc.

NEW AT BINKLEY & HURST BROS.
FROM SUNFLOWER:

MODEL 4010/4110 SUNFLOWER
COULTER RIPPER

Conservation Tillage Equipment Built SUNFLOWER Tough!

Sunflower's Coulter Ripper is for today's conservation minded farmer demanding deep tillage with minimal residue disturbance. These durable machines feature adjustable front mounted coulters on 7½" centers. The coulter blades have an added advantage of slicing hard ground, to keep clod size to a minimum. The V-bar ripper design gives added trash clearance and pulls smoother than straight-bar rippers. These coulter rippers are built Sunflower tough and no ballast is added to the frame increasing the structural strength. Check out Sunflower's latest edition to its growing family of quality tillage equipment at a farm show or dealer near you.

Adjustable Coulter Gangs: The 4010/4110 both feature adjustable coulter gangs that can be raised completely in clean ground. Ratchet Jack Adjustment is standard equipment. Optional Hydraulic Gang Adjustment makes on the go changes or raising the coulters completely out of the way an easy task from the tractor seat.

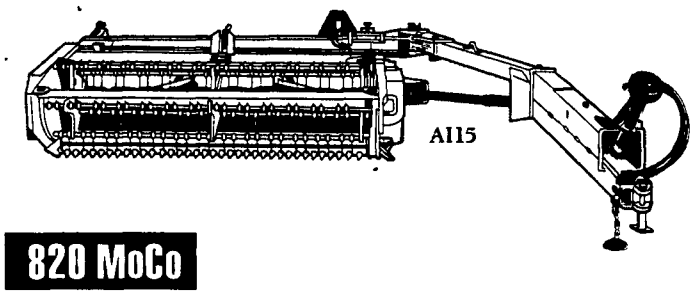
IT'S NOT TOO LATE



820 MoCo

It's not too late to get a great preseason deal on the John Deere 820 Sicklebar MoCo. For a limited time only, get our smoothest cutting, best crop-handling machine at a low preseason price. Plus, with its 9-foot 9-inch cut, you get productivity no 9-foot 3-inch machine can match — a quarter acre an hour more. But you'd better hurry. This offer expires soon.

When you buy a Brillion You Get The Best!

Brillion FLAIL SHREDDERS have the best heavy-duty gearboxes in the industry!

Gearbox failure is virtually eliminated. Brillion's Flail Shredder leaves a fine chopped residue that decomposes faster, helps control insects, absorbs moisture and helps prevent wind and water erosion. They're available in 12 and 15 foot widths.

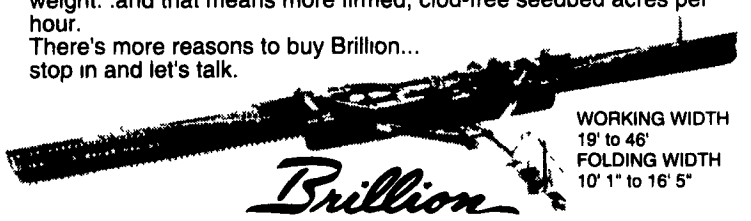
PULVERIZERS 19' to 46' wide

Now Brillion offers Pulverizers up to 46' wide to match your larger size tillage tools. Lighter weight, 20" ductile iron* roller wheels make it possible to widen the machine without drastically increasing the weight. .and that means more firmed, clod-free seedbed acres per hour.
There's more reasons to buy Brillion... stop in and let's talk.



WORKING WIDTH 19' to 46'
FOLDING WIDTH 10' 1" to 16' 5"

*With a 5 year warranty against breakage.

Largest Selection Of Quality Farm Equipment In The East

CLAAS® Rollant round balers give you what you want

—one quality round bale after another.

Discover Quality...Discover Value...

The Rollant 66 makes fast work of 4'x5' bales. Its unique two-stage pick-up and close tines produce a clean, efficient harvest in less time. Rollatex netting wraps a bale in 10 seconds or less, and double-twine wraps it up in just 20.

The Rollant 46 introduced CLAAS's innovative fixed bale chamber to the marketplace. This versatile baler handles all farm operations from dry hay to silage. Nobody produces a better 4'x4' bale.

The Rollant 42 was designed for family livestock operations. This economical investment produces weather-tight 4'x4' bales for the highest nutrient content possible.

CLAAS bales mean nutrient-filled edible hay, low spoilage, and high crude protein retention.

Each Rollant offers the innovative chamber, low-profile pick-up, and world class dependability. And they all share CLAAS's international reputation for low maintenance, durability and long-life.

Call now to see how you can improve the round figures on your bottom line.

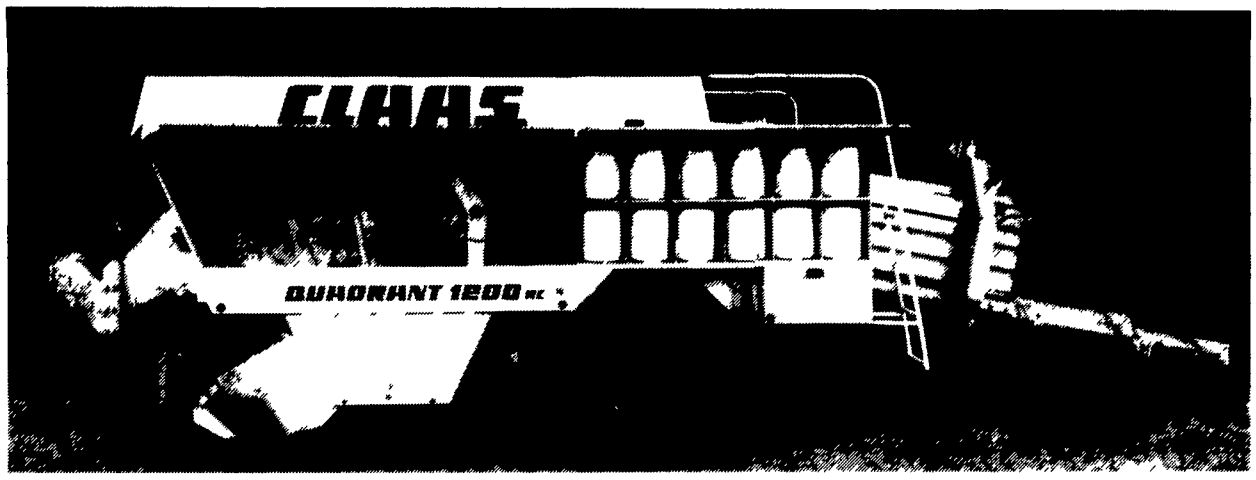
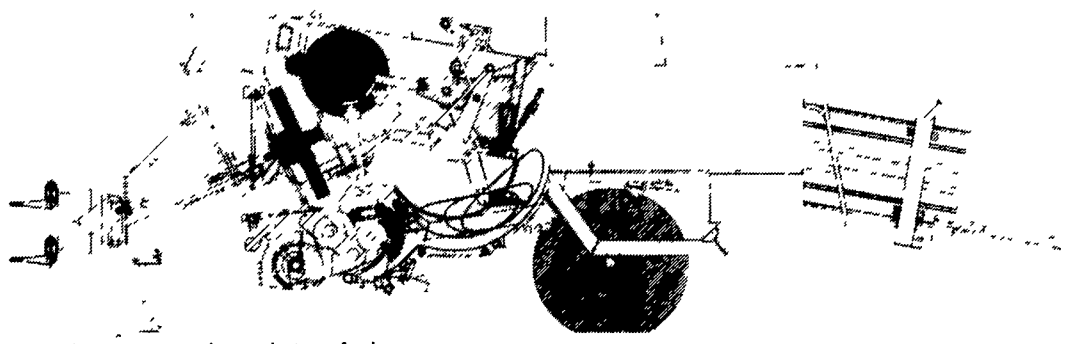
No nonsense design, clear drive systems

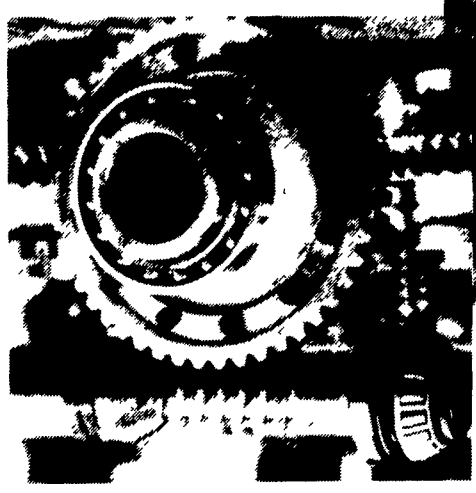


The CLAAS QUADRANT 1200 is particularly appealing since its design is remarkably straightforward, despite its size and output. Every component is arranged for ease of service and accessability. The side panels swing up easily, assisted by gas filled dampers.

A constant power flow is maintained accomplished by the heavy flywheel ahead of the main drive unit. It smooths out peak loading and takes the strain off both the tractor transmission and drive shaft



The drives are clearly arranged and carefully matched to one another The main worm drive transmits the power to the feeding and cutting units plus the knotters. No chains are used, reducing wear and improving precision of operation.
The ram is driven directly, two heavy connecting rods transferring all the power. This ensures the highest possible density. With each stroke, a clean cut is made by the segemented knives and the shear bar, which can be easily adjusted



The rotor, feeders and knotters are shaft driven by a double angle drive. No chains, no slippage and positive drive.
Power transmission is reliable and precise thanks to the hardwearing worm and gear reduction drive which safely reduces the PTO shaft speed of 1000 rpm to a powerful 46 ram strokes per minute, handling the high torque loadings with ease.

The heavy duty crown-wheel and pinion drive distributes power from the tractor to the ram, packers, knotters an pick-up. The main gear box is effectively protected against overload

Capons: A Business That A Child Can Operate

Herbert C. Jordan
Retired Penn State Poultry Specialist

For 60 years in Pennsylvania, a single child or two children have shared a 4-H capon business project to earn money at home. One hundred to 1,500 children a year in Pennsylvania have grown, processed, and sold oven-ready capon meat to selected buyers who pay one to two dollars a pound for oven-ready fresh capon.

More tasty, flavorful, tender and juicy than other meats, the county 4-H grand champion capon each fall at auction brings $3 to $50 a pound—ready for oven, also called RTC (ready to cook). A 10-pound RTC carcass usually wins.

The day of slaughter, 4-H members will tell you, is icky, stinky, messy, bloody, hard work, and requires patience, endurance, courage, and knowledge. Some 4-H members have banked or earned several thousand dollars while growing capons at home over a 5-to 10-year period.

The statewide 4-H dressed capon champion at Farm Show is always a delight to the owner.

4-H capon club members at age 30 may forget how hard the work was, but they remember how much fun it was to receive day-old fluffy baby chicks that depend on the 4-H member for everything. Work included:

•Brooding day-old baby chicks, getting them ready for their major surgery at 9 to 16 days of age.

•Shoveling out litter (manure) and rebedding baby chicks every week to prevent disease so no or low medicine needs to be used.

•Surgically removing testicles from cockerels and shepherding the cockerel in preoperative care, then surgery, then caring for capons in postoperative recovery pens.

•Daily caring for capons two or more times a day for 15 weeks, then preparing capons for slaughter and market is the goal.

•Taking orders 5 weeks before slaughter so fresh dressed chilled capons can be delivered directly to homes for $1.80 +/- per pound oven-ready.

They remember collecting the money, paying the bills and banking the net income or profit they earned as a family business run out of their homes. Everyone in the family is involved and the customer is surveyed each year about capon quality.

Buyers of capons claim the capons taste better, are more tender, and if ranged in clover with granite grit in their feed, need little or no medicine.

Many of these 4-H capon growers continue in their own business, like lawn and garden business, insurance, electricians, building, and repair firms.

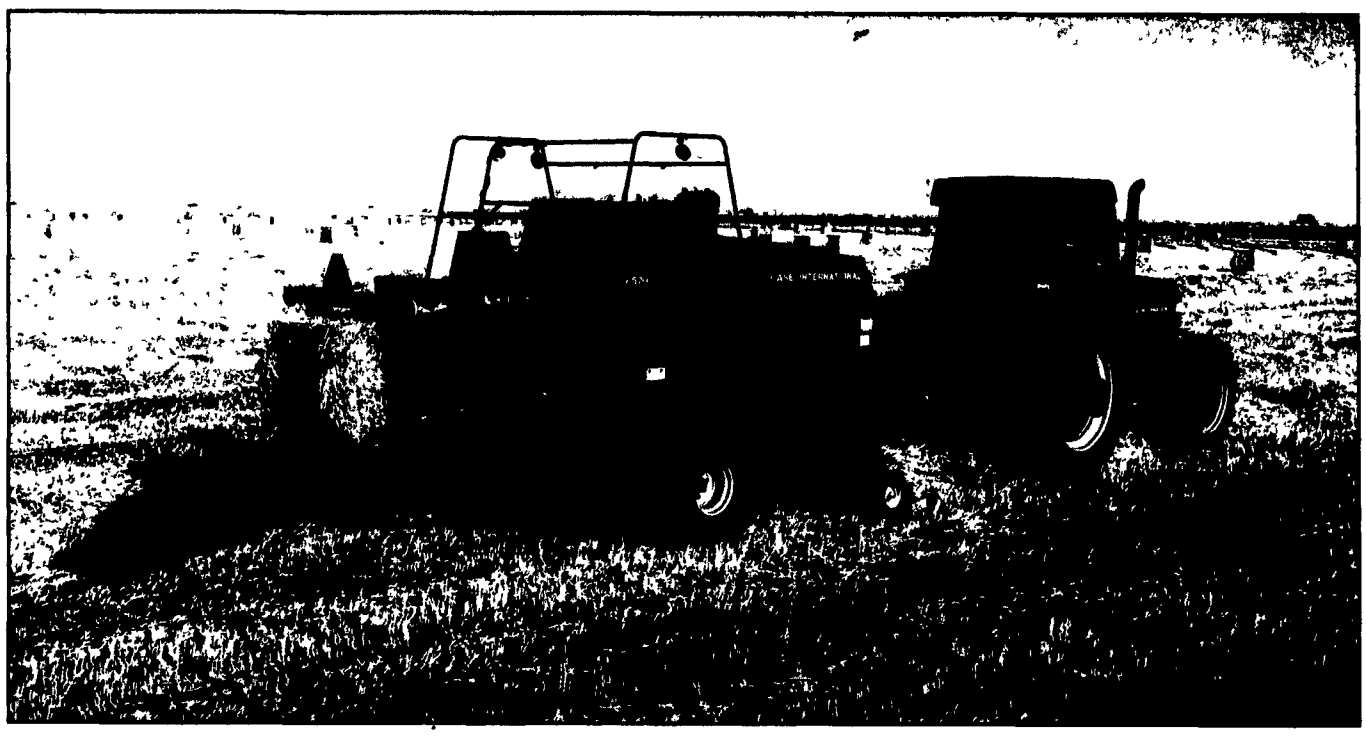
We hear you.



Like most aspects of farming, baling has changed dramatically over the last 20 years. Once it involved rounding up a bunch of kids to load wagons; slowly, it has evolved into the era of one man and big round bales. And now, in response to your requests, this evolution continues.

With continued improvements, the Case IH 8570 mid-sized rectangular baler and its big brother, the 8580 large rectangular baler, make baling more convenient than ever. Both are proof that we do indeed hear you.

These machines produce a bale size and weight up to 1,000 lbs. for the 8570 and 2,200 lbs. for the 8580 that's easy to stack, store, transport and feed.

Formed with easy-separating flakes, these bales can be fed by hand, processed, or pulled apart by livestock. They're tight and dense for handling and shipping ease. And thanks to the design of the 8500 Series balers, they're packed with nutrition.

A wide, low-profile pickup reduces the loss of valuable leaves, while the pre-packer chamber keeps nutrients contained within the bale. And each pre-formed flake is exceptionally uniform in size and weight.

The Case IH 8570 and 8580 rectangular balers. You asked for an evolution in baling, and we heard you. Find out more from your Case IH dealer today.

And ask about Total Product Support. It's the commitment that ensures the performance and overall value of every Case IH product.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON US

Introducing Kubota's new line of B-Series tractors! Reliable, efficient, compact tractors – designed to "Be There" with power and versatility when you need it most.

Equipped with our new E-TVCS low emission, "Low Noise" diesel engine, these 14-17 PTO HP B-Series set a new engineering standard for quiet, smooth operation. Their state of the art design ensures that the new B's are friendly to the environment, while enclosed mufflers that increase visibility and decrease noise result in added operator comfort. And, you can depend on the B-Series' optional hydrostatic transmission and Bi-Speed, – features that allow you single-pedal control of tractor speed, and fast, smooth turns when you're in a tight spot.

Rely on a new B-Series in 2 or 4-wheel drive, with standard hydrostatic transmission on the B2400, standard gear or hydrostatic transmission on the B1700 and B2100. And, you can be confident that separate and simultaneous rear and mid PTO's will give you maximum productivity with a variety of implements.

For a rugged, user friendly tractor, depend on the new Kubota B-Series.

Kubota Tractor Corporation markets a full line of tractors through a nationwide network of over 1,000 dealers

Sales Manager's Note
Dairymen if you need milk and top of the line breeding, don't miss this sale. The Yoders have worked hard building this herd and only because of relocating to Illinois is this herd being dispersed. This is without a doubt one of the best herds being dispersed this spring. Make sure to attend this sale.

PURINA PROFILE

Detrich Elevator, Inc., is located on four acres of ground on the northern edge of town of Willamson. George Detrich started the operation, and records show that this became a Purina dealership at least as early as 1947. But it could have been earlier. Detrich was later joined by Parker Barnes, and in 1958 Barnes bought the business, keeping the Detrich name because it was known in the community. In 1985, Parker's sons and a daughter took over the business. these owners continue today. They are Barry Barnes, manager; Dorothey Cullison; Richard Barnes, and Robert Barnes. Barry has two sons, Mark and Andy, and a daughter-in-law Amy that work in the business to make the operation a real family affair.

The operation serves farmers as far as Mercersburg and some in Fulton County. One of the major services to farmers is their free storage of corn, beans, wheat, and oats for customers who want their home-grown grains mixed in to feed rations.

Farm herds are becoming larger, and this takes more feed. In addition, increased production has caused many farmers to rely on the feed salesman for information to help manage the herd. Barry Barnes said the older farmers didn't want to have anything to do with salesmen, but today's farmers rely on them to help manage the herd. He said things have changed so much that farmers really need to have someone to help them keep after the cows. Andy is the feed consultant that helps farmers do this.

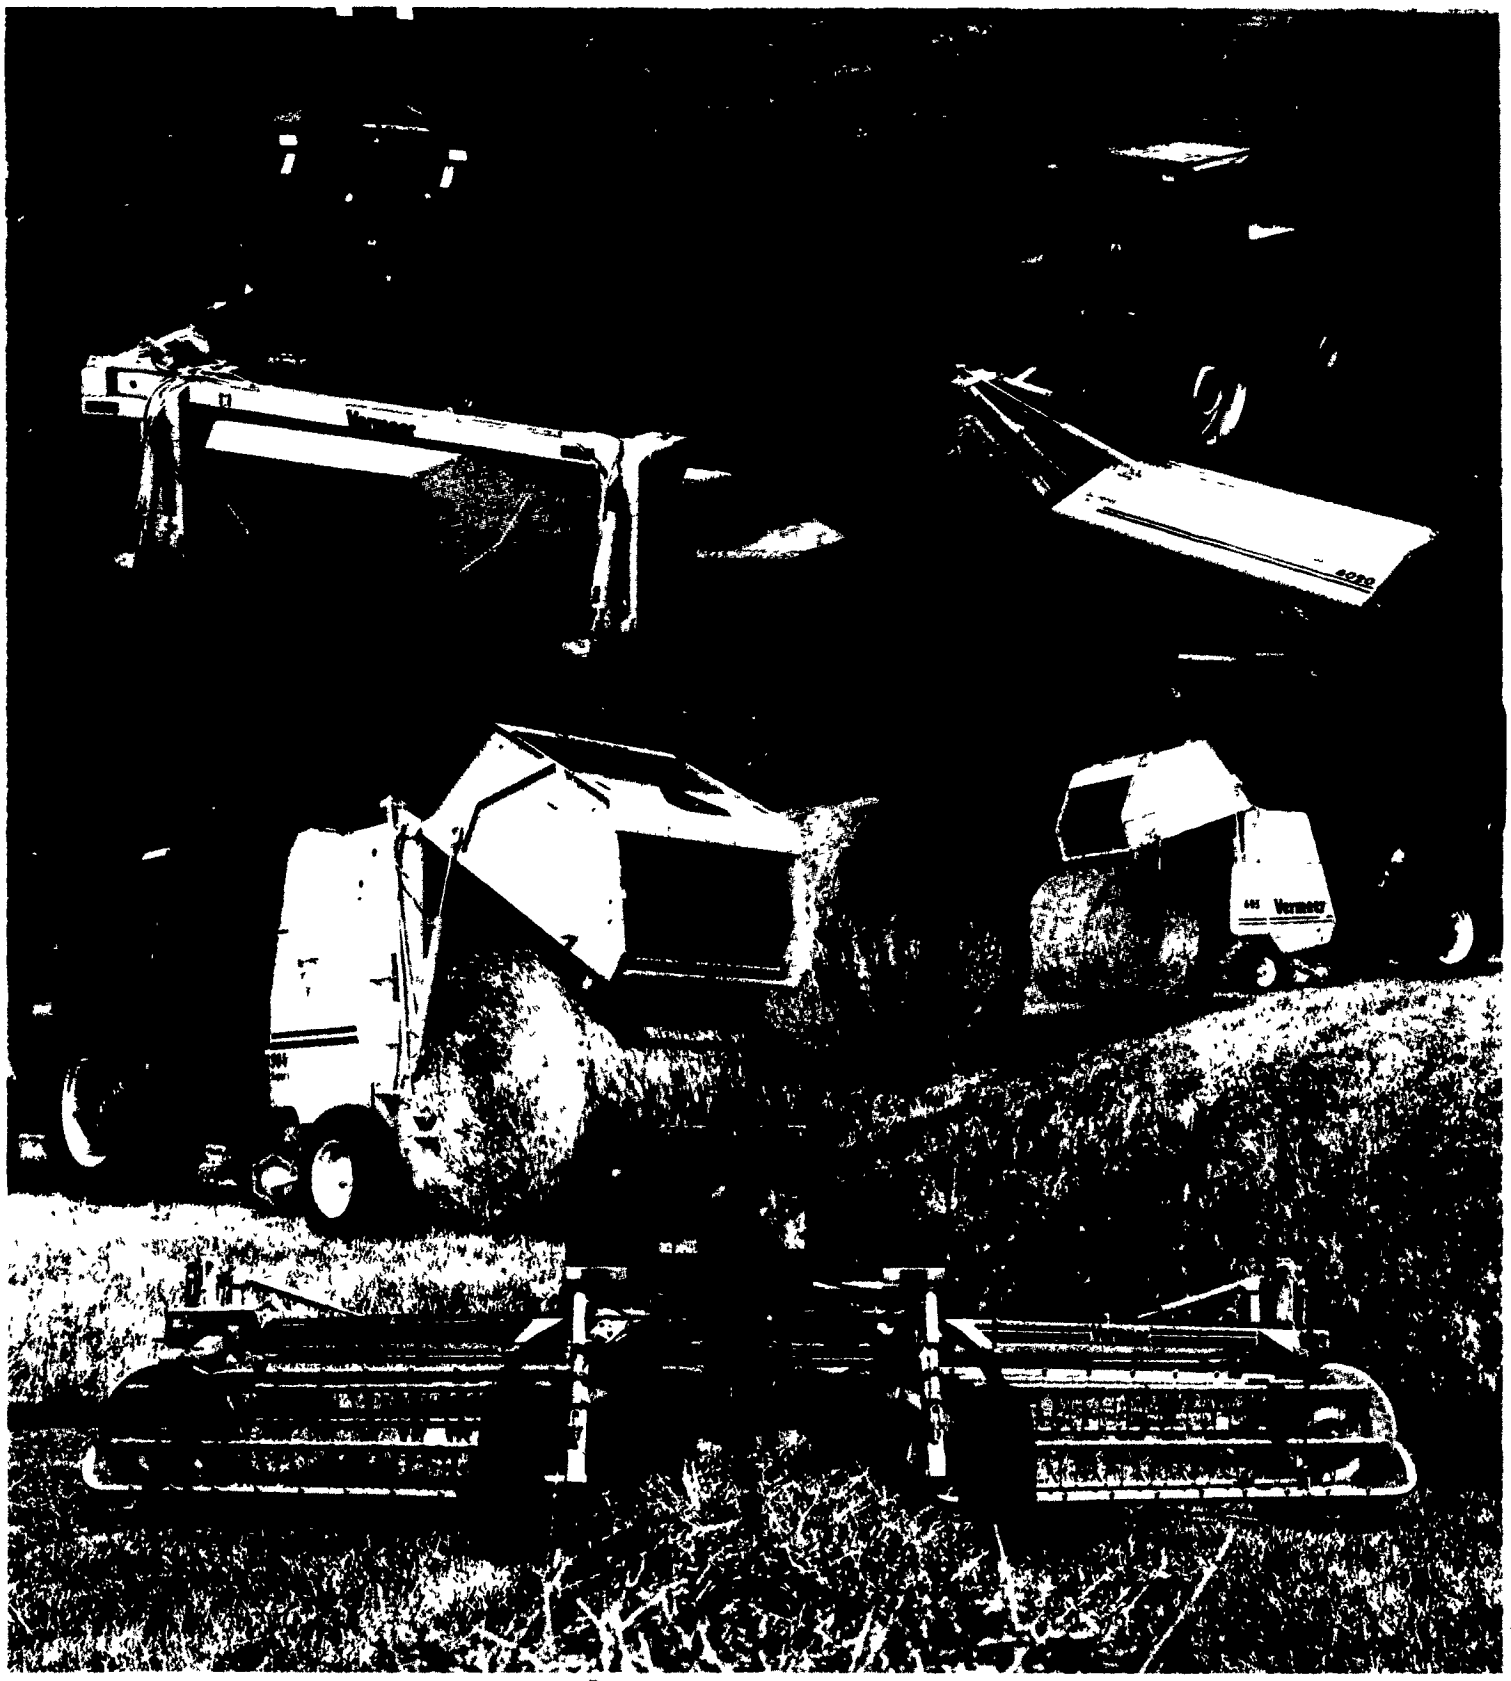
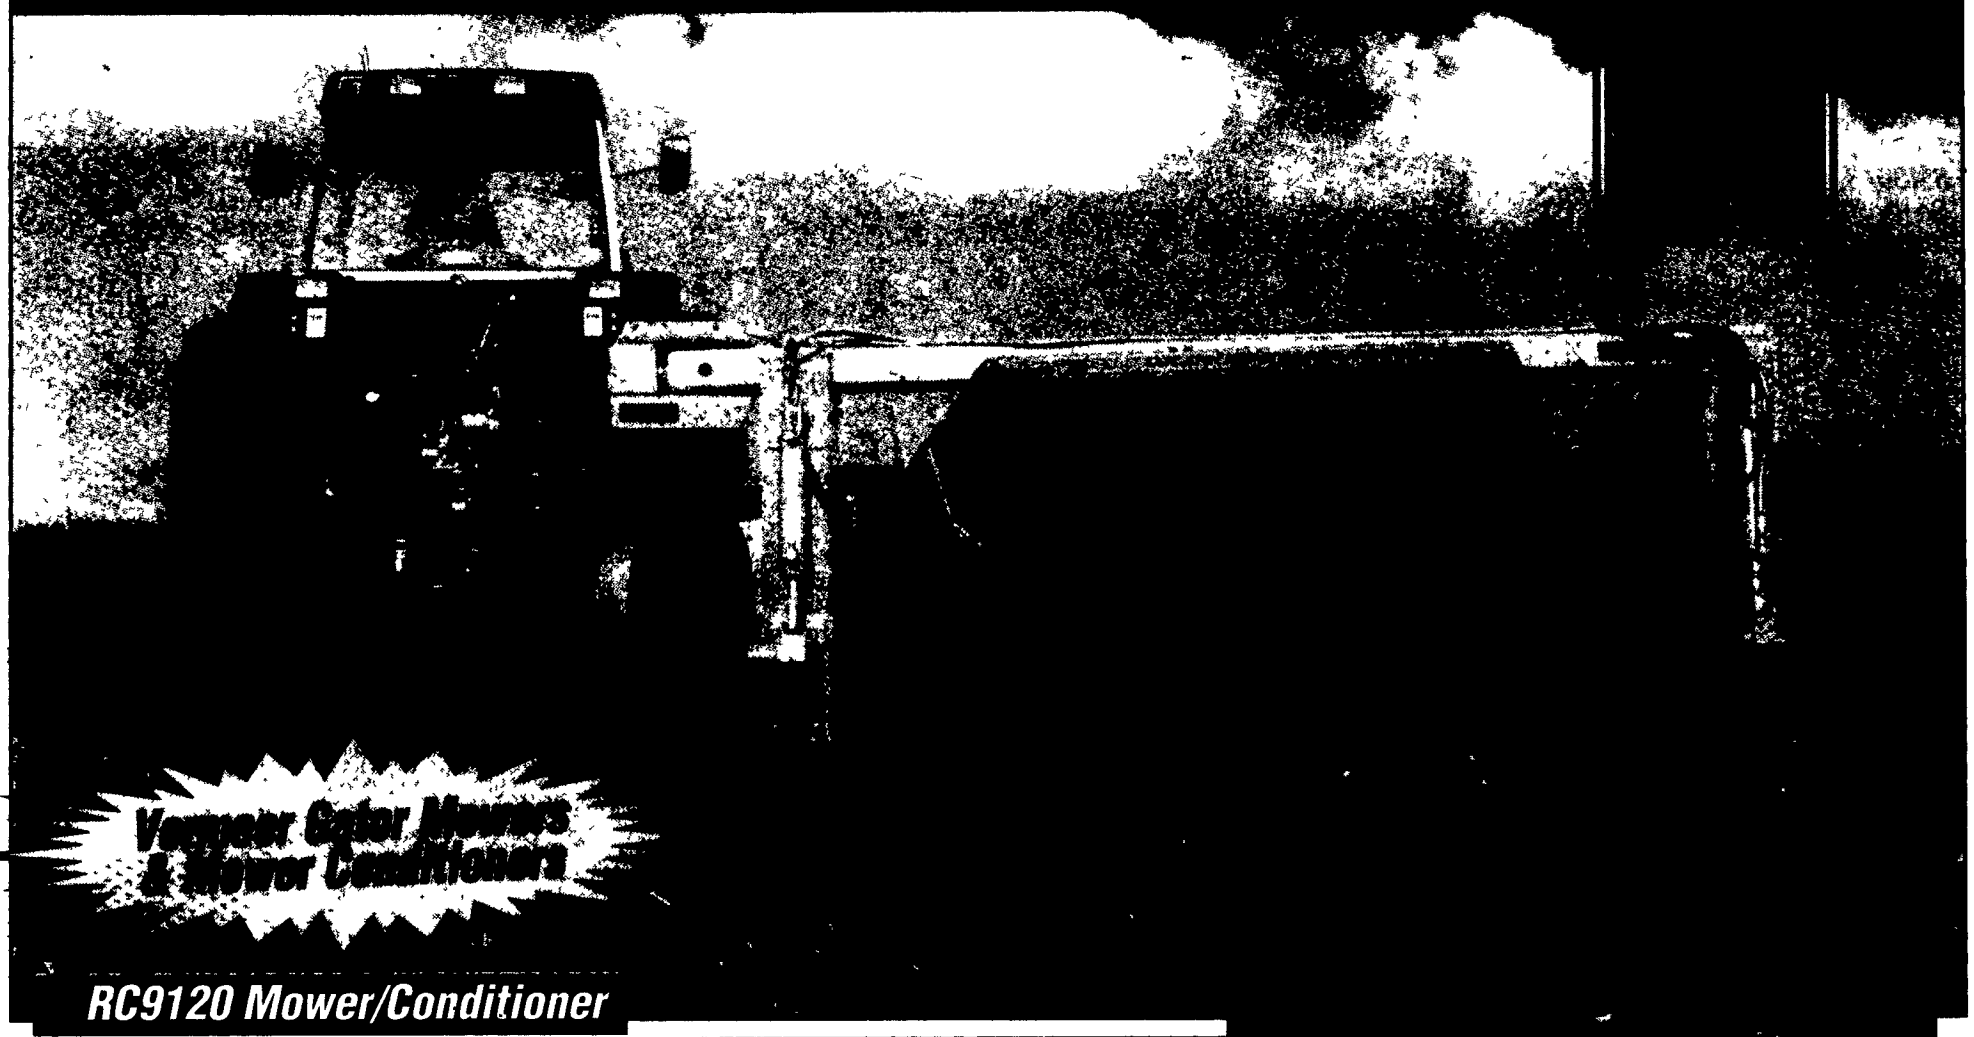
PRODUCT GUIDE



New, Growing Generation Of Mowers & Mower Conditioners!
New! High Production, Hydraulic Rakes For All Budgets!
The Right Way To Make The Round Bale.
Bale Wet Or Dry With The Same Baler!

New! Powerful! Disc-Style! Now In 3 Sizes!



RC9120 Mower/Conditioner

An entire range of cutting positions! Outstanding maneuverability! Operating speeds up to 9 mph!

- HI-PERFORMANCE, LOW-PROFILE, DISC-STYLE BED
  Independent cutting head, with hex shaft drive.
- MODULAR-STYLE CUTTERBARS
  Synchronized cutting discs counter-rotate, producing a cleaner, smoother cut. Means less wrapping, less jamming, lower hp requirements.
- MORE POSITIVE & RELIABLE DRIVE SYSTEM
  Cutting bed and both conditioning rollers are all powered by a single direct-drive gearbox. (Compare it to systems that use the cheaper belt drives. You'll see a big difference, especially in wetter, heavier crops.)
- HEAVY-DUTY TUBULAR FRAME AND STEEL PANEL CONSTRUCTION
  Compare!! It's one of the strongest, heaviest-built units in the field today.
- 3-PT. SUSPENSION! SPRING-LOADED HEADER!
  Outstanding flotation (vertically and laterally)! Cut closer, more uniformly, more consistently without scalping surfaces or missing low spots.
- SINGLE-ACTING LIFT CYLINDERS
  Transport locks secure unit in transport.
- OVERRUNNING SLIP CLUTCH
  Protects tractor and mower/conditioner.
- REINFORCED FOLD-UP HOOD; GAS-ASSIST LIFT CYLINDERS
  Easy access to the cutter bar. Hinged end hood assembly can also be raised for servicing.
- 2-STAGE HOOD/CURTAIN HEIGHT ADJUSTMENT for different cutting heights/conditions.
- 0-6° BLADE ANGLE ADJUSTMENT

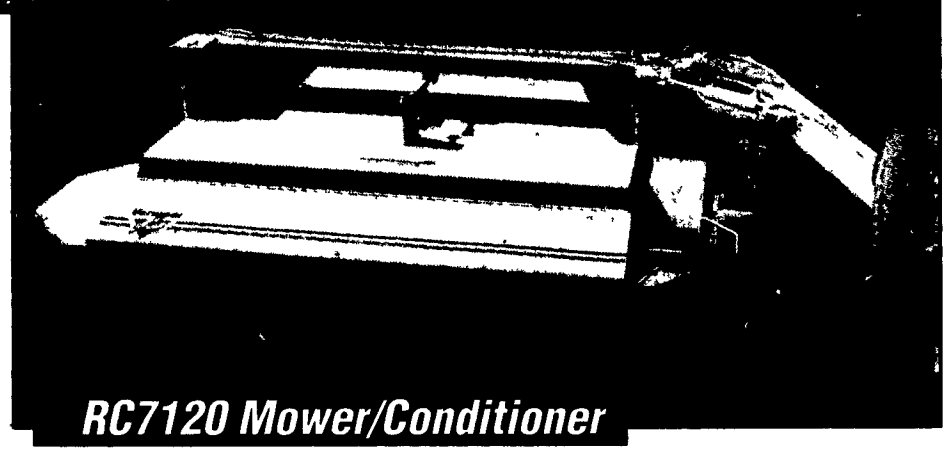
 # Available on RC9120 only

RC5120 Mower/Conditioner

MOW & CONDITION MUCH EARLIER!

DRYDOWN FASTER!



RC7120 Mower/Conditioner

LONG-WEAR INTERMESHING ROLLERS ... gently condition alfalfa, clover and other legume varieties.
They're also designed to better absorb the abuse of rocks and foreign objects which tend to "gouge" or "pock" harder, molded-style conditioner rollers.

Simple screw adjustments fine-tune spacing and crimping pressure. Even if the crop plugs, you can activate the hydraulic roll separator and "power out" plugged material.

OUTSTANDING PROTECTION!*
Compare! Heavy-duty, 1/8"-thick rubber curtain. 250% thicker than cheaper canvas and vinyl curtains!

Vermeer cutting knives* go through an exclusive "austemper" heat-treating process for greater shatter-resistance. They're also reversible & replaceable in seconds.*

SMOOTH, TAPERED CUTTING DISCS
Gently "lift" fresh cuttings toward the conditioning rollers. Top-hat discs, positioned at each end, prevent buildup in corners and promote better crop flow.

So Simple! So Dependable! So Easy To Service & Maintain!

* Vermeer knives and curtains are tested to SAE Recommended Practice, Practice J232 (Industrial Rotary Mowers) and ASAE S474 (Agricultural Mower Safety)

Superior Cutter Bar Design!

Counter-rotating, synchronized cutting discs! Powered by a continuous through-driveshaft, rather than a series of gears. Self-contained! Prepacked with its own set of gears, bearings and lubricant!

This efficient modular design makes it easy to service. Remove the end panel and one hex nut, and you can slide individual discs and spacers off for repair or replacement. It also extends the life of the cutting head, especially in hilly conditions. (Many competitive cutting heads are actually large, flat gearboxes. When operating on side slopes, lubricants drain to the lower end, leaving the drive gears at the elevated end starved for oil.)

Also Available! Dependable, 3-Pt Mtd. Vermeer Gator Mowers

- HYDRAULIC LIFT CONTROL gives you dual positioning for quick-handling on turns or transporting.
- OPTIONAL OFFSET FRAME (5020 only) lets you operate along roadsides.
- OVERHEAD BAR/END PANEL CONSTRUCTION ... adds strength/rigidity to cutting bar assembly. Solid end panel design gets you closer to the fencerows.
- SUPERIOR OPERATOR PROTECTION! Solid 1/8"-thick rubber curtain material, torture-tested in conditions that virtually shredded cheaper canvas and vinyl materials.*
- WEAR SHOES PROTECT DISCS & UNDERSIDE And, optional topping shoes add cutting height.
- SPECIAL "AUSTEMPER" HEAT-TREATED KNIVES* Better shatter-resistance; reversible & replaceable in seconds.
- EASY TO SERVICE! Hydraulic-pivoting hood gives operator complete access to the cutting bed. Pull two pins and you're ready! Cutting discs can be replaced in seconds ... simply by removing the top hex nut.

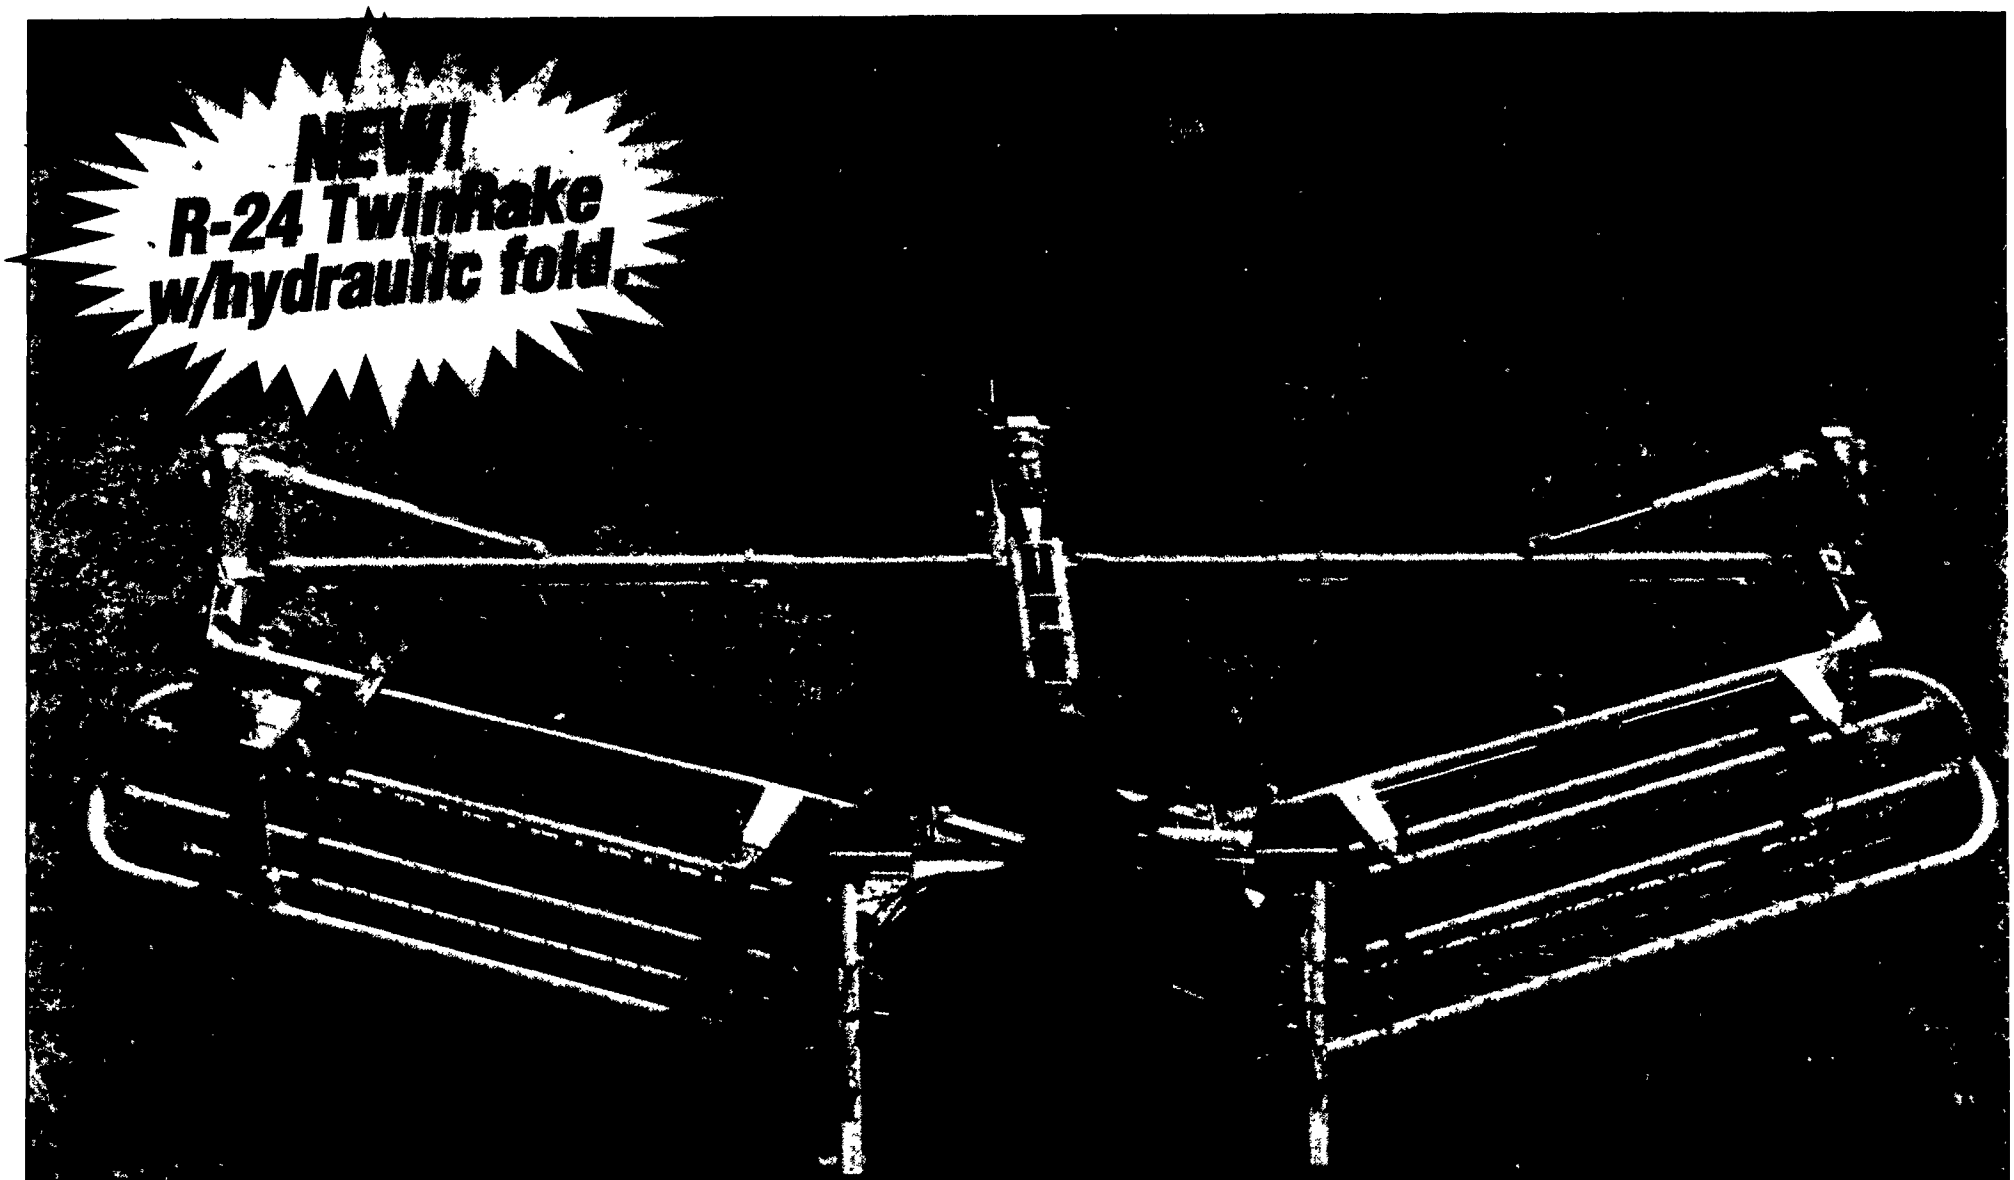
Same dependable cutter bar design as the Vermeer Mower/Conditioners! With infinitely variable cutting heights!



R-24 TwinRake

Great Hay Bales Start With Great Windrows!

Vermeer R-23 & R-24 TwinRakes: The two hottest hay-raking tools in the field today!

- FIT VIRTUALLY ANY HAY HARVESTING SYSTEM
- ADJUSTABLE WINDROW WIDTHS (3' TO 6'), DESIGNED TO MATCH YOUR BALER PICKUP
- ADJUSTABLE RAKING WIDTHS
  Sweep 18-24 feet across (R-24) and cut field time by as much as 66% over single rake systems!
- FINE-TUNED RAKING SPEEDS FOR DIFFERENT CROPS AND FIELD CONDITIONS
- MORE POSITIVE RAKING ACTION! LOWER REPLACEMENT COSTS!
  Twin 6-bar baskets with rubber-mounted tines (120 per basket) give you up to 25% more raking action than the conventional steel tines, reduce tine replacement costs. Work great in heavier crops, higher moistures or rough terrain.
- FULL HYDRAULIC CONTROLS!
  Raking widths! Windrow widths! Folding/unfolding and lift systems! Controlled from the tractor. Front-folding baskets squeeze thru nearly any farm gate.
- CAB-MOUNTED R-24 COMMAND CONTROLLER
  Trigger hydraulic lift/fold, and adjust windrow widths and raking widths, from your tractor seat. Basket speed is controlled thru the other hydraulic circuit and a quiet, smooth-running hydraulic motor mounted on each basket.

New, large caster-type gauge wheels with 27 x 9.5 x 15, 6-ply ribbed tires (on the R-24 TwinRake) help cushion the ride, smooth out turns and maintain rake setting as they negotiate changing contour and terrain. No need to re-set tooth height adjustment after transporting to another field. It's already pre-set with easy-to-adjust cylinder stops.

Rubber-mounted tines. More raking action. Reduced tine replacement costs. 120 per basket.

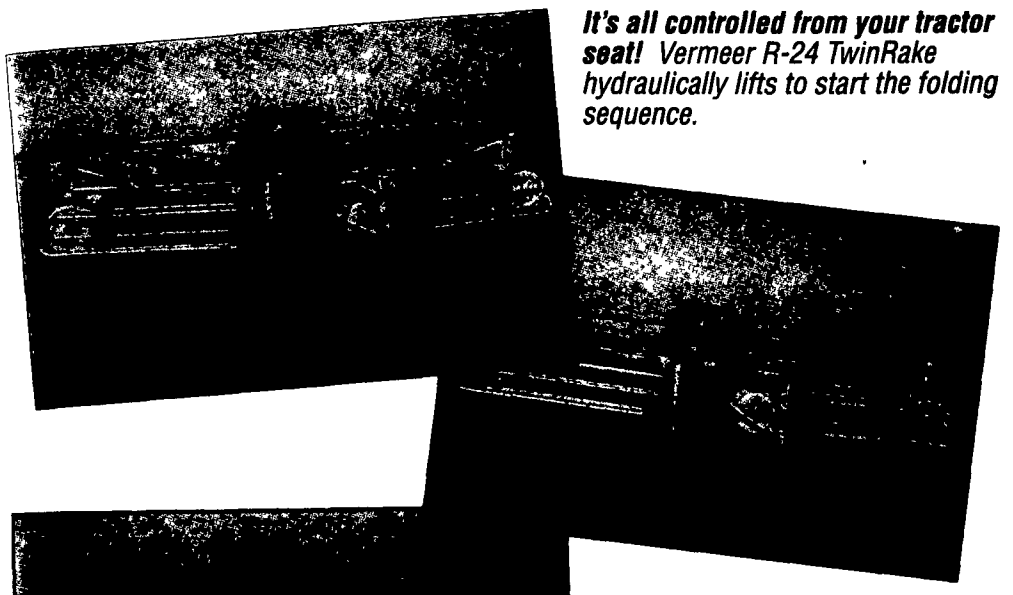
Vermeer R-23 TwinRake. Quiet! Proven! Reliable! Sweeps up 18' to 23' wide. Adjustable raking and windrow widths. Adjustable basket speed control. Mechanical fold.

R-23 TwinRake

Vermeer R-24 TwinRake: From Field To Transport In Seconds! It's Easy! It's All Hydraulic!



It's all controlled from your tractor seat! Vermeer R-24 TwinRake hydraulically lifts to start the folding sequence.

A 2-stage hydraulic system slides telescoping stabilizer/linkage arms along the tongue, drawing the front-folding baskets together.

After the outside baskets are completely folded, they are locked into position on the center post and lifted for transport. It's that simple. You're ready to roll, with just an 8'8" transport width ... in seconds!

Vermeer Side-Delivery Rakes: Extra Muscle & Rakes That Hustle!

Rugged Vermeer R-9 Side-Delivery Rakes really hustle, no matter what the conditions. Choose ground or hydraulic-driven. Rubber-mounted tines (100) give you plenty of positive pickup action (especially important with higher speeds and heavier crops). Sweep it all up — 9-1/2' wide — with a minimum 25 hp tractor.

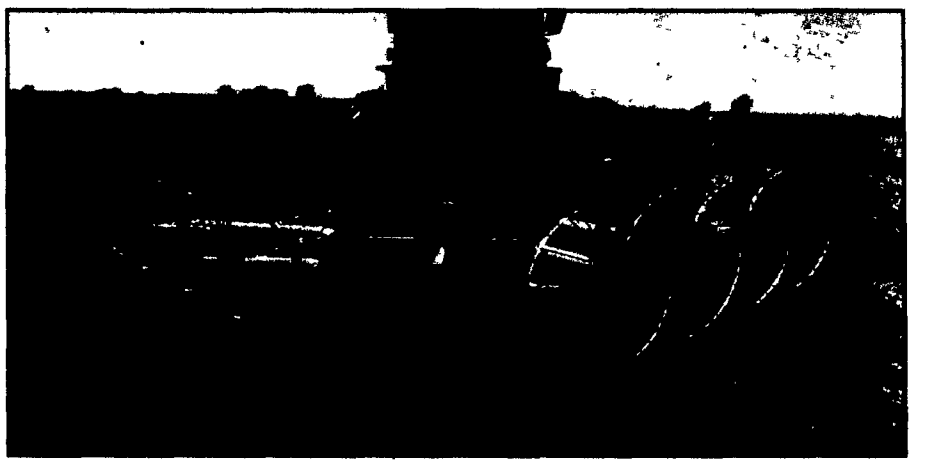
Vermeer Hydraulic-Fold FingerWheel Rakes!

Large, fluffy windrows for big bales & tight-fisted budgets. Soft, gentle raking action that brings home the leaves.



AND, THEY'RE EASY TO OPERATE!

- Dual rake assemblies respond quickly to contour changes with a smooth floating, pivoting action. Operating speeds up to 14 mph.
- Simple center-mounted fold mechanism hydraulically raises rakes for transport.
- Shock-absorbing suspension springs reduce impact from jolts and excessive ground pressure.
- HD sealed roller bearings for longer wear, less maintenance.
- No need for gears or sprockets! Simple turnbuckle varies fingerwheel angles to handle various crops and conditions.
- Flexible, tightly spaced tines (40 per wheel) gently sweep crop toward the center, into light, fluffy windrows.

THREE DIFFERENT SIZES TO CHOOSE FROM:
WR20 (8 fingerwheels), rakes a 17'8" to 19'8" swath;
WR22 (10 fingerwheels), sweeps 20' to 22' across;
WR24 (12 fingerwheels), sweeps 23'6" to 25'6" across.
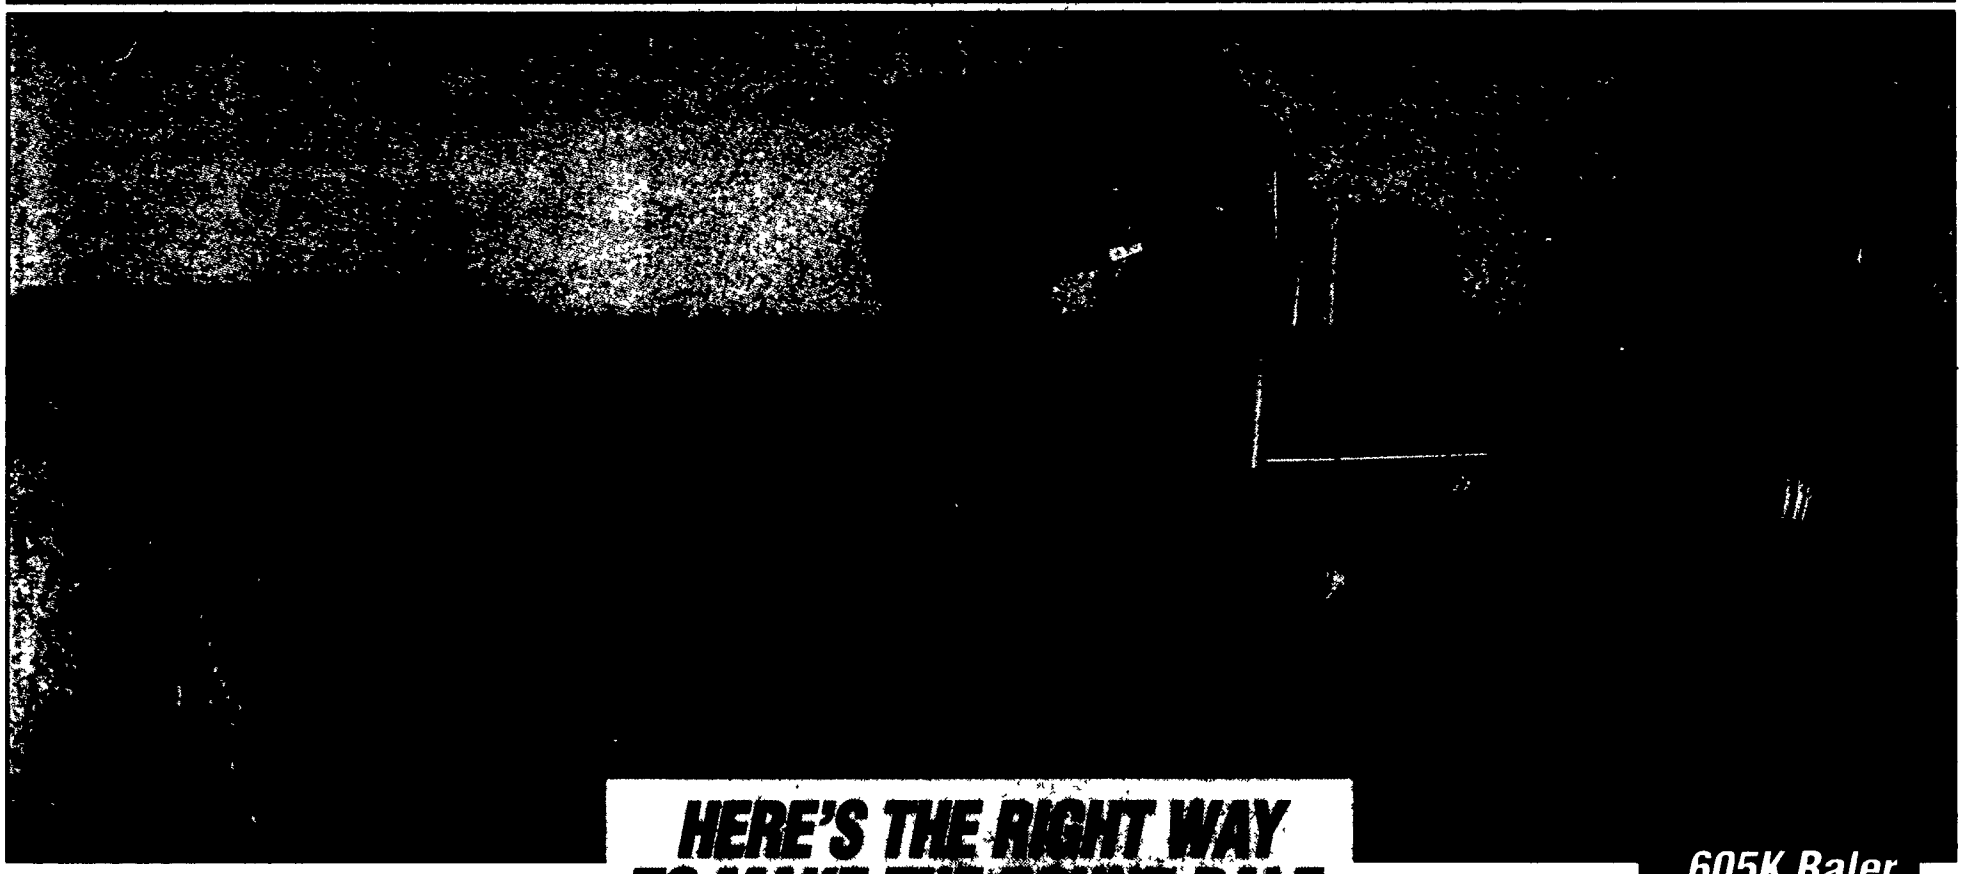
All three units require just a minimum 20hp or 25hp tractor.

Better-looking, better-formed bales?



605K Baler

HERE'S THE RIGHT WAY TO MAKE THE ROUND BALE:

More hay per day?
Tight bales right up to feeding?
The ability to handle higher drive speeds and heavier densities?

Here's how to get them:

- RELIABLE DOUBLE TWINE-TYING SYSTEM! Easy to thread, simple to adjust. Stores six balls of twine. Feeds from both sides.
- AGGRESSIVE, BALE-STARTING DESIGN! 5-bar pickup! Open-throat design! Rubber-mounted pickup tines for better feeding action and lower replacement costs! Spiral starting rollers to reduce wrapping problems! Easy-to-adjust pneumatic hydraulic belt tension.
- STANDARD HAYSAVER WHEELS
- SUPERIOR BOTTOM DRUM ROLLER DESIGN! "Packs" the bale. Allows you to bale faster, in virtually all types of crops and conditions.
- FAST "DROP 'N GO" EJECTION SYSTEM Empty the chamber and start a new bale without disengaging and re-engaging the PTO.
- COMBINATION PNEUMATIC/HYDRAULIC BELT TENSION Densities as tight as you want, from the core to the outside wrap. 36" to 72" diameters.
- BIG DRIVE SHAFTS & IDLERS! DOUBLE LOWER WALL CONSTRUCTION! Reinforced drive system and frame!
- HEAVY-DUTY DOUBLE #60 DRIVE CHAIN For a quieter, smoother-running machine.
- HEAVIER SIDE PANELS, AXLES, BEARINGS! UP TO 30% MORE "IRON"! To handle higher drive speeds and high-density bales. Less wear and tear.
- HEAVY-DUTY SWING-AWAY SIDE SHIELDS Less dirt, dust, debris, noise and maintenance. Less wear and tear on drive systems.
- HD AXLES, 8-BOLT HUBS! HIGH-FLOTATION 13.5 X 15, 6-PLY TERRA-RIB TIRES!

Vermeer's variable, open-throat bale chamber (Diag. #1) with a true diameter bottom drum roller shows the natural bale starting and forming action in the chamber ... as it (a)"packs" the bale for greater density ... and (b) creates an additional pinch point enabling you to pull in more hay and, in some cases, drive a full gear faster while you're baling.

Diagram #2

Smooth-finish, wide belts (Photo #1) also provide 90% belt-to-bale contact, less slippage, less leaf loss and better bales.

It also eliminates the need for the "vertical" forming belts used on other balers!

Vertical chamber balers (Diag. #2) require belts with abrasive, textured surfaces (Photo #2) to start and turn the bale.

This causes greater leaf loss on legume-type hay crops and puts unnecessary stress on the belts because they shoulder more of the bale weight.

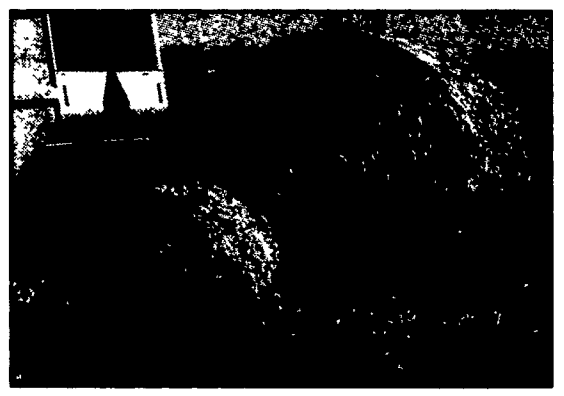
For years Vermeer has out-produced virtually every baler ever built in the field, and won virtually every major hay competition in the country, on the basis of both bale weight and density.



"K" Balers put up hay in light, soft-core bales ... or high-density "World Heavyweight Champion" packages that weigh up to 30% more than the competition. Also vary bale diameter — 36" to 72" on both 605K and 604K models.

604K Baler

Plus, the options to make it easy.

Net Wrap! Super time and hay saver for great-looking bales that really hold up during storage and transport! Cuts wrapping time to just two revolutions of the bale. End-to-end coverage with plastic mesh-type wrap traps more leaves and fine crop. Easy to load and operate.

Bale Kicker! Lets you drop the bale without having to back up the baler. Much more dependable than ramp-style assemblies, especially on hilly terrain. Stays extended until the tailgate closes.

Equal-Fill/AutoTie and Equal-Fill Monitors

Help track bale, weave baler and operate the twine-tying system. Simple. User-friendly. Self-diagnostics speed troubleshooting. Easy programming lets you customize your own control settings.*

Equal-Fill/AutoTie Monitor only*

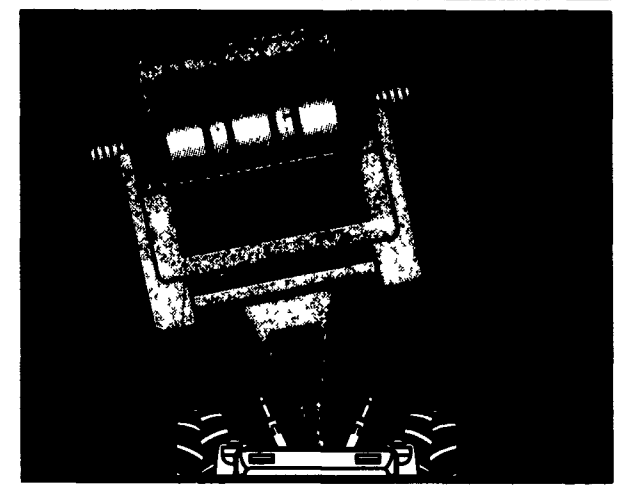
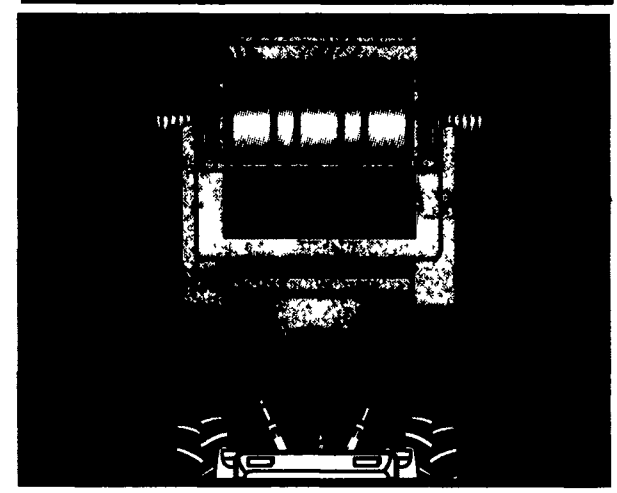
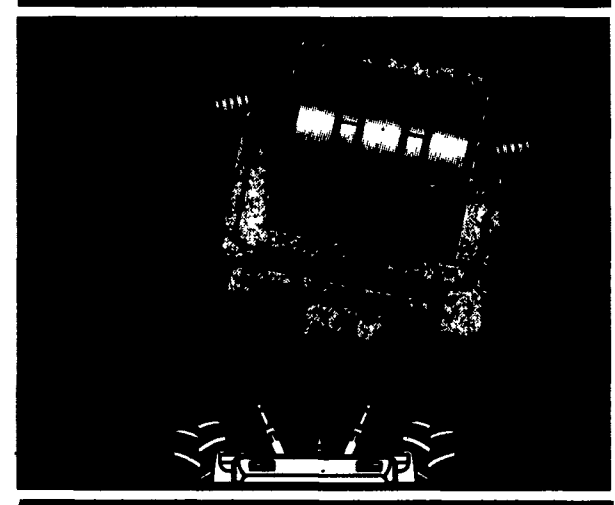
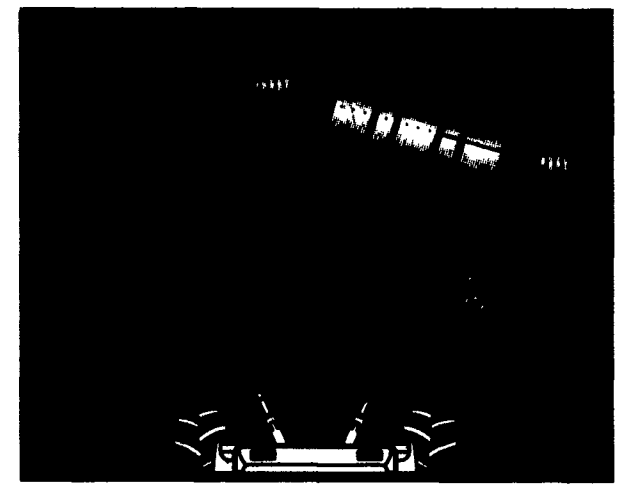
Auto-Weave!









Auto-Weave ... most automated baling option in the field today!

As easy as driving your tractor! No need to weave your tractor back and forth across the windrow! The baler does it for you ... automatically.

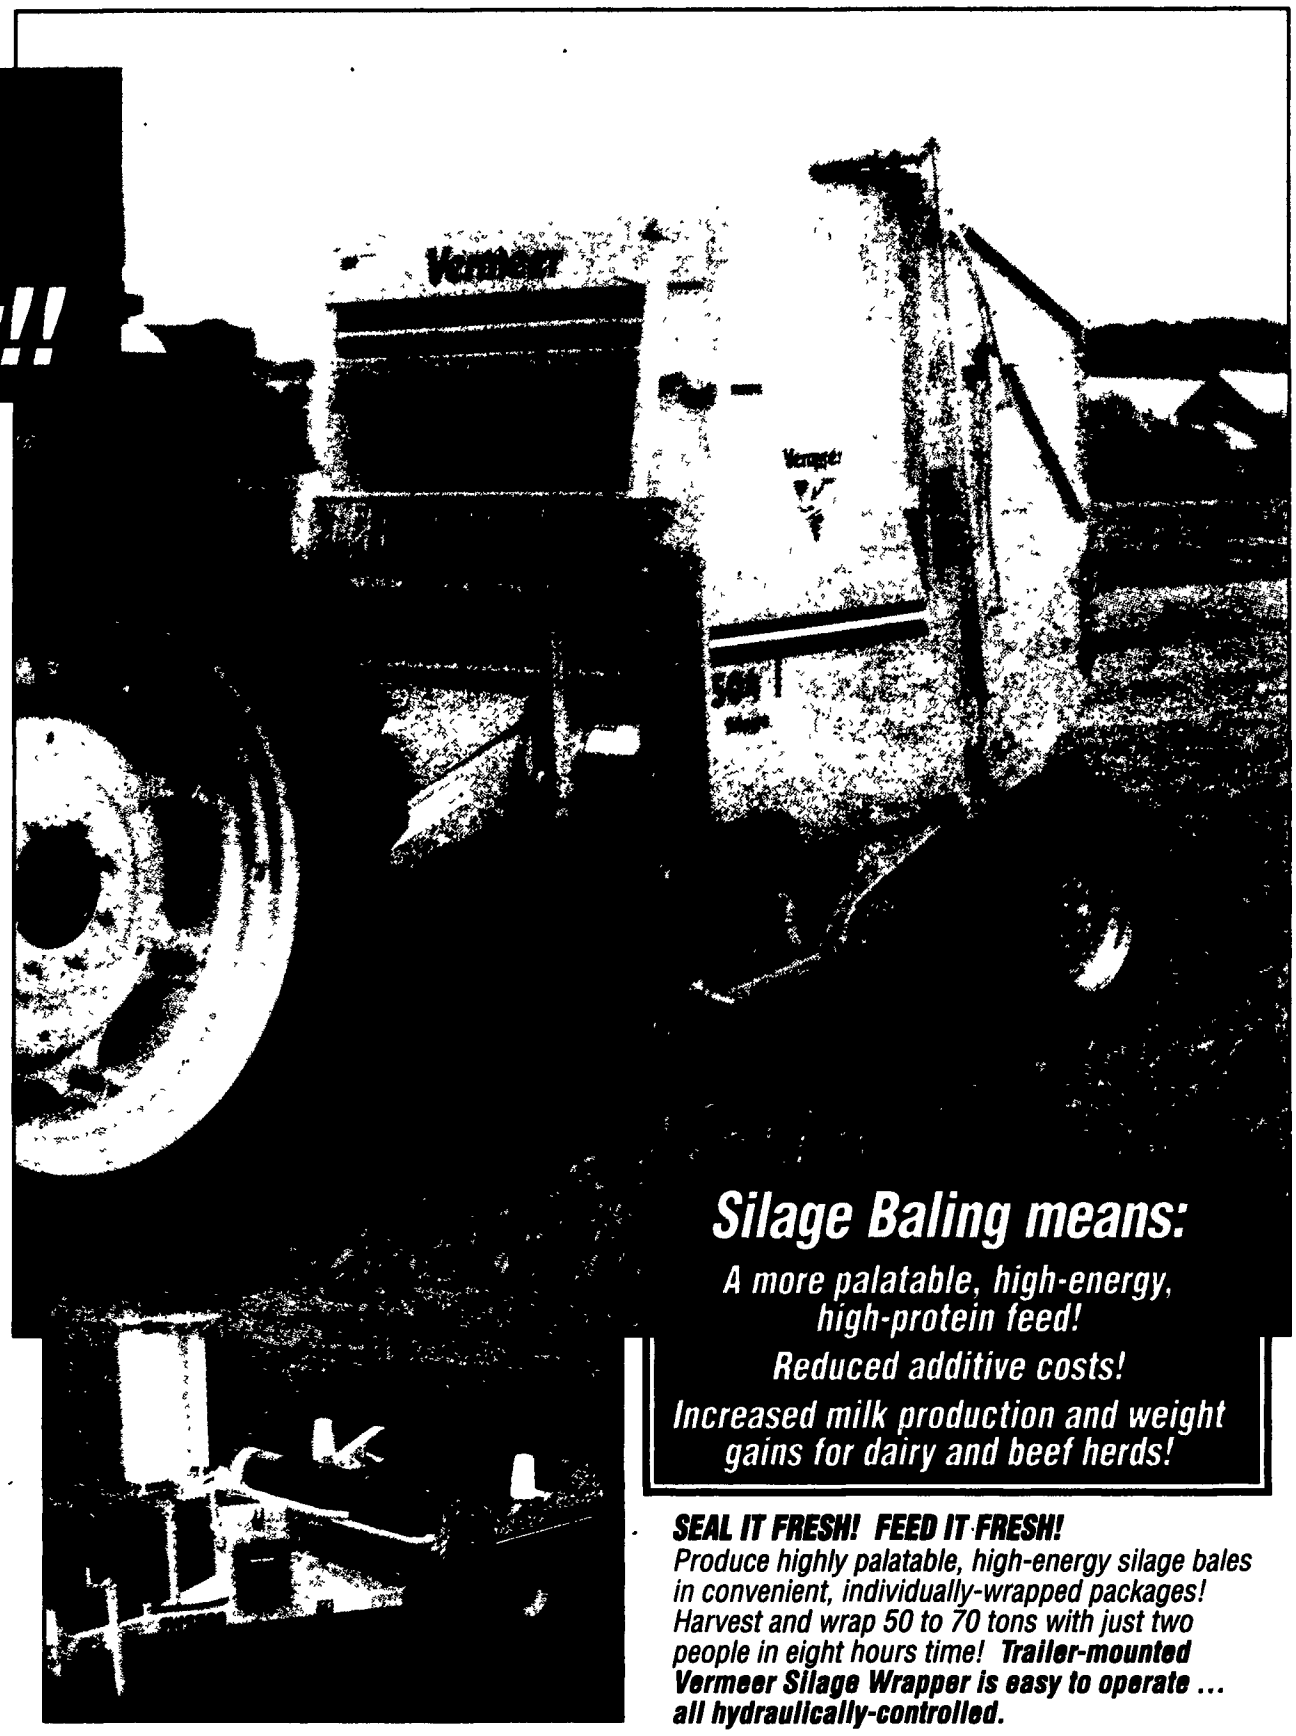
Takes the worry and work out of producing top-quality, square-shouldered bales. Eliminates neck and back pain from constantly turning and twisting to monitor bale progress.

Vermeer 504 Super I Silage Baler:

Now, Bale Wet Or Dry ... With The Same Baler!!

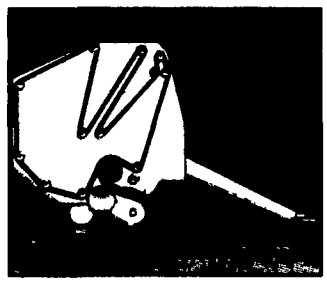


And, Take The Weather Out Of Making Hay!

- EARLIER STARTS!
- EXTRA CUTTINGS!
- FEWER WORRIES WHEN YOUR CROP IS DOWN!
- BETTER TIMING AND HARVESTING AT CORRECT STAGE OF MATURITY!

Plus ...

- A BIG BALE SYSTEM THAT OPERATES ON SMALLER HP TRACTORS.
- "FAST-START" BALERS THAT ARE EASY TO OPERATE, GENTLE ON CROPS.
- SUPER-TIGHT BALES THAT ARE EASY TO MOVE, STORE, FEED ... AND REQUIRE LESS HANDLING EQUIPMENT.



And ... Only Vermeer Super I Balers Offer The Exclusive, Open-Throat, Bottom Drum Design

... Plus All Of These Outstanding Features:

- Exclusive, wide-belt design
- Floating 5-bar pickup
- HaySaver Wheels
- Open-throat, bottom drum design
- Heaviest bearings in its class
- Double twine-tying system
- Double spring belt tension
- Spiral starter roller/knife comb.
- Rubber-mounted tines
- Adjustable cam tracks
- Smooth-running, CV PTOs
- Smooth, gentle belt surfaces
- Mechanical indicators for twine size, and bale count

Silage Baling means:

A more palatable, high-energy, high-protein feed!

Reduced additive costs!

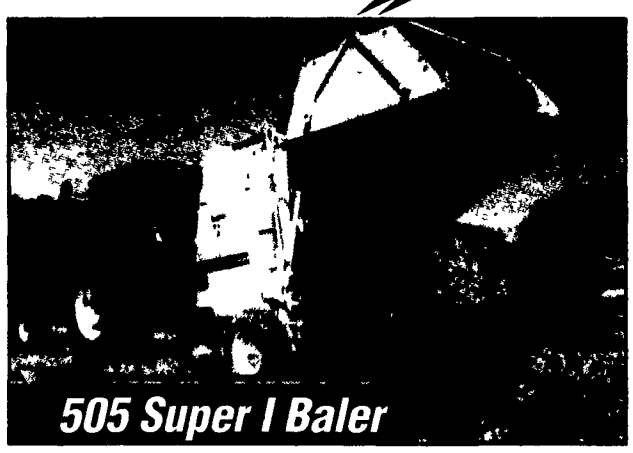
SEAL IT FRESH! FEED IT FRESH!

Produce highly palatable, high-energy silage bales in convenient, individually-wrapped packages! Harvest and wrap 50 to 70 tons with just two people in eight hours time! Trailer-mounted Vermeer Silage Wrapper is easy to operate ... all hydraulically-controlled.

Now Available!
Now, Optional High-Density Belt Tension System For Tighter Bales That Hold Their Shape



505 Super I Baler

Produces 5-foot-diameter, 5-foot-wide bales that weigh up to 1400 lbs, depending on moisture content. Very popular among operators who want the quality and value of a bigger bale system.

504 Super I Baler

Used on smaller haying operations and dairy farms where easy-handling, easy-feeding bales are a must. 4-foot width unrolls easily inside a stanchion barn ... stacks two abreast to meet 8-foot trucking limits.
